The County Welfare Board was in session here Monday. The board is composed of W. F. Marshall, chm., Miss Laura Ellington and R. S. Redding.

Cary L. Carroll of Mt. View spent awhile here last week and reminisced of old times. Cary spent his young school days in Danbury when his father, the late D. V. Carroll was register of deeds and lived here with his family. Cary clearly recalls incidents of the old days, the old court house, the marble playing yard in the street, the cows tethered in the sidewalks, the swimmers in the river, the railroad built from the printing office down the hill and the wreck when Tough Allen got hurt, etc., etc.

Fine Arts Club Meets

(Contributed)
Miss Nell Joyce and Mrs. Franklin Martin were the charming co-hostesses of the Fine Arts Club for its July meeting at the home of Mrs. N. E. Wall.

The vice-president, Mrs. N. E. Pepper, presided over this meeting, at which there was a record attendance of fifteen members present.

The meeting was opened with the repetition of the club collect, after which the Secretary's and Treasurer's reports were rendered by Mrs. R. S. Marshall and Mrs. Ralph Scott.

These reports were followed by a brief business session. Then all of the guests were invited into the kitchen where Miss Iva Benton, our new home demonstration agent, very graciously and aptly demonstrated the correct method of using the club's new pressure cooker for canning purposes by canning some beets and beans.

The assembly then returned to the living room (which, along with the rest of the house, has recently been renovated and redecorated in a charming fashion), and there Miss Luna Taylor gave a thorough and delightful review of a book written on the life of Will Rogers, by Mrs. Rogers.

This review was followed by a report by Mrs. Frances Marshall on a biography of General MacArthur. The personages of these books were then discussed by the club in general.

This enjoyable evening's meeting came to a close with the serving of a delicious fruit juice mixture and cake.
