Margie Petree, Katherine Sisk, and Ellen Pepper leave next week for Arlington, Va., where they have accepted positions with the War Department.

Mrs. J. W. Hall was guest last week-end of her daughter, Mrs. W. S. Hunt, Jr., in Thomasville.

Among the visitors in town Wednesday was Dillard Hall of Capella, one of Yadkin's good farmers and best citizens.

E. P. Newsum and R. B. Delp of King visited Danbury Monday. Mr. Newsum is the Reporter's long-time and very reliable correspondent and representative at King. Mr. Delp is one of King's prominent business men.

Had a pleasant visit Wednesday from Mrs. J. C. Lawson, her daughter, Miss Rachel, and her niece, Mrs. Arlene Smith, wife of Joe Smith. Mrs. Lawson tells us her husband, J. C., continues quite ill, getting no better. He had a birthday on the 7th, and is now 86.

Manie Stevens of Peter's Creek township, the hustling merchant whose business place is one mile south of Lawsonville, was here today. Mr. Stevens is one of the county's most successful businessmen, is very active in the sale of general merchandise, groceries, feedstuffs and fertilizer, all notwithstanding he is handicapped with chronic rheumatism.

Jas. H. Baker of Walnut Cove was here Tuesday.

Rev. J. L. Love filled his regular appointment Sunday night at the Methodist church here of which he is pastor.

A card received from Roy Wilson, who is recuperating from an operation at the Winston-Salem Baptist hospital, says he is progressing and will be home soon.

Fred Bennett of Route 1 was a visitor in town Tuesday. Fred has a talented young daughter, Miss Beatrice, who frequently writes interesting news letters to the Reporter. She is a Lawsonville high school girl.

Mr. and Mrs. Travis Tuttle of Walnut Cove were in Danbury Monday night. Travis is with the State highway maintenance service. Mrs. Tuttle teaches at Palmyra.

Edgar George of Westfield paid the Reporter a pleasant visit Tuesday. Edgar lives near Reynolds School, and is a typical offshoot of the fine old George family of Quaker Gap township, like his uncle Dill, Jess and others. He tells us that Mrs. Henry George has returned from the hospital much improved after a serious operation, and this is good news to the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Henry. Edgar says the people are hard at work for another crop headed by —FOOD.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Golding spent a short while in Danbury Wednesday.

Miss Marion Fulton of High Point College spent the week-end with Dick Fulton at his apartment here.

N. O. Hutcherson of Winston-Salem, who is administrator of the estate of his grandmother, the late Mrs. Nat Hutcherson of Sandy Ridge, Stokes county, was in Danbury today attending to matters connected with the estate of Mrs. Hutcherson.

Mrs. A. G. Sisk and daughter, Katherine, spent last week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Rob Sisk in Winston-Salem.

Mrs. N. E. Wall and Anne Wall left this week for a visit with Mr. Wall in Morehead City.

Jean Carol Deek, Deese Taylor, Pauline Booth, Josephine Pepper, Dick Fulton, Stedman King and Paris Pepper attended the movies in Winston-Salem Wednesday night.

A Daughter Is Born

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Taylor are the proud parents of Mary Moon, a pink dimpled daughter born Monday night at the Baptist hospital in Winston-Salem.

May Mary Moon's beams ever shine as brightly as her namesake great grandmother's, saintly woman who conducted a revival in Danbury 57 years ago, and whose influence is felt today for all that is best in life.

News Of Danbury Rt. 1

Private Joe G. George, young son of Mrs. Eva George and the late W. W. George, from Bangor, Maine, has been spending a 15-day furlough with home folks.

Woodrow Nelson lost a fine cow Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilmer Nelson visited Mrs. Cleve Lawson at Lawsonville Saturday night.

Letter From Hanes Priddy

Camp Blanding, Fla.,
U. S. Army.
March 15, 1942.

Dear Reporter:
I am receiving your paper now. Was awful glad to hear you people are thinking of the boys in camp. It's good to hear the news back home. I appreciate you sending me the paper a lot. I enjoy reading the Danbury Reporter very much indeed.

