

LOCALS

Ellis Jackson of Camp Maxie, Texas, spent a 10-days furlough here. He attended the funeral of his grandfather, W. R. Fagg, who died last week on Danbury Route 1. Ellis is with the field artillery, has been in the service two months, likes it fine.

Georgie Sisk of Lawsonville was in town Monday.

Cleve Lawson and Calvin Mabe, Lawsonville citizens, visited Danbury Monday.

Sam Woods, Jr., is in the Baptist Hospital at Winston suffering with injuries received when a horse threw him. His backbone, shoulder and limbs were fractured.

Will Stewart was here Saturday. He is now living on the Wiley Southern farm. Will was reared in Danbury. He is a hard worker and a very successful farmer.

Mrs. Travis Tuttle motored over Saturday evening buying groceries. Mrs. Tuttle is one of the county's most efficient teachers—she teaches at Wilson Store.

Jerry Baker of Flatshoal visited town Saturday. Jerry tells us his wife is still an invalid, and improves but slowly. She has been bedridden for more than two years.

From Francisco these good Big Creek citizens called on us Monday: J. H. Ward, R. L. Jones, Reedy E. Smith. Hurry back, boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Davis stopped over Sunday evening for supper in town.

Phil Dunlap of Dodgetown, Henry Dunlap of Walnut Cove, spent a short while here Saturday night.

J. T. Vaden, prominent farmer of Francisco, was a Danbury visitor Tuesday, and while here paid the Reporter a pleasant call.

C. W. Ray of Francisco was in town Tuesday. Mr. Ray, who is a trader of consequence, says he is handling a few mules, but nothing on a big scale.

Ambulance Trip

J. E. Nelson, funeral director of Danbury, returned home Saturday night from Akron, Ohio, where he had been for a patient, Sam J. Simmons, who was brought to the home of a daughter at Dobson. Simmons, aged about 40, and who had been engaged in defense work at Akron, was stricken with paralysis.

Mr. Nelson's round trip was 1090 miles.

Moir Martin of Lawsonville was in town Monday.

W. A. Bryant of Stuart, Va., Route 5, was here Monday on business.

Notice Of Suspected Delinquency

To William Boon Rhodes. Order No. 96-A.

Dear Sir: According to information in possession of this Local Board, you have failed to perform the duty, or duties, imposed upon you under the selective service law as specified below:

Failed to notify this office of your change in address and failed to report to Local examining physician.

You are therefore directed to report, by mail, telegraph, or in person, at your own expense, to this Local Board, on or before 10 a. m., on the 18th day of January, 1943.

Failure to report on or before the day and hour specified is an offense punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both.

JOHN H. NEAL, Member of Local Board.

Married In Baltimore

Miss Florence Jackson of Martinsville, Va., and Edgar Campbell of Danbury were married in Baltimore Friday. Both parties hold positions in defense work at Baltimore.

Sam Woods' Dilemma

Absent-mindedness is a disorder that afflicts some of the best citizens of the world, including college professors.

Now Sam Woods of the North View section of Stokes county is not immune from the botheration of absent-mindedness.

Sam operates, or at least he has been operating a sawmill business over on Snow Creek that has been very successful under his guiding hand. Many the tall pine that has fallen under the stiff strokes of his axemen, only to be soon cut into useful lengths and widths for building purposes. The song of Sam's sawmill sang merrily through the undulating hills of old Snow Creek, to the extent that people could not sleep well when it stopped. Its cadence was soothing to the nerves and induced lassitude and languor, signifying that business was going on.

Well, now, Sam needed more stock, more mules to pull the logs out of the hollows to the

If You Don't Have Your Classification Card, See Local Board At Once.

All men in the State of North Carolina between the ages of 18 and 35, who have been subject to Selective Service registration for as long as six months and who do not have their classification cards, were advised today by General J. Van B. Metts, State Director of Selective Service, to communicate with their Local Boards at once. On and after February 1, the Director pointed out, any man in this age group who does not have in his personal possession his classification card (Form 57), as well as his Certificate of Registration, is liable to fine or imprisonment, or both.

The recent order of the Selective Service Bureau of the War Manpower Commission, setting the February 1 deadline for possession of Classification Cards by men of military ages, has met with prompt response in North Carolina, the Director said. Many registrants are reporting to this local board, requesting classification or asking that lost Classification Cards be duplicated. However, Director Metts says he believes there are still a few who have failed to get in touch with their boards because of carelessness or negligence.

Registrants in the 45-to-65-year-old group are not affected by the order, and Director Metts said there are actually only a handful of men in the State who can be considered as delinquent, according to Selective Service regulations, for failure to keep in touch with their local boards. Nevertheless, he emphasized that in the present emergency no man will be allowed to avoid military responsibility merely because of failure to keep his local board advised of his whereabouts.

So he went to Mt. Airy the other day and soon struck a bargain with a stock dealer for a good pair of mules, 6 years old in the spring.

Sam, as many business men do, did not have the cash handy to pay for the team. The trade slowed up for awhile. Finally Sam saw the solution. He told the mule dealer that, as he did not just then have the cash in hand, here's what he would do:

"I'll give you a first class sawmill that cost me $800.00, for your mules."

