FRIDAY EVENING, Dec. 2 and 1887.

LOCAL FLASHES.

Have you paid your taxes? Cotton this morning at 94 & 9.80. Mr. Gladstone will visit us in the spring.

Howell and Grady are now as fond of each other as ever.

Atlanta is badly split. Even the nurses are said to be divided.

What this city needs just now is somebody who knows how to make gas.

Trade in all circles are very brisk, and of course our merchants are happy.

There is a slight favor of Christmas in the air and fire-crackers are on the rise.

The war is ended, the chasm is closed, peace and good feeling reigns supreme.

There is always trouble whenever the red flag is run up. It means auction, small-pox or anarchy.

A new magazine called The Age of Woman has been announced. It will never be given away, of course.

Two women are about to fight a prize-fight near Pittsburg. No scratching or pulling of back-hair will be allowed.

When you see a man who has no confidence in himself, my son, pin your faith to him; and get him to endorse your checks.

The trains on the North Carolina road were crowded all this week with people en route to attend the Methodist Conference at Fayetteville.

Helen Blythe will appear in "A Woman's Heart," at the Messenger Opera House on December 26th. Further particulars in our coming issue.

The net result of the abolition of prohibition in Atlanta will be the selling whiskey openly instead of secretly. Prohibition never prohibits.

There was an advance of 1 of a cent on all grades of cotton in this market yesterday. The staple is in good demand and the tone of the market is firm.

President Cleveland announces that his message will be about 14,000 words in length. If "brevity" be the "soul of wit" the message will be a very dull document.

Has Indian summer come again? The impression that it has prevailed in the city on Monday. Now, we are compelled to ask: Has winter really come to stay?

"The idea of duty differs by the whole diameter of existence from the idea of self-interest." True it is, and the first of truths, that because right is right, to follow right were wisdom in the scorn of consequence.

Mr. Will. M. Hinson, has formed a co-partnership with Mr. S. Pittman, and will continue the grocery business, under the new firm of Will. M. Hinson & Co. They have our best wishes for future success and prosperity.

It is our painful duty to record the untimely demise of Mrs. Frank Beaman which occurred in this city, on Wednesday, after a short but painful illness. To the bereaved family, we extend our warmest sympathy and condolence.

The Crescent City Opera Company who were billed to appear last Tuesday, have failed to put in an appearance. Until this hour we are not informed, why they gave us the "go-by." Or have they "gone to that bourne from whence no traveler returneth?"

A new afternoon paper, "The Evening Telegram" will be started in this city on January 7th. It will furnish the news from all over the world, which may happen during the day, to its readers at 6 p. m. Goldsboro is able to support too good dailies.

The mortal remains of Mr. Jas. Holmes were laid to rest last Sunday afternoon, the Rev. J. M. Hillyar officiating. The bereaved family has our heartfelt sympathy.

"Weep not for him who dieth,— For he sleeps and is at rest; And the couch wherein he lieth Is the green earth's quiet breast."

Without a war or any social disturbance, with peace and general prosperity throughout the country, the year 1887 will nevertheless be remembered as a year of horrors crowding swiftly one upon another's heels.

Motto—"If you forgive not men their trespasses neither will your Father forgive your trespasses."

A ducky was arrested in Charlotte the other day for cruelty to animals, because he was carrying an opossum around with its tail in a stick. Our "Blue Coated Guardians of the Peace" ought to take notice of this, for very often we observe cases of that kind in this city. Will our worthy mayor punish such offenders with the full extent of the law?

In another column will be found an interesting communication by "A Member," who describes the "farewell sermon" J. R. Brooks, as delivered in the St. Paul M. E. church last Sunday. Mr. Brooks has made many friends during his short sojourn in our midst, and his sudden departure would be deeply regretted. A able scholar, a liberal thinker, and well liked by every denomination.

Miss Lizzie Smith and Dr. A. O. Daniel, both of this city, were united in the holy bonds of matrimony on Wednesday evening at 6:30, the Rev. J. M. Hillyar officiating. The happy event took place at the home of her mother, Mrs. P. C. Smith, and was witnessed by a host of relatives and friends. The bridal couple took that same evening the "fast mail" bound for Jacksonville, Fla., where they intend to spend their honeymoon. They have our best wishes for their future happiness.

