NEW GAME WARDEN APPOINTED SOON

WILL DOUBTLESS BE CHARLEY MARTIN — RESIGNATION OF T. L. BOOTH, PRESENT INCUBENT, IN EFFECT MARCH 21 — NEW APPOINTEE WILL OCCUPY QUARTERS ON THE STATE RESERVE — IMPROVEMENTS IN GAME SERVICE IN PROSPECT.

A new game warden for Stokes county will possibly be appointed this week to succeed T. L. Booth, the present warden, who has resigned to take effect March 21.

The information was gained from W. C. Lisk, district game warden, who spent Tuesday night here. Mr. Lisk would not positively say whom the next warden will be, but it is pretty well understood that Charley Martin will be Booth's successor. There were several applications for the position, but Martin's recommendations were unusually strong, and it is conceded that he will be appointed by the State.

In case of Martin's appointment he will remove at once with his family to the quarters now occupied by Booth, who will return to Danbury, his former home.

District Game Protector Lisk says that an effort will be made to enlist the assistance of the federal government in greatly improving, enlarging and replenishing the State's game interests on the Stokes reserve, that more pens will probably be built and that these will be stocked with game.

Mr. Lisk is in charge of 21 counties of the State, and he informs the Reporter that the game interests of his district are in the best shape now for years.

Hints for Homemakers

By Jane Rogers

ALTHOUGH pineapple juice is ordinarily chilled in the tin before serving, many persons suffering with intestinal disorders, find the juice more to their liking if it is warmed, or slightly heated, especially when drunk at breakfast time. The chilled juice is much preferred as an eye opener, or an appetizer, but an excellent hot beverage for winter evenings is mulled pineapple juice. Here is the recipe: Tie an inch of stick cinnamon; 3 whole cloves; 1/4 teaspoon ground allspice; 1/4 teaspoon grated nutmeg in a small piece of cheesecloth. Add to one quart of Hawaiian pineapple juice and bring to boiling point. Add a little salt, and serve with crackers and cheese.

Brazil nuts add nutriment and distinctive new flavor to countless other foods. As appetizers and as an integral ingredient in entrees, salads, breads, buns and in numerous desserts, these nuts are winning with us. Every few weeks during the year fresh stocks arrive in the country. Ideal for summer use, keep indefinitely in a refrigerator or other cool place. Shelled nuts should be kept tightly covered. Brazil nuts may be used raw or roasted, whole, chopped, sliced or ground.

Mallard Woods Will Probably Operate Filling Station, Etc. Here

Mallard Woods, young son of Sam Woods of the Hartman section will probably take over the filling station in the "Pyrtle building" which has been operated here by E. O. Sheppard for some months. It is reported that Sheppard will return to Lawsonville to engage in farming.

Woods will be assisted by his father, Sam Woods, who will install an up-to-date blacksmith shop in connection with the garage. An auto repair shop will also be operated by Woods, who is an experienced mechanic.

HIGHWAY PATROL CRACKING DOWN

INTENSIVE DRIVE TO FOLLOW ALREADY STIFF ACTION OF THE MOTORCYCLE SQUAD — DRIVERS LICENSE LAW TO BE ENFORCED, STARTING NEXT MONDAY — BE ON YOUR GUARD.

Stokes citizens who go down the road in their automobiles can testify that the State highway patrolmen are already on their job.

But the news comes from Raleigh today that next Monday an intensive drive will begin to enforce the drivers license law and other requirements.

Several Stokes citizens, some of them prominent, have recently been caught "napping" by the gray-clad guys who ride motorcycles and won't listen to excuses.

And listen here: Beginning March 16 any person applying for operator's or chauffeur's license for the first time will be required to demonstrate his ability to operate a vehicle as well as a knowledge of rules of the road.

The highway safety division reported today licenses of 1,847 persons had been revoked, while 376 applications have been denied due to incompetency of the applicants to operate vehicles.

The governor of North Carolina has no power to restore the revoked license of a convicted automobile driver, Edwin M. Gill, commissioner of paroles, announced today following the receipt of a ruling from Attorney General A. A. F. Seawell.

Gill said he had a bulky file of applications from drivers whose licenses had been revoked asking that the permits be restored as a measure of executive clemency, but that these were being denied by Governor Ehringhaus under the Seawell ruling.

The attorney general explained while the constitution gives the governor the power to pardon criminals, commute sentences and to remove penalties which have been imposed incidental to the conviction of crime, the revocation of a license is not a penalty, but is entirely disconnected with any punishment because of the crime for which he is convicted. The revocation, he said, is an exercise of the police power of the state and, as such, is not subject to intervention by the governor.

Returned From Baltimore

L. Bailey, the progressive popular manager of the T. C. Hesser & Co. department store at Walnut Cove has returned from Baltimore where he purchased spring merchandise.

Mrs. J. S. Taylor and Luna Taylor, her daughter, visited relatives at Leaksville Saturday.

News Items Of King

King, March 11. — The Ladies Aid, of Trinity M. E. Church, met with Mrs. Austin Wall at her home in West View for their regular monthly meeting. Mrs. A. R. Hooker conducted the devotional. Helping Each Other was the subject.

"Help Somebody Today" and "Blest Be The Tie That Binds," were the hymns used for the occasion. The program was in charge of Mrs. R. G. Goff. Some very interesting readings and talks were made.

Mrs. Wall assisted by her small daughter, Roberta, served a sweet course of refreshments. Eugene Lawson, member of the Civilian Conservation Corps, who is stationed at camp Otto in the western part of the state, is spending a few days with his parents here.

