WEDNESDAY MORNING, Oct. 17, 1888.

LOCAL FLASHES.

The hunting season opened on Monday.

Register! If not to-day, then to-morrow.

The great evangelist did not preach last Saturday, on account of needed rest.

Another "late arrival" at the residence of Mr. A. Hill, in this city. They say it is a girl.

A good many of our business men leave their places of business and attend the morning services of Mr. Pearson.

There were quite a large number of country people in the city on Saturday, and trade with our merchants was very brisk.

Quite a number of our citizens left on the Raleigh special yesterday morning, and returned last night well pleased with everything they saw at the State Fair.

Mr. W. Johnston, representative of a Kentucky gas company is in the city with a view of giving us gas, providing he can come to terms with our city fathers.

If reports are true several of our friends in this vicinity will utter responses before Hymen's altar ere many more moons wax and wane. May their lives ever be happy.

The State Fair opened at Raleigh yesterday and will be continued until Friday evening. The round-trip is only $1.50, including admittance in the Fair grounds.

The pulpit at the Missionary Baptist Church was occupied last Sunday morning by Rev. N. B. Cobb, who preached a powerful sermon before a large and devout congregation.

Court which commenced here on Monday will conclude its labor this noon. Judge Avery and Solicitor Argo will depart for their respective homes this evening.

Last Saturday while at Princeton we interviewed several republicans and from their conversation we are able to state that their party in Johnston have abandoned all hopes of Dockery's election. Good!

We again ask those who are due us for THE HEADLIGHT to pay up. The amount from each one is small, but the aggregate would be a big thing to us. We need the money and you ought to pay it.

Democrats! go earnestly to work for your county ticket—so much as it has been deemed best to put out. You have good honest men in the field, and such as every white man can support conscientiously.

A special train for the Raleigh Fair will leave the city this morning and also to-morrow at 8:45 o'clock. The Newbern train will arrive here at 8 o'clock in the morning and will leave the city at 7:40 p. m.

The registration books are now open. Go at once and have your name recorded, if you want to vote at the coming election. A new registration has been ordered, and you must register again no matter how long you have been voting heretofore.

There is no use talking, Goldsboro is going right along on the road of prosperity. New comers are continually being added to our population and new store houses and residences are being built. Our young city is increasing its territory and population at a very satisfactory rate.

We are requested to announce that Mr. B. R. Edgerton, of Nahunta, will deliver an address in the Nahunta Academy building next Friday night at 7:30 o'clock. His subject will be, "Higher Education of Woman," and we predict a great treat for those who will attend.

Last Saturday we heard the complaints of several farmers that a great many tramps are stalking around the country, and in some instances pressing their way into private houses and frightening helpless women and children. Every one of them should be arrested and made to give an account of their conduct.

The dwelling of Mr. W. H. Har, near this city, was destroyed by fire last Friday morning. It is supposed that the fire originated from a defective chimney. There was no insurance on the building, which was valued at about $500.

A special train came up from Newbern yesterday evening, bringing a good many persons who were desirous to attend the Pearson meeting. Another special will arrive here on Friday at 5:40 p. m., and will leave here at the close of the meeting.

The white man Ingram whose head was split open with a hatchet by his father-in-law, named Bevins, a few weeks ago died from the effects of the wound last Friday. The latter has taken to the woods and at this writing has not been apprehended.

There is no doubt that Mr. Pearson is making a deep impression upon our people, if we should judge from the almost empty houses which greeted the Cora Van Tassel Comedy company during the past week. Last Friday night there were about 25 converts, and many more are bound to follow.

On Saturday morning, about nine miles from this city, a house belonging to a colored man by the name of Calum Sheard caught fire and burned to the ground before anyone could extinguish the flames. We learn that the parents were picking cotton that morning and left two children at home, who perished in the flames.