A woman jumps on a chair, holds her petticoats around her legs and yells like a small cyclone at the sight of a mouse. But she runs up three flights of stairs in a burning building to rescue another woman's baby. She's afraid of a book agent in broad daylight, yet pistol in hand follows up a burglar at midnight. She covers when the furniture creaks, and is a lioness if a drunken man assaults the front door. She tells tales out of school, yet is the first to do a kindness to the woman she's talked about. She steals a car ride with a crystal conscience, if the conductor forgets her fare, and then opens her purse to its widest to help a man out of a tight corner. She haggles at the remnant counter for herself, and then tripples on flannels for her washerwoman's sick boy.

GOL. A. B. ANDREWS

It is rumor that Col. A. B. Andrews, who has for years been regarded as one of the leading railroad managers in the country, is to be promoted to the position of first Vice-President of the great Richmond & Danville system. The people of North Carolina will rejoice at the promotion. It will be but a continued recognition of the unbounded confidence the syndicate has in Col. Andrews' sagacity as a railroad man.—Durham Recorder.

Re-Unions.

It is desired to print in The Century a compact record of the various formal meetings which have taken place between the veterans of the Union and Confederate armies; and in order to make the list more complete, the Editor will receive with thanks information of the less widely known occasions of the kind, including place, date, and names of war-organizations participating,—and accompanied, so far as possible, by printed reports of the proceeding. Address "Re-union," THE CENTURY MAGAZINE, 37 East 17th street New York City.

LIFE OF GEORGE WASHINGTON.

By Washington Irving. New York John B. Alden.

All that is required to be said of this well-known American classic is unstinted praise of a new, handsomely bound, and illustrated and exceedingly cheap edition. At a time when numberless compilations from modern sources are being issued upon American subjects, it is well to read once more this brightly written and popular biography, which has always exhibited the gifts of its celebrated author at their best. The touch is always the same, whether the subject be native to his pen and thought or foreign to at least the latter; the brilliancy, the terseness, the sympathy are his in every case, whether the hero be Columbus or Goldsmith or George Washington. The Life is complete in four volumes, and contains excellent portraits and illustrations.

LITERARY REVIEW.

The leading article in the THE ELECTRIC for December is from the pen of Prof. Freeman, the great English Historian, and is from the pages of the CONTEMPORARY REVIEW. It discusses one of the recent educational questions of the hour, and the other problems related thereto. Dr. Fisher's article on "The Effects of Town Life on the Human Body," is of striking interest. The continuation of the story of Zerkah Parha's life as taken from his own lips, will be found as fascinating as a romance. Zerkah will be remembered as one of the most important factors in Gordon's Sudan experience. Another paper, which is a continuation, is Mr. W. H. Mallock's third article on "Wealth and the Working Classes," full of suggestive and pungent expression. Sir Salar Jung, the great Parsee statesman of India, discusses "European Politics from an East India Standpoint," and shows superior acumen and knowledge. W. L. Courtney has a critical study of "Pascal," as an exponent of the tendencies of philosophical doubt, which will present the great Frenchman to many readers in a new light. The pleasant essay in praise of the country, by H. D. Trail, will evoke sympathy and study from thousands of readers who are interested in country life. The paper entitled "The Cause of Character," from GOSWELL, is a suggestive of inadequate examination of a very obscure problem. The attention of the reader will be worthily excited by the article called "The Eruptive Force of Modern Fanaticism," as it touches some of the most pressing and terrible problems of the age. "The women of Chivalry," by Mrs. E. Lynn Linton, is a rare and graceful study. "The Experiences of an English Engineer on the Congo," will be found attractive by all those who have been drawn to African Exploration and the career of Stanley, especially in his last great enterprise. The shorter papers are good. There is a long and striking ballad poem, called "The Hero King," and some clever if melancholy humor by a Japanese poet, published under the head of "Wordsworth and Japan."