Orville Snider, who underwent a tonsil operation in the new Tonsil Clinic here last Friday, is getting along nicely. Dr. Belmont Helsabeck performed the operation.

The King Lumber Company, a new corporation, have opened their place of business on Railroad street. They are handling a full line of building materials.

J. Robert Cook made a business trip to Winston-Salem Saturday.

Tom Ferguson, planter of the Haw Pond section, was a business visitor here Saturday.

Sheriff J. John Taylor, of Danbury, was among the visitors here Saturday.

The following births were registered here last week: To Mr. and Mrs. Sam Brown, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Dock Eaton, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Venable, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bowen, a son and to Mr. and Mrs. Delbert Joyner, a son.

A Ford car being driven by Wiley Shore, of Winston-Salem, left the highway and crashed into an embankment on the Bethania Road one mile south of town Saturday night. Mr. Shore was bruised up considerably, while his automobile was only slightly damaged.

Woodrow Lawson, of Danbury, spent the week-end here the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Lawson.

Bad Spellers

Dr. Morefield and Lon Sisk are mistaken in saying that Bill Lisk, district game protector, is fond of deer. We know that Mr. Lisk, though a noted hunter, like many of us has never tasted deer meat, which is very "dear." It may be that Dock and Lon are only bad spellers.

Death of Irvin Booth

Irvin, son of Walter Booth, and cousin of County Game Warden T. L. Booth, died this week at Carthage, Moore county. He formerly resided in Stokes.

Wilma Simmons was in Winston-Salem and Greensboro Saturday shopping.

Making Money On Chickens

Very few people are able to make any money on chickens. The business is interesting, almost fascinating, with expense eating up all the profits.

But H. P. Loftis, superintendent of the Stokes County Home, knows how and does it. Mr. Loftis says he can clear $1,000 on one thousand hens and buy 250 tiny biddies to his flock of poultry at the Home. The young chickens are placed in a warm house just like a tobacco-curing barn with furnace keeping a slow, warm fire. When six weeks old, they are turned out to scratch. Later they become money-making hens all except the roosters, which are culled out. At present Mr. Loftis keeps about 100 hens which are producing 75 per cent. "lay" every day. He keeps a hen only a year. earning power is spent.

after that it is discarded, as its raising vocation—when you know how.

Mrs. H. M. Joyce Honored

Last Friday was the 75th birthday of Mrs. Kate Easley Joyce, and the occasion was celebrated by the presence of her children and grandchildren, and a fine dinner. Those from a distance in attendance were Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Joyce, Mrs. R. A. Joyce, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Joyce and Miss Nellie Joyce, of Winston-Salem.

Mrs. Joyce is receiving the congratulations of her many fond friends.

Mrs. Ed Smith Dead

News is received here of the death of Mrs. Ed Smith at her home near the Rock House. No particulars were learned. She was formerly Miss Tilley.

Looking Like War

France tells Germany to get out of Rhineland with her soldiers, and Hitler sends back the answer couched in very diplomatic phrases: "Go to hell." Russia, England, Poland, Belgium, Italy and some of the smaller states are backing France, and possibly Japan will line up with Hitler. It looks dangerous.

May Speak at Danbury

Hon. Clyde Hoey, candidate for Governor, may speak at Danbury the first Monday of court, March 30.

Albert Phillips McDonald's Man

It is reported that Mr. R. Phillips, of Dalton, is a candidate for Dr. McDonald's governorship race at Stokes.

OUR FARMERS MAY GET $300,000

NEW FARM PROGRAM IS MEETING WITH FAVOR AMONG THE FARMERS — COMPULSORY REQUIREMENTS TO COME FROM STATES, IF ANY — WANT EHRINGHAUS TO CALL EXTRA SESSION.

Judged by the comments heard here and there, the new farm program which forms the new AAA will fill a popular demand here when it is formerly presented within the next week or ten days. Of course, the only information as to the nature and working of this plan so far available is that secured from the daily press reports. But local farmers who have kept up with these have been free in expressing themselves as favorably impressed in so far as their information goes.

According to the available information, this plan is a purely voluntary proposition in so far as the Federal government is concerned. Congress has appropriated approximately one-half a billion dollars which is to be used in making benefit payments to farmers who reduce their acreage in base crops such as tobacco, cotton, peanuts, etc., and in making payments to those who cooperate in planting conservation crops, such as clovers, vetch, grasses, cowpeas, soybeans, etc.

Local tobacco growers, it is contemplated, will receive a quarter of a million or more dollars for their cooperation under this plan. It may be that a larger portion of this appropriation will come to this county. But it is a conservative estimate that Stokes farmers will receive between two-hundred seventy-five and three-hundred and fifty thousand dollars per year under the new plan.

As stated above this is a voluntary proposition. Farmers will be given the opportunity to sign applications instead of contracts to show their willingness to cooperate in the plan. Any enforcements or penalties for not cooperating will be had only through state legislation. If any law is passed to enforce crop control on the part of those who do not voluntarily back the plan, it must needs come from state acts to be enacted by the legislatures in the states in which the crop is grown. There is much local interest favoring a special session of the legislature to enact these laws in time to protect N. C. tobacco growers this season.

The new plan should be formerly presented here within the next ten days or two weeks. The delay, it is thought, in getting this plan before farmers is due to the time required to have the forms printed for distribution. The announcement sometime ago is that this plan
