

The Danbury Reporter

Published at Danbury, N. C., and entered at the Danbury post office as second class matter, under act of Congress.

Per. Editor & Publisher - - - E. V. Pepper, Business Mgr.

National Advertising Representative

New York : Chicago : Detroit : Atlanta : Phila.

Danbury, North Car., Thursday, Aug. 5, 1943

WHAT SHALL BE DONE WITH THIS MAN CALLED ROOSEVELT?

Political analysts are unable to determine whether the President's recent major moves ("Toward a Fourth Term") were just the blind manifestations of his proverbial luck, or whether the gestures were in the nature of coups-d'etat toward his "goal."

That speech over the radio the other night when Mr. Roosevelt outlined a plan to take care of the boys after the war is over—this was just a flimsily camouflaged ruse to capture the soldier vote in 1944.

At least that is the interpretation given by Mr. Spangler, chairman of the Republican National Committee, who froths because he and his committee were asleep and let a smooth one be pulled over them.

Now take the veto of the anti-strike bill, which struck amazement in the ranks of friend and foe alike. The country was seething in its hate for John L. Lewis, and demanding the outlawing of strikes that retard the war effort. New Dealers were aghast. Haters were jubilant over the President's fatal strategy.

But it transpires that the chief executive knew his stuff. He said the bill not only would not prevent strikes but would encourage them. The truth of his position is proved by the continuing strikes, the preparations being made by other labor organizations for additional strikes, etc.

And in the meantime while Congress innocently voted and hated, Roosevelt had sewed up the labor vote.

Now has the President blundered, or has he shown the finesse of the master politician?

Col. McCormick, the publisher of the Chicago Tribune, the world's greatest newspaper (so the Tribune says), states that anybody can beat Roosevelt. Yet the latest Gallup polls indicate that nobody can.

The only chance we see is to amend the constitution and revise the Bill of Rights, taking away the privilege of the people to name whom they please.

But the main trouble with this plan is, before the constitutional change can be effected, the people will nominate and elect Roosevelt again.

Italian Rye Grass Not Available

The Triple-A office has been notified by the State office that their order for Italian Rye Grass will not be filled due to the scarcity of seed. The office can supply Crimson Clover and Austrian Winter Peas.

FATHERS TO BE DRAFTED SOON AFTER OCTOBER 1

The drafting of men with children for the armed forces will begin soon after October 1st, according to General J. Van B. Metts, head of the State Selective Service System.

Mrs. Robah Smith, Misses Lois Wall and Marjorie Pepper, of Danbury; Miss Mary Williamson of Pine Hall; Mrs. Rose York of Walnut Cove are spending a week at Myrtle Beach, S. C.

FOR RENT—Good 140-acre farm, Davidson county, near Forsyth on river, good state cultivation, good 5-room house, barn, stock tools, on school bus line. Write Box 1218, Winston-Salem, stating condition and family.

Send in your news items to the Reporter; news of your son in the service, parties, illness—anything about your friends.

Lawsonville News

Lawsonville.—Farmers are very busy taking care of tobacco. The crop is good.

Pvt. Egbert Rhodes is spending a few days here with home folks. He has been in the army several months.

Pvt. Ross R. Lawson of Fort Jackson, S. C., spent Sunday with home folks. He was accompanied to the bus station at Winston-Salem Sunday night by his mother, Annie Mae, Glenn and Betty Jo Lawson and Donald Mabe and Junior Lawson.

Ruby Helms spent Monday and Tuesday with Betty Jo Lawson.

Mrs. Herman Lawson is in a hospital for an appendectomy.

Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Smith and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hill at Sandy Ridge.

Shirley Sue Smith is spending the week with Joyce Hill.

Several from here went to Russell Creek preaching Sunday.

The revival is going on this week at Smith's Chapel. Rev. Ivan Stevens is holding the meeting.

Mrs. Hess Lawson spent the week-end with her daughter, Mrs. Watson Joyce, at Stuart, Va.