Published by E. R. PELTON, 25 Bond Street, New York. Terms, $5 per year; single numbers, 45 cents; trial subscription for 3 months $1. ELECTRIC and any #4 Magazine, $3.

The "Magazine of Western History" for November is a pictorial and literary feature is not behind former issues in timeliness and general interest. The number before us, in its seventh volume, is full of rich and rare reading matter. Typographically speaking, it is a marvel of beauty, and as far as historical matter, concerns, it has no rival. Those who fail to read this very interesting magazine, are missing an amusing and profitable monthly at 145 St. Clair Street, Cleveland, O.

One of the most unique of monthlies that reaches us is that popular periodical, OUR LITTLE ONES. The December number just at hand contains an amusing table of contents for the little ones. Bright poems with superb illustrations are the leading features of this favorite periodical which has become a visitor in thousands of homes throughout the land. It contains better matter and of more interest to children than any other periodical of its kind published. The Russell Publishing Co., 36 Bromfield St., Boston, Mass.

The November number of EDUCATION, has an interesting and varied table of contents. The periodical is edited with literary taste, and has an admirable corps of contributors. Though the field is old, yet the conception of its culture is new and unique; the ability that makes its management commend itself to scholars, educators and all persons of literary taste or turn. Such a publication is surely needed throughout the land, and we are glad to believe that it is a complete success. Published monthly by William A. Morory, 59 Bromfield street, Boston, Mass.

We do not know of any publication which so nearly meets the wants and suits the tastes of all classes of readers as the December number of DONAHOE'S MAGAZINE. The contents, without exception are interesting and instructive—there is much good thought, much food for reflection, much that cannot fail to arrest the attention of every lover of a cultured home. Every page is bright, entertaining and helpful. It richly deserves Southern patronage. T. B. Noonan & Co., Publishers, Boston, Mass.

HIS CLOSING SERMON.

DR. JOHN R. BROOKS BIDS HIS CONGREGATION FAREWELL—A NOBLE TRIBUTE.

EDITOR HEADLIGHT:

The Rev. Dr. John R. Brooks, pastor St. Paul Methodist E. Church, in this city, preached his "Farewell Sermon" last Sunday morning, for the present Conference year, from the text found in 2nd Kings, XVIII, chap. 4th V. "He reigned the high places, and broke the images and cut down the groves and broke in pieces the brazen serpent that Moses had made; for unto those the children of Israel did burn incense to it; and he called Nehushtan," this was done by Mezi-kiah in the early part of his good reign which reigned lasted 29 years, with a view of destroying idol-worship among the Israelites and bringing them back to the worship of the true God—the God of their Fathers, who had brought them out of the land of bondage, Egypt, and had led them for 40 years through the wilderness into the promised land—the land of Canaan. Dr. Brooks preached an eloquent and thoughtful sermon from this text, bringing it down practically to idol-worship as it exists in this age of the church among modern christians of every denomination.

The Rev. Dr. Brooks thus ended his conference year with his people whom he has served with ability and christian zeal through the present Conference year, and this writer is of the opinion that his ministerial labors among us has been acceptable to his congregation, and many would be glad to have been returned to this charge for another year. Many of us regard Rev. Dr. Brooks as one of the ablest ministers in the N. C. Conference at the present time. All of the sermons preached by him during the year, have shown ability, of a high order, and thorough preparation before being proclaimed from the sacred desk, and above all, all of us regard Dr. Brooks as an able christian minister and a good man.

A MEMBER. Goldsboro, Nov. 30.

EMMA LAZARUS.

Another literary star has been called from this mundane sphere in the person of the late Emma Lazarus who departed her life on Saturday last the 19th, inst., at New York. Miss Lazarus has been an ardent Jewess, a prolific writer and liberal, withal. Owing to a press of matter in our to-day's issue we are unable to publish a more extended article on her life and services. MAY SEE BEST IN FRACE.

