THE WORLD'S TRENDS IN 1903

A Short but Complete Story of the Year Told Graphically So as to Show the Meaning and Interrelation of Events and Classified for Convenient Reference

LIFE'S infinite loom spins ceaselessly by the vast fabric of civilization, of which the least of us human creatures is a factor. In and under and over and through this great shuttle of history, while we perform the psychological marvel of being at once actor and spectator by pausing on the threshold of the new year to take a quick, sweeping glance backward at the new strands which the Great Spinner has added to the sum total of world experience since a year ago.

A Look at the Log Of Our Ship of State

The amazing thing is the figure we have cut in world politics. Few and far between are the nations that have not felt the pressure of American diplomacy backed by American guns and by American money. There was but one Venezuela blockaded by three great European creditors. A word from Washington and Minister Bowen was able to get the whole matter adjusted by arbitration. The Russian bear barred the Manchurian gateway to China until an American diplomat led way to an open door. Our voice of protest against persecution of Jews in Russia was heard. The prestige of the United States in the Mediterranean was enhanced by the presence of ships at Beirut and the sending of Skirmish to China until an American diplomat led way to an open door.

STRIDES TAKEN TOWARD CHURCH UNITY

The mills of God, which grind slow but exceeding fine, have brought into use lenses of vision powerful enough to conceive the ultimate goal of universal religious unity for the human race. The progress made toward a federation of Congregationalists, Methodists, Protestants and United Brethren, while the several varieties of Presbyterians have cleared the ground for one communion. In all this the foremost of American men have been necessarily dominant, with an insistence on practical mission work at home and abroad and a greater participation in the social and political problems of the day as the true remedies for the waning power of the church.

SCHOOLS BECOMING MORE AND MORE PRACTICAL

One word epitomizes the year's educational effort and aspiration - practicality. This is true of Germany, France, England and especially of the United States. It applies from primary grade to graduate university work. The most impressive instance in our own country was the $3,000,000 school of professional journalism instituted at Columbia university by the gift of Joseph Pulitzer, editor of the New York World.

THE NEAR EAST HAS BEEN THE PLAGUE SPOT OF THE YEAR

It has been the plague spot of the year, a chamber of horrors that hangs heavy on the conscience of Europe and of all Christendom. Whatever the technical merits of the Macedonian controversy, the revolt of the Christian inhabitants was checked with such a horde of murderous Turkish fiends as to cause even currents of Russian and Austrian diplomatic hasten to stay the sultan's hand. Unwillingly he has at last accepted virtual Russo-Austrian sovereignty of his rebellious vassals. The disorder at Beirut and the reported killing of the American consul, Magelsen, brought Spanish and Portuguese encounters - serious revolutionary outbreaks and labor disturbances. Villader succeeded Silveira as Spanish premier. LATIN AMERICA'S story, omitting the inconsequential rebellions, has been four important chapters. A Venezuela went into international bankruptcy by defying the embargo-backed collectors of three European creditor nations - Germany, England and Italy. These pounced down on Castro and blockaded his rocky coast until he got the American minister, Bowen, to help him fix up the special arbitration tribunal to get the preferential tariff decision decided at The Hague court. Result was scaling down of claims from $22,000,000 to $2,000,000, while Castro captured Bolivar and crushed the rebellion. A great strike compromised their dispute over the rubber forests of Acre by giving title to the former on condition of the latter's having outlet to Atlantic by river and rail.

ITALY AND GREECE experienced no decisive political changes other than the growth of socialism among laboring classes. What does the world know that it did not know in 1902? The year was yet young when the realm of science was astounded and the whole civilized world interested by the achievement of a woman, Mme. Curie, working in association with her husband, Professor Curie, in France. It is still too soon to attempt any final estimate of a large scientific value of the new element, radium, thus identified. The greatest scientists are yet perplexed by its apparent contradictions and miraculous powers. To the layman it is known as a substance separated chemically in very small quantities by final selection of a large amount of uranium, which is the waste product of the oxide works in Austria. Its most striking property, for which it was named, is the capacity to radiate particles of it.
