W. U. M. S. Meets

The Woman's Union Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. N. A. Martin, with Mrs. Janie Cofer as hostess.

With the president, Mrs. N. E. Wall, presiding, and also reading a portion of scripture from the book of Ruth for the devotionals. Mrs. J. S. Taylor followed with prayer.

"Help Somebody Today" was the song sung by the society with Mrs. N. E. Pepper as accompanist.

The secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

The society decided to draft a Chinese child by sending a fund to shelter and feed the child until some further date.

Plans were made to have a silver tea and have an outstanding speaker to come and speak for us on current Missionary work and China.

The program for the evening was the "Ministry of Giving" and "Ministry of Motherhood" and Mrs. H. M. Joyce and Mrs. G. H. Alford gave very interesting reviews of these two chapters.

During the social hour a unique Biblical contest was held with Mrs. R. R. King as winner.

A beautiful prize was presented Mrs. King for her skill in answers.

Mrs. S. P. Christian invited the society to meet with her on Monday evening, December 2, at 7:30 o'clock.

A delicious dessert course with coffee was served to the following members by the hostess, Mrs. Cofer:

Mesdames N. E. Pepper, S. P.

To My Friends

It impossible for me to see and thank personally each of you who gave me your vote of confidence on November 5th. Therefore, I wish to take this method and opportunity of expressing my heart felt appreciation for your support. I assure you I shall never betray the confidence you have reposed in me. To those of you who worked so hard in my behalf, I shall ever be grateful.

I shall in the future as I have in the past, try to give to all the people the courteous and efficient service they are entitled regardless of political faith or color.

R. L. SMITH,

King P.-T. A. Meets

The King Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night, November 4, in the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. R. C. Ferguson, presiding. After the meeting was called to order the large audience sang "Star Spangled Banner" and "God Bless America."

There was a short business meeting with reports from several committees. New committees were named for the remainder of this year.

The grammar grades gave an interesting program. Two groups of children sang songs that they have learned in music classes this year. The fourth grade gave a Safety Program in the form of an amateur hour. Mary Ann Ferguson was the announcer.

Since next week is Book Week, a group of grammar grade girls gave a scene from the well known book, "Little Women"

Farmers Who Have Filled Silos This Fall

Stokes farmers who filled silos this fall have begun opening them and feeding the silage. Those who have opened their silos are amazed at how well the silage has kept, and the high quality of it. Some of the farmers who have opened their silos are F. L. Tilley, Lawsonville; J. S. Dalton, Pine Hall; I. M. Neal, Belew's Creek, Roger Calloway, King and J. B. Sizemore, in the Haw Pond community. Others who have filled silos this fall are: Sam Moran, Snow Hill community; W. E. Pyrtle, Francisco; Vestal Kiser, Holton Gentry and W. A. Hooker in the King community. N. F. Keiger, also of King, filled an upright silo. All of these men except N. F. Keiger, dug and filled trench silos, which are very inexpensive to construct. These farmers have found that by conserving feed in this way, they can secure enough silage from one average acre of corn to feed 3 cows for 6 months. The main advantage in feeding silage is that it acts as a succulent feed in the winter time and takes the place of pasture in keeping up the milk cow. Silage has been truthfully called "Canned pasture."

Due to the extremely dry weather this fall, farmers are opening their silos early. Mr. F. L. Tilley made the following statement: "I opened my trench feeding the silage to my cows. By Sunday night, I could already tell a difference in the milk production, it had already started increasing." Mr. I. S. Dalton of Pine Hall says: "My cows have always fallen off in milk production before this fall, however, since I have had silage to feed, the milk production of my cows is on the increase. Feeding silage has increased the milk flow just like grass in the spring time." Farmers who might be interested in seeing how easily silage can be made and kept are invited to inspect the silos on these farms and talk with the men who have filled them.

Lawsonville H. D. Club Holds Meeting

(Written For The Reporter.)

Lawsonville.—The Lawsonville Home Demonstration Club held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Zack Sheppard Nov. 6. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. B. O. Sheppard. New business came up for the new year and was approved. Mrs. Lila Pearce, the home agent, demonstrated table linens and manners. Miss Kathleen Sheppard gave two games of Bingo. Mrs. Ruth Tucker and Mrs. B. O. Sheppard were the prize winners, two beautiful pictures. The following members were present: Mesdames J. N. Tucker, B. O. Sheppard, P. H. Robertson, R. A. Robertson, H. D. Lassiter, J. W. Lackey, E. G. Lawson, Miss Lucy Smith, Mrs. O. E. Smith, Miss Kathleen Sheppard, Mrs. Ivy Burroughs, Mrs. Owens and the hostess, Mrs. Zack Sheppard. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting. All reported a good time. The December meeting will be held with Mrs. Thornton Tuttle.
