DANBURY, N. C., SEPTEMBER 23, 1937.

Tobacco and Corn Harvest Edition.

This issue of the Reporter is devoted largely to the celebration of the golden harvest of tobacco and corn grown by the farmers of Stokes, in this good year of 1937.

Possibly not since 1913 has a better crop of tobacco been cured, and now the happy advent of the opening of the markets for the sale of this king of our crops is a source of pleasure and anticipation to the farmers and their friends everywhere.

The farmers deserve good prices for their product, and the chances are they will get them.

The corn crop is also fine and large, the best for years, and this coupled with the tobacco crop, insures prosperity to our county in the immediate future.

The Reporter takes much pride and satisfaction in printing the messages of the tobacco markets, the warehouses and the business men to the farmers of Stokes, and feels assured these dependable business concerns are going to be patronized liberally by our readers and patrons, 90 per cent. of whom are farmers.

The markets open on Thursday the 23rd, but days before the first sales are called you will see the stream of trucks and automobiles begin flowing, to bring back their cargoes of cash and commodities.

Stuart Theatre Shows

"CHEROKEE STRIP" — Dick Foran, the singing cowboy, rides to glory in this top-notch western.

"FLYAWAY BABY"—A girl reporter female Sherlock Holmes and a police official engage in a round-the-world flight to apprehend a murderer, in this intensely interesting show. Cast: Glenda Farrell, Barton MacLane, Gordon Oliver. The finish of this picture is a huge surprise.

"HOTEL HAYWIRE"—A great comedy. What started out as a gag by a "screwy" astrologist threatens to cause a domestic breach to a home-loving family. When the source of the trouble is located those involved run him out of town. Cast: Lee Carrillo, Lynne Overman, Mary Carlisle.

REIDSVILLE

Tobacco Market Pays Higher Prices

WHY? Because Reidsville has among its buyers one of the largest consumers of tobacco in this section right in her city. That makes for a HIGH MARKET, and a HIGH MARKET is always a GROWING MARKET. There is another factor in the selling of tobacco, however, that is important to the Grower and that is SERVICE. REIDSVILLE, THIS YEAR, WILL OPERATE ON A TIME SCHEDULE. THIS PROVIDES FOR CERTAIN KNOWN HOURS FOR EACH WAREHOUSE. The Grower, therefore, knows that should No 1 sale be "blocked" with tobacco, that at an agreed time No. 2 sale will start—likewise No 3 and No. 4 sale. The REIDSVILLE SLOGAN IS A SALE EVERYDAY IN EVERY WAREHOUSE. This method removes any likelihood of any tobacco being held over, and assures the Tobacco Producer of quick sales.

REIDSVILLE "THE" TOBACCO MARKET BY THIS METHOD OFFERS THE RIGHT PLACE TO SELL YOUR TOBACCO—PROMPT AND SATISFACTORY SALES.

The quality of the leaf sold governs the price, but the REIDSVILLE TOBACCO MARKET not alone offers that price but assures the Producer the service that goes with that price.