SMELL IN A DRUG STORE. What smells most in a drug store? Your nose. But when you have a cold, nothing Cures Coughs and Colds by taking Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

Why is the sun like people of fashion? It turns night into day—the time people catch cold, which, if not attended to in time, will induce consumption. Take in time Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

THE WEALTH OF A HOME. Is dependent upon the happiness therein. If sickness is there, what a shadow falls. Parents, you should never neglect a slight cough or cold, but give in time Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve. WHEN you are constipated, with loss of appetite, headache, take Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pellets. They are pleasant to take and will cure you. 25 cents a vial.

For sick headache, female troubles, neuralgic pains in the head take Dr. J. H. McLean's Little Liver and Kidney Pellets. 25 cents a vial.

Old people suffer much from disorders of the urinary organs, and are always gratified at the wonderful effects of Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm in banishing their troubles. $1.00 per bottle.

Give Them a Chance. That is to say, your lungs. Also all your breathing machinery. Very wonderful machinery it is. Not only the larger air-passages, but the thousands of little tubes and cavities leading from them.

When these are clogged and clogged with matter which ought not to be there, your lungs cannot do their work. And what they do they cannot do well.

Call it cold, cough, croup, pneumonia, catarrh, consumption or any of the family of throat and nose and head lung obstructions, all are bad. All ought to be got rid of. There is just one sure way to get rid of them. That is to take Roschee's German Syrup, which any druggist will sell you at 75 cents a bottle. Even if everything else has failed you may depend upon this for certain.

If your kidneys are inactive, you will feel and look wretched, even in the most cheerful society, and melancholy on the jolliest occasions. Dr. J. H. McLean's Liver and Kidney Balm, will set you right again! $1.00 per bottle. Old ALABAMA.

W. C. Lourd, Leesburg, Ala., writes: My little babe, ten months old, was almost dying from teething, gave it Dr. Biggers' Huckleberry Cordial. The happiest result followed. Every house should have it.

BREAKING A WINDOW. If a tree were to break a window, what might the window say? "Framedness (trans-ud-us), Taylor's Cherokee Remedy of Sweet Gum and Mullein has a tremendous sale, for it meets all forms of coughs, colds and lung troubles.

Brace Up. You are feeling depressed, your appetite is poor you are bothered with headache, you are flighty, nervous and generally out of sorts, and want to brace up. Brace up, but not with stimulants, spring medicines, or bitters which have for their basis very cheap bad whiskey, and which stimulate you for an hour, and then leave you in a worse condition than before. What you need is an alternative that will regulate your blood, start healthy action, on the Liver and Kidneys, restore your vitality, and give renewed health and strength. Such a medicine you will find in Electric Bitters and only 50 cents a bottle at any drug store.

FERNANDINA, NASSAU CO., FLA. March 29 1880.—I have used Dr. Simmons Liver Regulator and always found it to do what is claimed for it. The last bottle and two packages did me no good and were worse than nothing. I see it is not put up by J. H. Zeilin & Co., and not genuine, and a waste of money to buy it. I would be glad to get the pure and genuine. Send me some from honest hands (write red Z and Zeilin & Co.'s signature on wrapper) The Scituous stuff sold will injure some one badly. Your Ob's Serv't BENJ. T. RICH.

Their Business Booming. Probably no one thing has caused such a general revival of trade at any Drug Store as their giving away to their customers of so many free trial bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption. Their trade is simply enormous in this very valuable article from the fact that it always cures and never disappoints. Coughs, Colds, Asthma, Bronchitis, Croup, and all throat and lung diseases quickly cured. You can test it before buying, by getting a trial bottle free, large size $1. Every bottle warranted.

In Brief, and To The Point

Dyspepsia is dreadful. Disordered liver is misery. Indigestion is a foe to good nature.

The human digestive apparatus is one of the most complicated and wonderful things in existence. It is easily put out of order.

Greasy food, tough food, sleppy food bad cookery, mental worry, late hours, irregular habits, and many others other things which ought not to be, have made the American people a nation of dyspeptics.

Remember—No happiness without health. But Green's August Flower brings health and happiness to the dyspeptic. Ask your druggist for a bottle. 75c
