BURNS AT KING

MOIR SMITH OWNED THE STOCK — J. W. FULP TO ERECT NEW HOME — DRY
WEATHER PUTS FARMERS
BEHIND—OTHER NEWS OF KING

By E. P. NEWSUM

Dates with peaches is an expensive dessert.

King, Nov. 4.—The Twin Star Cafe on East Broad Street was destroyed by fire Sunday morning about 1:30. The origin of the fire is not known. The building was the property of William Fowler of King and Rossie George of Mount Airy, while the stock belonged to Moir Smith, who resides on Main Street.

Mrs. Ellis Conrad is quite sick at her home in Walnut Hills, her friends will regret to learn.

The following patients underwent tonsil removal operations here Wednesday: Miss Stacy Lee King, Miss Caldonia Jones, John Thomas Jones and Wayne Jones, all of Westfield.

J. W. Fulp is placing material on the site on East Main Street, preparatory to erecting a new home.

Mrs. Gorge Yelverton of Washington, D. C., is spending some time here, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Virginia Pulliam, on West Broad Street.

Reynard Griffin, who underwent an operation in a Winston-Salem hospital a few days since, is reported to be quite sick.

The stork's report is light again this week. It is: to Mr. and Mrs. Meggs Collins, a son; to Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Warren, a daughter; to Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Smith, a son; and to Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, Jr., a son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Alexander of Winston-Salem were the guests of Mrs. Alexander's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clade Jones on East Broad Street over the week-end.

The continued dry weather in this section is putting farmers behind in preparing land and sowing their wheat crop.

H. D. Pulliam of Inglewood, Tennessee, is visiting relatives and friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Tuttle of Rural Hall were among the visi-

McK. R. Long Will Conduct Revival
At Pilot Mountain

Rev. McK. R. Long of Statesville will conduct a series of revival services at Pilot Mountain beginning next Sunday night, November 7, at the Pilot Mountain school building. The meeting is sponsored by the Business Men's Evangelist Club of Pilot Mountain.

"Mack" Long, who is a son of the late Judge E. F. Long of Statesville, is a preacher of outstanding ability. Possibly not in the United States is there a speaker of greater eloquence and power. He has held meetings at Danbury and other points in Stokes county with signal success in bringing the people to a practical realization of the importance of religion in their lives, and under his influence many have been led to Christ.

It is quite certain that the people of Pilot Mountain and surrounding section will hear Mr. Long with pleasure and benefit.

Uncle Wood, 92

Uncle Wood Benton, colored, Danbury's oldest citizen, who will be 92 December 15, was down town today. Uncle Wood says he eats good, feels good, but suffers with a little rheumatiz. He walks spry, and to all appearances is easily good for 8 more years, which will make him 100.

Jack Holder, seaman of the United States Navy, with New York City his home port, is visiting relatives here.

And that's the news from here.

Army Bomber
Passes Over Town
Extremely Low

Late Monday afternoon an army plane, presumably a bomber, passed over Danbury at an altitude much too low for the peaks of the nearby mountains. The plane was headed in a northwesterly direction. It is highly possible that the bomber crashed before it reached a base, although no news has come in to that effect.

A later report is that on the same night a plane nipped treetops between Walnut Cove and Danbury. Officers extended a search throughout the county but as yet have reported no findings.

Real Estate Brings Good Prices In Peter's Creek

A. G. Sisk of Danbury has sold his 70-acre farm two miles east of Lawsonville to Johnny Robertson for $3,500. While this was a good price, $50 per acre, Mr. Sisk hated to part with the place which was good land.

Please Don't Let Your Paper Stop

We want you to keep on getting the Reporter and you can get it at $1.00 a year even up to 3 years beyond December 1, if you pay up by December 1.

After that date the Reporter will be strictly $2.00 a year to everybody in advance.

Pay Before Dec. 1

The increased rate to $2.00 a year for the Danbury Reporter will go into effect December 1. Those who wish to pay up ahead may get the paper at the old rate of $1.00 as much as 3 years from December 1, 1943, if they pay before December 1.

After December 1 the rate will be strictly $2.00 to everybody.

GROUP OF STOKES MEN
TO BE INDUCTED NOV. 5
AT CAMP CROFT, S. C.

Friday, November 5th is the date on which the next group of Stokes men will be inducted. They undergo examination at Camp Croft, South Carolina.

Attend Concert

Attending the performance of Jeanette MacDonald last Thursday night at Winston-Salem were: Mrs. Doris Petree and Jean Carol, Mrs. Robah Smith, Misses Ruth O'Neal, Marjorie, Josephine Pepper, Vance Pepper.

Embarrassing Moment

A breakfast guest at the White House during the Coolidge Administration, was astonished to see the President pour his beverage from cup to saucer.

Not to be outdone, the guest followed suit.

The President added cream and sugar in the saucer, and tasted the mixture with his spoon.

The guest was about to do likewise when Mr. Coolidge set the saucer on the floor for the dog.

Grady Sheppard, 43
Dies At Lawsonville:
Funeral Sunday

Grady Sheppard, aged 43, well-known Stokes county farmer, died early Friday morning at his home at Lawsonville.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Russell Creek Primitive Baptist Church. Rev. J. A. Joyce and Rev. T. G. Williams conducted the services. Burial was in the church graveyard.

Surviving are the widow, the former Miss Curtia Smith; five sisters, Mrs. L. V. Fodrell of Leaksville; Mrs. Hugh Nowlin of Stuart, Va.; Mrs. Pearl Hall, Mrs. Jess Joyce and Miss Kate Sheppard, all of Lawsonville; and five brothers, Robert, Edgar, Giles and Jim Sheppard, all of Owen, Montana and Ruffin Sheppard of Lawsonville.

'COVE PERSONALS

Walnut Cove.—Bill Bailey left Sunday morning for Baltimore on a merchandise buying trip. He will return Wednesday.

Mrs. Mary Meade of Yadkinville spent the week-end here the guest of her sister, Mrs. Hope Bailey.

Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Davis of Greensboro spent the week-end with relatives here.

Miss Julia Pepper, teacher at Asheboro, was at home for the week-end. Tom Smythe, student at Sewanee, Tenn., was her guest for the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. Nicholas Mitchell of Winston-Salem visited relatives here Sunday.

Mrs. Luke Sherard and daughters, Sarah Rosamond and Linda Ruth, of Greensboro, are spending a few days here with Mrs. Sherard's mother Mrs. J. Luther Mitchell.

Mr. and Mrs. John Bray visited their daughter, Carol, at Meredith College in Raleigh Sunday.

Resignation, Transfer, Cause Vacancy In Welfare Office

Two vacancies were recently made in the Stokes Welfare Department here when Miss Ruth O'Neal, case worker, transferred to the Forsyth County Welfare Department, and Mrs. E. M. Taylor resigned her position as statistical clerk.

Miss O'Neal, being here four months, began her work in Forsyth Monday. Mrs. Taylor is resuming her household duties at her home here.

Hill - Smith

Hugh H. Hill, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. S. Hill of Stuart, Va., and Miss Lois Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Smith of Francisco were married October 18 at Danbury by Elder J. Watt Tuttle.
