stealthily the black-robed angel In the shadow hovered nigh. And a little soul has vanished To its home beyond the sky. Now, the tender had, transplanted.

O'er the little vacant chair. In the circle round the hearthstone.
There's a gap that can't be filled,
And we miss the lisping sweetness
Of the valce forever stilled.
Now the little form lies tranquit,
And the cheeks are waxen fair,
And we turn away in anguish

And we turn away in auguish From the little vacant chair. Brush away the suntry ringlets From the cold and silent brow Close the eyes once full of sunshina All their light is faded now. Though the bady will be safer. In the bright home "over there," Still "its hard to bee our darling.

Hard to see the vacant chair Aching hearts are full of sadness And our eyes with tears are dim. But we know a loving Savior Called the little one to Him. In Thine arms, O Heavenly Father, Closely fold our treasure rare.

Make us stronger, purer, better, Through that little vacant chair. MAR M. WIERMAN.