The offer looked good to the dealer, and soon the deal was pulled off.

Sam took the mules and came back home whistling merrily, and told his wife of the fine deal he had made.

"But," asked Mrs. Woods, "what are you going to do with the mules, I thought you had traded for them to operate your milling business."

"Well, I'll be damned," Sam exclaimed, "I never thought about that."

DELINQUENCY IS SERIOUS OFFENSE

Announcement Of Gen. Metts, State Director Of Selective Service—List Of Stokes Delinquents.

"A fine of $10,000 or five years in prison, or both, is the penalty facing a person convicted of delinquency under Selective Service Act," General J. Van B. Metts, State Director of Selective Service announced today.

"Far too many are escaping their obligations under the act because they are delinquent," the State Director said. He further stated that a vigorous effort will be made during the month of January to have delinquents and suspected delinquents report to their local boards, to have the charges of delinquency removed. "Those who do report voluntarily to their local board during the month of January, 1943, will be allowed to comply with their obligations, but those who fail or refuse to do so will find that their names have been reported to the Department of Justice for prosecution," the Director said.

To further clarify the requirements, General Metts emphasized these points:

1. Every person who was required to register under any one of the six Presidential Proclamations which have heretofore been issued, except those registrants in the 45-65 year old group, must have in his personal possession at all times a valid Notice of Classification in addition to his Registration Certificate.

2. Upon request, every person required to carry a Notice of Classification must submit his notice to any law enforcing officer, representatives of the Secretary of State, the Secretary of the Treasury, the Attorney General, or any official of the National or State Headquarters of Selective Service, any member of a local or appeal board, any Government Appeal Agent, or any other official designated by the Director of Selective Service.

3. Every registrant between the ages of 18 to 45 should keep his local board notified of any change of address so that he may be sure that he receives his mail at all times with reasonable promptness. The local board will have discharged its duty and fully complied with the regulations if it mails official notices to the registrant at his last known address, and the registrant is presumed by law to receive such notices. Therefore, it becomes most important for the registrant to see that his local board has on file his correct address at all times.

4. Every person who is required to carry a Notice of Classification and who does not now have one should report immediately to his local board and obtain the required form. If a notice of Classification heretofore issued has been lost, the registrant should apply to this local board for a duplicate.

5. Every person who is required to register under either one of the Presidential Proclamations and who has not done so should immediately report to his local board and offer to register. Persons who are otherwise delinquent are urged to do the same. It will be fairly easy to have charges of delinquency removed during the month of January but those who remain delinquent after February 1, 1943, will run the risk of prosecution as a delinquent.

6. Any person who knows that another person is delinquent, or who has reason to suspect that he is, should report that fact to the local board having jurisdiction over the suspected delinquent's residence.

The following registrants have not returned their selective service questionnaires to this office: James Harvey Mabe, (white), RFD 1, Madison, N. C.; Troy Wilson Carter, (white), RFD 1, Lawsonville, N. C.; Johnnie Baron Montgomery, RFD 1, Germantown, N. C., (white); James Arthur Smith, Address as we have it (Stokes County, N. C.) (Colored), this registrant was registered at Norfolk, Va., has scar on left cheek.

Financial Assistance For Farmers

The Winston-Salem Production Credit Association is providing financial assistance to farmers in meeting their 1943 production goals, A. P. Snow, Secretary-Treasurer, said this week.

The Farm Credit Administration, of which the Production Credit System is a part, is one of the agencies concerned with production Mr. Snow declared. Credit, he added, is of vital importance to many farmers in financing essential crops they expect to grow this year to aid in the nation's huge food-for-freedom program.

"Loans are made by the Production Credit Association for the purpose of buying seed, fertilizer, feed, and the purchase of livestock, machinery, and equipment for carrying on specialized operations, such as, dairying, and breeding and feeding of beef cattle and hog operations," Mr. Snow said. "Loans are made for any amount from $50 up for any sound production purpose, the amount depending on the farmer's needs and ability to repay from the operation financed."

Mr. Snow stressed the fact that the rate of interest on production credit loans is charged only on the actual amount borrowed, and only for the time the money is in use. He said that repayments are

Emergency Crop Loans Available To Farmers

W. R. James, Field Supervisor for the Emergency Crop Loans, announced that crop and feed loans for 1943 are available to farmers in Stokes county and applications for these loans are now being received in Danbury at the courthouse by Miss Ellen Pepper, and in Walnut Cove by Mrs. Gladys McPherson at her insurance office.

Interest at the rate of 4 per cent. will be charged only during the period the borrower actually has the use of the funds.

made as the crops, livestock or products are sold. He gave dairy-men as an example, saying that they usually pay in installments out of their checks for milk or cream. Loans for crops, he pointed out, usually fall due during the marketing season. In all cases he added, the repayments may be planned to fit the farmers' needs.

On January 15, 1943, the Stokes county office of the Production Credit Association will open. Joseph B. Martin will be in charge and will be located in the courthouse. Farmers of Stokes county desiring further information regarding loans through the Winston-Salem Production Credit Association, should contact Mr. Martin.