Mrs. Canie Dalton and son, Paul and wife, and Mrs. Dorothy Helms of Stuart, Va., spent a short while here Wednesday with Mrs. E. G. Lawson. Paul leaves for the army August 6.

Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Kirby of Danbury visited Mr. and Mrs. Matt Simmons Sunday night.

Special Notice to Farmers

Feed wheat is now available at the Monitor Roller Mills, Walnut Cove, and at the King Roller Mill, King. It may be purchased for $1.20 per bushel or $2.00 a hundred. Due to the location of the bins and labor shortage, wheat can be bought at King only on Thursday of each week. Farmers may purchase wheat any day of the week at Walnut Cove. Each farmer is requested to buy wheat in not less than five bushel lots. If you want your wheat ground, it will cost 20 cents a hundred. You must bring your own sacks or bags.

E. S. STOKES

No Absenteeism For this Worker

Schenectady, N. Y.—Never late for work in his more than 30 years of service and absent only seven days (when his wife died in 1940) in all those 11,000 days—that's the remarkable record of Mike Rakvitz, General Electric forge worker who has just retired.

Born in Czechoslovakia, Rakvitz became a U. S. citizen in 1921. Since 1913 he has been employed by General Electric at Schenectady, regulating furnaces in the Company's forging division.

An advertisement appearing in "for sale" classified section of a newspaper: "Auto A-1, owner I-A

Fat Stock and Wool Show To Be at Elkin October 14 & 15

Planned as an annual event, a Fat Stock and Wool Show, and Sale, will be staged at Elkin October 14 and 15 under the auspices of the Elkin Kiwanis Club, Elkin Junior Chamber of Commerce, Elkin Merchants Association, North Carolina Bankers Association, and the North Carolina Agricultural Extension Service.

Participating in the show will be the county farm agents of the following 12 Northwestern North Carolina counties: Alexander, Wilkes, Yadkin, Surry, Ashe, Watauga, Iredell, Caldwell, Forsyth, Alleghany, Stokes and Davie. Fat stock and wool are expected to be shown from all of these counties during the two days of the event.

The show is to feature the exhibition of adult beef cattle, baby beef, swine and shorn wool, and cash premiums for the prize winners will amount to a large figure. There will also be county, district and State awards, which will be in the form of war bonds.

On Friday, October 15, following the judging of the various entries, the sale will be conducted.

This show is expected to further stimulate interest in the growing of more and better cattle, sheep and hogs throughout this section of the State, and to place the area in position to meet the rapidly increasing and serious demands for more adequate supplies of beef, mutton, pork and shorn wool.

A catalogue listing general rules, regulations, premiums and other information, as well as an entry blank has been prepared, and will be mailed to all interested parties at an early date.

Walnut Cove Personals

Walnut Cove.—Mrs. Rosamand Hatch, county nurse, and her mother, Mrs. Noblin, are on vacation at Parkersburg, W. Va.

Barbara and Aurelia Fulton left Monday for two weeks at Junior Girls' camp at Vade Mecum.

The Walnut Cove Episcopal Sunday School held its annual picnic at Vade Mecum Sunday. Services were held in the Cathedral in the Woods.

Sgt. and Mrs. Forrest Welch of Greensboro visited here over the week-end.

Jack Fowler, student at Chapel Hill, spent the week-end at home.

Pvt. Fred Isaacs, stationed at Fort Bragg, was at home for the week-end.

Miss Ann Jones of Greensboro spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charlie M. Jones.

Pfc. Mallory Green of Fort Jackson, S. C. was at home for the week-end.

Misses Ruth Floyd and Polly Tatum, who work in Greensboro, spent the week-end at their respective homes here.

Miss Etna Carrington of Durham spent the week-end with Miss Erna Neal.

Miss Margaret Turner spent the week-end in Greensboro.

Farm News about the AAA and other EXTENSION WORK From the County Agent

VALUE OF WHEAT AS A HOG FEED

(By E. V. VESTAL)

The experiment station has done quite a bit of feeding in regard to wheat and also in regard to plant protein recently and all indications point to the fact that ground wheat is equal or a little better than shelled corn if the wheat is not ground too fine.