I read in your paper today where our first Stokes boy was missing in action. That's too bad.

Well, you people keep up the good work back home. Everybody pull together as a team. Some day then it will be a better world to live in. I will close.

Yours truly,
HANES PRIDDY.

A Better Life For Crippled Children

Easter is important to everybody and everybody welcomes any symbol which brings home to him vividly the significance of the season. The growing popularity of the Easter Seal, which is sold annually to help bring to crippled children those rights and privileges which we feel that everyone in our country should enjoy, demonstrates that it has come to enjoy that same affectionate place in our hearts as the other symbols of the season. Each year the Stokes County Welfare Department joins in the national sale of Easter Seals and Easter Lillies, proceeds of which are used in a continuous program to advance the welfare of crippled children and adults.

Since the money raised during the sale supports a real program for them, the Easter season is a particularly important time of the year for crippled children. They feel that they should have their chances to take their places as useful citizens. Almost everybody will find it hard to disagree.

It takes numerous agencies, both public and private, to add up to a good program for crippled children, but the Easter Seal has come to stand for certain basic things which go toward making a useful citizen of handicapped youth. Those include care, hospitalization, early discovery, early diagnosis; also, the purchase of braces and special equipment—this insures a better chance of having a body as nearly normal as possible.

The sale of Easter Seals offers an opportunity for all to share in this important work of building crippled children into happy and useful men and women.

The Easter Seal campaign for crippled children for Stokes county is sponsored by the county welfare department. Last year it brought in a total of $146.52, one-half of which was sent to the N. C. League for Crippled Children. The list of schools which participated and the amount of contribution of each for last year was as follows:

Sandy Ridge High School	$16.13.
Francisco High School	6.00.
Reynolds High School	13.30.
Pine Hall High School	11.02.
Walnut Cove High School	16.43.
Pinnacle High School	13.48.
Germantown High School	13.00.
King High School	16.32.
Lawsonville High School	2.64.
Danbury Meadows	3.02.
Dillard	1.38.
Walnut Cove Colored	7.05.
Department of Public Welfare	25.59.

Funds derived from the campaign were used to provide treatment for crippled children unable to obtain it otherwise.

This year the sale is being put on from March 26 to April 25. We feel that everyone will wish to help in our campaign as generously as in previous years.

CHRISTINE ANDERSON,
Supt. Stokes County Welfare Department.

Packages Sent To Boys Overseas—Running By The Postoffice Department.

Hereafter sealed parcels not exceeding 8 ounces in weight on which postage at the first-class rate is prepaid may be accepted for dispatch to Army personnel at A. P. O.'s overseas without the presentation of an approved request from the addressee. This modification of Order No. 1965, dated January 7 and published in the Postal Bulletin for January 8, 1943, under the heading "Restrictions On Overseas Shipments To Army Personnel" has been agreed to by the War Department in order to facilitate the sending of small essential articles such as eyeglasses, watches, fountain pens, insignia, etc. Individual copies of so-called "House Organs" or employee publications, church bulletins, and similar publications, may also be sent to such personnel under the same conditions as to weight and postage.

The War Department has informed the Post Office Department that hereafter renewals of present subscriptions for overseas personnel of the Army to newspapers and other publications entered as second-class matter from any source will be considered as a continuation of the present subscriptions and mailings under such renewed subscriptions will be considered as in conformity with Order No. 19687, regardless of whether or not the renewal has been specifically requested in writing by the addressee. This means the renewals may be paid for by others than the addressee without any request from the latter. The foregoing does not cover complimentary copies sent by publishers.

Former Danbury Woman Dies At Ogburn Station

Mrs. Mattie Annie Stephens, of Ogburn Station, Winston-Salem, Route 3, died at her home yesterday at five a. m. She had been in declining health for some time and her condition had been critical for the past four weeks.

Mrs. Stephens was born Nov. 5, 1867, in Danbury, a daughter of Aaron and Betty Wagoner. She went to Winston-Salem in 1906.