The mortal remains of Mr. Rufus Edmundson, who departed this life on Friday night in the 71st year of his age, were laid to rest Sunday morning at Willow Dale cemetery. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. J. C. McMullen, at the residence of his nephew Mr. Thos. Edmundson, in this city. Our heartfelt sympathy is extended to the afflicted.

Last Thursday night at about 7:30 o'clock, while the "Shoofly" train was moving into the depot at Fremont, a white man named Stephen Davis was sitting on the track in an intoxicated condition. Before the engineer could see him he was under the wheels, terribly mangled, and died almost instantly. The unfortunate lived near Fremont and leaves a wife and several small children.

Madame Janauscheck will occupy the boards of the Messenger Opera House in this city next Monday night. This great artiste has long held the title of "Queen of Tragedy," and is the last great representative of a dramatic school that produced a Forrest, a Mac Ready, a Cushman, a Rachel and a Ristor. No lover of the drama should miss seeing this great actress. When in this city, some two or three seasons ago, Madame Janauscheck was greeted by a packed house, and we have no doubt that she will be warmly received again.

Succeeding.

[Smithfield Herald.]

Recently the Goldsboro Headlight has enlarged to an eight-page, forty-eight column paper, and shows marked improvements every way. A. Roscow, Esq., the urbane and energetic editor, deserves all the success possible, and gives his patrons a splendid paper. Our is extended in congratulation and wishes for future prosperity, Brother Roscow.

Bro. Blount Rejoices.

[Wilson Mirror.]

The Goldsboro Headlight, under the very energetic management of that indefatigable worker, A. Roscow, has been enlarged to an eight page paper, and we rejoice at this evidence of its growing prosperity.

The Fair.

The fifth annual Fair of the Eastern Carolina Fair and Stock Association opened last Wednesday noon with about 500 people present. The Fair was opened in a short and appropriate speech by Chas. B. Aycock, Esq. Everything went merry as a "marriage bell" that day, but, alas! the following day it poured, and everybody's hope and expectation was blighted. The rain kept many hundreds of visitors from attending, and of course, the attendance on the second day was small. The attendance at the last day was somewhat better, but not enough to make up the deficiency of the former day. The exhibits in in all its departments, were full, and in some of them there have been more entries than at any of the preceding four Fairs. Right nobly have our ladies executed the work which they so willingly assumed in behalf of our Fair, and the results of their efforts attracted the attention of all lovers of the artistic and beautiful, and call forth expressions of praise for those who have labored so diligently and so successfully to make these departments a credit to our city and county. We will not attempt to particularize in these departments, but will simply give an outline of what could be seen.

In the art department we observed a fine display of oil painting, crayon, water colors, wash painting on linen, Kensington painting, pencil and charcoal drawing—embracing portraits, landscapes, figures, object drawing, birds and flowers. In this department Miss Laura Peterson, daughter of our Mayor, won the laurels, for her beautiful oil painting, the landscape especially, was admired by all lovers of this fine art. Miss Fancham, teacher of art at Kinsey School, Lagrange, had a very creditable display of Crayon and Oil, while Miss Caddie Fulgham exhibited a beautiful likeness in crayon of Miss Clara Jones.

In the fancy department could be seen a large display of embroidery, crocheting and various other styles of needle work, crazy quilts, hand made shirts, bible cover, etc., etc. In this department we find a few worthy of mention: A pure lace bed-spread by Mrs. I. Fuchler; a handsome piece of spanish guipure lace, hand-made by Mrs. A. Korb; a beautiful corded chair tidy made by Mr. Hyman Schwerner, of Reading, Pa., and exhibited by Mrs. Joseph Edwards, of this city.

In the culinary department there were preserves, jellies, sweet pickles, butter, cake, bread—in fact everything to do full justice to the "inner man."

The exhibits of our business men and manufacturers were few, however, and such lack of interest was a subject of remark by many.

H. Weil & Bro. displayed a handsome lot of Overcoats, Rugs, and Zeigler's Shoes.

The Goldsboro Furniture Manufacturing Co., exhibited specimens of fine parlor and bedroom furniture, of their own make.