In regard to feeding fattening hogs on a floored pen or in a small lot, coarsely ground wheat can take the place of both the corn and the so called "chops" but the chops will be of little value as a supplement to mix with the wheat. One of the best mixtures that they can use for fattening hogs would be a mixture as follows:

85 pounds of coarsely ground wheat
14 pounds of soybeans or peanut oil meal
1 pound of ground limestone
1-2 pound of salt.

Or
90 pounds of coarsely ground wheat
10 pounds of tankage or fish meal

1 pound of ground limestone
1-2 pound of salt.

As for brood sows, feed the wheat exactly as you would corn pound for pound.

VALUE OF WHEAT AS A DAIRY FEED

(By J. A. AREY)

Under normal conditions wheat is not used in this State as a dairy feed. Pound for pound it has an equal feeding value to corn, however, corn is usually the cheapest feed.

In comparing wheat with corn the pound weight per bushel must be taken into consideration as well as the feeding value. A bushel of wheat weighs 60 pounds, while corn weighs only 56 pounds. At $1.25 per bushel for corn, wheat would have a feeding value of $1.33 per bushel.

At the Ohio Agricultural Experiment Station 30, 40 and 50 percent of wheat in the grain ration was found satisfactory for dairy cows. In North Dakota grain rations composed of one-third, one-half and two-thirds drum wheat were fed with satisfactory results. The results of these experiments indicate that when mixed with other feeds wheat can be used up to 50 percent of the mixture if its price will justify such use.

Wheat should be ground coarse or rolled. If ground fine it tends to form an undesirable sticky mass in the cow's mouth. Mixing it with other feeds largely eliminates this trouble.

While wheat contains 52 percent more digestible protein than corn, it is classified as a carbohydrate feed and should be supplemented with a protein-rich feed, such as cotton seed, soybean, or peanut meal.

The following grain mixtures are suggested to be fed together with good legume hay and with or without silage:

17 PERCENT CRUDE PROTEIN
2 parts of ground wheat
1 part corn and cob meal
1 part cotton seed meal

Or
16 PERCENT CRUDE PROTEIN
2 parts ground wheat
1 part ground oats or barley
1 part corn and cob meal
1 part cotton seed meal
With mixed hay or medium quality legume hay and silage, use:

20 PERCENT CRUDE PROTEIN
1 part ground wheat
1 part ground oats or barley
1 part cotton seed meal

Or
19 PERCENT CRUDE PROTEIN
2 parts ground wheat
2 parts cotton seed meal
1 part ground oats or barley
1 part corn and cob meal.

The following feeds can be substituted:

FOR WHEAT
Corn
Corn and cob meal
Oats
Barley
FOR COTTON SEED MEAL
Soybeans meal
Peanut meal
Linseed meal
Corn gluten meal
E. S. STOKES
Acting County Agent

Four New Cars Allocated to Stokes For August

Stokes county's tire quota for August is 111 grade I passenger tires, 87 grade II and 86 tubes. For trucks, 76 tires and 73 tubes. Four new cars are allocated to this county for August.

A heavy bomber, cruising at 250 miles an hour, burns 3 1-3 gallons of gasoline every minute

The World's News Seen Through THE CHRISTIAN SCIENCE MONITOR

An International Daily Newspaper is Truthful—Constructive—Unbiased—Free from Sensationalism—Editorials Are Timely and Instructive, and Its Daily Features, Together with the Weekly Magazine Section, Make the Monitor an Ideal Newspaper for the Home.

The Christian Science Publishing Society One, Norway Street, Boston, Massachusetts Price $12.00 Yearly, or $1.00 a Month. Saturday Issue, including Magazine Section, $2.60 a Year. Introductory Offer, 6 Issues 25 Cents.

Name _____

Address _____

SAMPLE COPY ON REQUEST