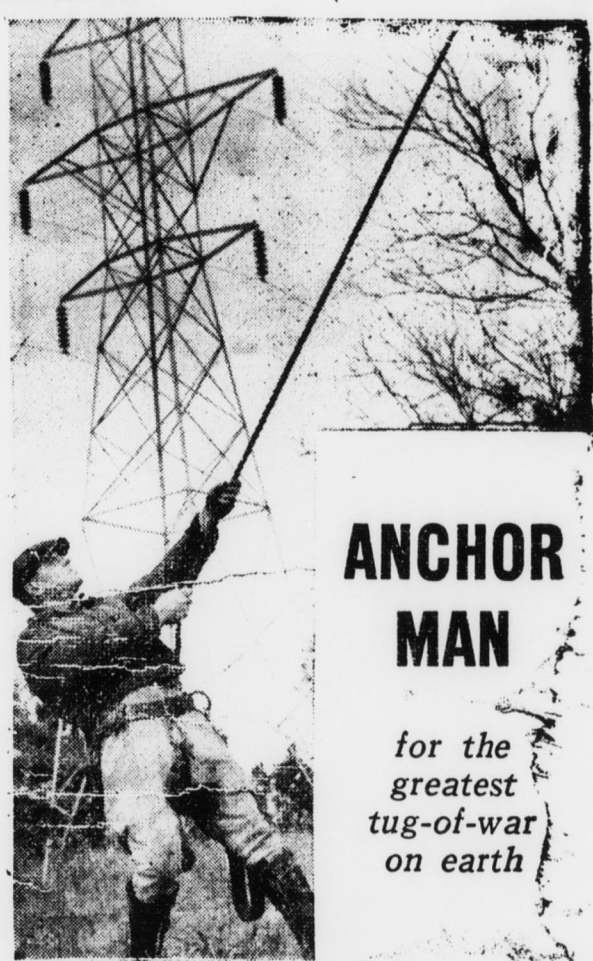

She was formerly a member of Rogers Memorial Presbyterian Church, but at the time of her death was a member of the First Presbyterian Church.

She was twice married, the first time to Walter G. King, who died a number of years ago, and the second time to J. M. Stephens, who died July 2, 1940.

Survivors include one daughter, Mrs. Maida A. Allen, of Boise, Idaho; two sons, John W. King, of Mount Airy; and William G. King, of Winston-Salem; two grandchildren; one sister, Mrs. W. L. Dawson, of Thomasville.

ANCHOR MAN

for the greatest tug-of-war on earth

Any kid knows what the anchor man is there for. His is the job of delivering power where and when it is needed. That's what your power company is doing, too.

During the nearly 40 years through which the Duke Power Company has served the Piedmont Carolinas the availability of electric service has greatly modified conditions in Industry, Commerce, Agriculture and the Home.

Today one and a quarter million horsepower produced in the steam-electric and hydro-electric plants of the Duke Power system are serving our war industries, our military establishments, and our homes, including rural homes reached by more than 10,000 miles of lines.

Seed Money

There's only one thing more foolish than killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. That's living up the money that has been put away to buy the seed for next year's crops.

Although G-E turbines and lamps and refrigerators don't grow from any seed you can buy at a seed store, yet any manufacturer—no matter what he makes—has a seed problem just the same. For next year's models, and improved designs, and new products—all these cost money. Money for research, and engineering, and new tools, and advertising to tell the public where a product can be obtained, and how much it will cost.

And the only place this money can come from is out of past earnings, or borrowing on the promise of earnings in the future. In other words—from seed money.

From the seed of research and engineering, planted in years past by General Electric, have come some pretty amazing crops. Incandescent lamps five times as efficient as Edison's, vacuum tubes that made radiobroadcasting possible, refrigerators for the home and electric machines for industry to make important jobs easier.

Right now the crops we're growing are all of the "Victory Garden" kind—weapons that are serving with our armed forces on land and sea and in the air.

But we mustn't neglect the seed money for the future. We're looking forward to the continuance of the industrial system that will allow us to open up and cultivate other new and promising fields. So, tomorrow, look for important developments in television, fluorescent lighting, plastics, electronics. These will be familiar words in the post-war world. GENERAL ELECTRIC COMPANY, SCHENECTADY, N. Y.
