Crazy Mountainers

J. E. Mainer's Crazy Mountainers played to a crowded house when they appeared here Tuesday evening in the School Auditorium. This well known and popular string band broadcasts daily over station WBT, Charlotte, at 7:15 a. m. and 12:00 noon, for Crazy Water Crystals.

A nice sum was realized for the school.

Booze Car Caught And 70 Gallons

A new Ford V-8 sedan with 70 gallons of booze on board was captured early Friday morning at Piedmont Springs by Deputy Sheriffs Bert Smith, Cleve Lawson and Carl Ray.

The rum-runner came out of Patrick and was first sighted by the officers at a point on No. 891, State highway, near the Virginia line, and close to McHone's garage. The officers were watching for another car, a coupe, which had been reported and was expected to come by. The night was cold and the officers had built a fire near the highway by which to warm while they watched. The Ford V-8 had previously passed going north and was suspected as a liquor car. Three hours later when it returned, the law men, sure of their game, gave close chase. For about 15 miles the race continued. Often on straight stretches the speed reached 75 and 80. Both pursued and pursuers were in new Ford V-8s. When the side road leading up to Piedmont Springs was negotiated by the liquor car, the officers went by but quickly discovering their error followed the liquor car so closely that its driver checked up and jumped for the woods near the Piedmont ball room and escaped, leaving his prize, which the officers brought on to Danbury.

During the interim that elapsed while engaged at Piedmont, the original watched-for coupe passed going south at a high speed. This is attested by Danbury citizens who viewed it going through. It was doing all a coupe can do.

The 70 gallons of sugar-head contained in the sedan were poured into the creek near the jail by the officers, while the car was retained by the Sheriff, who will turn it over to the disposition of the court here April 1.

Dick Sales, of Winston-Salem was here this week claiming the car, and stated that it had been stolen from him. He offered to post $100.00 with Sheriff Taylor for its possession, but the Sheriff declined.

Later—The owner of the car, Mr. Sales, returned, posted an $800.00 bond, and it was released to him.

North View Items

Sure the Prosperous Deal has blessed the community in such a way that Marvin Dillon is tearing down his garden fence and moving his garden and making it larger and removing an ancient tobacco barn that helps to hide his remodeled home from the highway.

Banner Young is out of water so far as his well is concerned, and lately he has been blasting in the bottom and has not yet found the lake in any lower region.

Lundy Wood and family are visiting relatives in Danville, Va. this week.

Dixie and Vaughn, with Misses Stacy, Lottie and Ludia Wood visited relatives in Forsyth county last week-end. The ladies will stay several days.

A $1.00 Dinner for 4

WHEN you come into the kitchen and inhale the savory aroma of a delicious dinner cooking—it doesn't occur to you to question whether it cost one dollar or five dollars. It registers satisfaction. If you have saved the extra dollars, however, and the dollar dinner pleases four people—then hurrah for the housewife—or the hostess. This is the sort of dinner we refer to:

Tomato Meat Loaf 39¢
Mashed Potatoes 7¢
Buttered Broccoli 22¢
Bread and Butter 8¢
Apple Pudding 17¢
Coffee 7¢

Tomato Meat Loaf: Mix well three-fourths pound of hamburger, one-fourth pound of ground pork, one tablespoon onion, three-fourths teaspoon salt and one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Add one beaten egg and one cup of soft bread crumbs. Then add one-half cup of tomato soup. Pack into a buttered loaf pan and bake one hour in a hot oven—400 degrees. Cut one cup of stringless beans in pieces, and add to the rest of the tomato soup. Thin slightly with a little of the liquor from the beans if desired. Heat and serve over the meat loaf.

Apple Pudding: Add one-fourth teaspoon cinnamon and two teaspoons lemon juice to one and one-fourth cups of canned apple sauce, and put in a buttered baking dish. Cream three tablespoons butter and one-third cup sugar. Add one cup of bran cereal and spread on the top. Bake in a hot oven—400 degrees—for from thirty-five to forty minutes. Serve slightly warm with light cream.

Better Breakfasts

ATHLETES of ancient Greece used to eat a breakfast of dried figs, fresh cheese and a porridge made of wheat, and then go out and hurl the discus and marathon about with amazing speed. Take a tip from the skillful Greek, and before you marinate to your office to haul big ideas, enjoy a breakfast which starts with the luscious fig, followed by a wheat cereal. For example:

Stewed Figs and Raisins
Wheat Cereal with Cream
Scrambled Eggs with Mushrooms
Johnny Cake
Strawberry Preserves
Coffee
Stewed Figs and Raisins: Wash one-third cup raisins. Add two-thirds cup water and simmer gently until the raisins are plump and the water is almost cooked off. Add the contents of one 8-ounce can figs and bring to boiling. Chill over night. Serve plain or with cream. This serves four persons.

Scrambled Eggs with Mushrooms: Sauté the contents of one 4-ounce can of sliced mushrooms in two tablespoons butter for four or five minutes. Beat five eggs slightly and add the mushroom liquor and salt and pepper to taste. Then add this to the mushrooms. Reduce the heat and scramble lightly. Remove from the fire before the eggs begin to harden. This serves four persons.
