FARMERS LOSE DAIRY COWS

Since last fall, Edgar Watts, of Walnut Cove, has lost three milk lost one. For some time it was impossible to diagnose the disease but last Sunday Dr. W. H. Kern, of Winston-Salem, thoroughly examined the diseased specimen and found the trouble to be "shipping fever" or hemorragic septicemia. Since the infectious disease is very contagious, Roger Slate is vaccinating cattle in the community against the disease.

This is the second outbreak of hemorrhagic septicemia in Stokes county with in the past two years. If you live in the Squire Watts section and have a sick cow, be sure to get in touch with someone who recognized the diseases. This will help you and your neighbors since the infection is

I hereith call upon the citizens of our state to respond to this man urgent need. I have every confidence that our people will rise to this need and I hope in a manner worthy of our state and its traditions. I usge the ministers of North Carolina and our teachers and school people generally, our civic clubs, representatives of the press and radio, and other public spirited leaders of the state to join in the high endeavor to get every citizen of our state and law enforcement officers to do everything within their power and within the law to end any idleness or vagrancy that may exist anywhere in North Carolina.

Furthermore, I call upon the local selective service boards to study carefully oductively employ the cases of those who have been deferred on physical grounds but who are able to work and are not working. I am also calling upon police officers and sheriffs to visit places in their cities and counties where loafers and idlers. sheriffs to visit places in their dities and counties where loaiors and induced customarily congregate and inquire into the reasons why they are not at work. If these efforts fail to get the necessary response, I should feel it my duty to use the emergency powers granted me by the recent legislature for dealing with these problems so vital to our national welfare.

NOW THEREPORE, I, J. MELVILLE BROUGHTON, GOVERNOR OF NORTH CAROLINA, to the end that we may act in a statewide manner on this important subject, do hereby set apart MONDAY, JULY 5, 1943, the day on which Independence Day will be most generally observed throughout the state, as NORTH CAROLINA DAY OF DEDICATION, and I wrge that in the county seat of every county in North Carolin there will be held a meeting to be attended by mayors, county commissioners, inheriffs, police officers, ministers, farm leaders, health and welfare workers and other public spirited citizens, for the purpose of studying conditions in leach of such counties and taking such organized steps as will effectually end lany idleness or loafing that may exist in such counties. any idleness or loafing that may exist in such counties.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I, J. Melville Broughton, Governor of North Carolina, have signed and caused the Great Scal of the State to be affixed hereto, in the City of Raleigh, North Carolina, this the 23rd day of June, 1943, in the one hundred