H. Miller & Co., made a very attractive exhibit of the very popular Ivers & Pond pianos, and had also the light running "Domestic" sewing machine there, with Mr. W. W. Prince as operator.

I. S. D. Sauls made a unique and handsome exhibit with his varied stock of fancy and family groceries.

Smith & Yelverton had on exhibition several of the Acorn ventilated Oven stoves, which were pronounced by many of our housewives, "the best among the best."

A. A. Miller, photographer, displayed an attractive collection of the fine work he does in his art gallery.

Fuchler & Kern had on exhibition a beautiful and highly ornamental bedroom set, that was generally admired.

The Enterprise Lumber Co., showed creditable specimens of their turned work, etc.

IN AGRICULTURAL HALL,

we noticed a fine display of buggies. Mr. R. E. Jones exhibited some very handsome buggies and road carts of his own manufacture, and J. W. Lamb & Co., showed some very handsome phaetons.

The farm products were very limited which can only be accounted for that it is too early in the season for the farmers to make an exhibit, and as the September rains delayed the picking of cotton, they have really not had time to think of an exhibit and prepare to make a proper display. The few exhibits in this department were very fine.

The Enterprise Cornet Band furnished some very fine music and those who have had the good fortune to attend enjoyed themselves to their hearts content.

His Business Booming.

Most everybody who passes the establishment of Asher E. Edwards is of the same opinion that "his business is booming." The rushes for the past three days have been enormous, and everybody, be it a lady or gentleman, is well pleased with the bargains they secured in their purchases made of that popular house. A visit to his store will convince the most fastidious buyer that his shelves are loaded with all the novelties to complete a lady's or gentleman's costume, and that the goods are slaughtered to almost nothing. The secret of this we have just learned. Mr. Edwards spent in the Northern markets for over six weeks, watching and securing all the bargains he only possibly could, and furthermore paying the cash down for everything, thereby saving the profits of commission merchants and jobbers.

A Special Invitation.

This week will be a joyous one for bargain seekers. Every department in my mammoth store is filled with grand goods at lowest prices. No matter where you look, you'll find that my goods were never so good, the styles never so perfect, the prices never so low. I throw down the gauntlet and challenge the competition of the world. I shall make prices so low this week, that both friends and enemies will be forced to buy from me. For a small sum of cash you can buy a whole outfit of new goods, which I have bought for cash and shall sell for the cash. I was in the Northern markets four weeks looking to the interest of my patrons. I have bought my goods from the manufacturers, thereby saving commission-houses profits for those who buy from me. Be sure to call and be convinced.

THE GREAT SOUTHERN

PRIZE TURNIP

Is a new and distinct variety: it was hybridized by the large Norfolk Globe, and the Seven Top, a salad turnip, and combines the valuable qualities of both. After several years of thorough cultivation it has attained excellencies, superior, it is claimed, to any turnip-producing more salad than the Seven Top and a larger and firmer root than the Norfolk Globe. Combining the qualities of root and salad makes it the most valuable variety for stock, for the table, and for general marketing, and is beyond all question in all respects, the best turnip to be had for this section.

The following points of excellence are confidentially claimed for it:

- It has no equal for root or salad. It stands extreme heat and cold. It is superior to the Northern turnip. They do not pith or become spongy as other turnips. It produces salad two weeks earlier than any other turnip. Insects do not injure this as they do other varieties. It produces more salad than any other turnip. It produces a larger root than any other turnip. It is the best turnip for winter use in the market. For general farm market purposes it has no equal in the South.

ALL THIS

and more is claimed for this turnip by parties who are in a position to know its worth, but the thing for you to do is to test it yourself. I will give you an

to do so by selling you GENUINE FRESH SEED.

My stock of seed is Limited and to all who wish to give this turnip a trial I would say call early or you may be too late.

Remember

from good seed and proper culture you have a right to expect good crops, but from poor seed
