A RACE CONFLICT.

CINCINNATI, July 12.—A Commercial-Gazette Paducab, Kv., special says: Snortly after 9 o'clock last evening, while the city council was in session the chief of police threw a bomb in their midst by announcing that a report had just reached him that two or three hundred negroes, armed with Winchester rifles had congregated in the vicinity of the jail prepared for attack. The council at once adjourned attack. The council at once adjourned. The mayor at once sent a dispatch to he Governor asking him to order out Company C of the State Guard located here. At 11:30 o'clock the marshal and mayor returned to the jail from among the squads of negroes, who, when the mayor and marshal promised that no violence should be done the prisoner in jail, promised to disperse and began to do so. The marshal addressed the crowd of white people and told them to go to their homes as the negroes were dispersing and no violence need now be feared. This the people began to do and in a few minutes the crowd was recitizens.

At exactly 12 o'clock a band of seventy-five negroes suddenly appeared marching down Sixth street and opened fire upon the men collected at the jail. At the first fire Elmer Edwards, a young man of 20 years of age, fell shot through the abdomen. He is dying. He was a member of the militia company and a harness maker by trade. The fire was returned by the militia and armed citituous retreat. The militia also retreated in disorder back to the courthouse where they kept up the firing until the negroes had disappeared are now filled with militia and armed citizens. HOMESTEAD, July 12.-Everybody expected the troops would invade the expected the troops would invade the city by daybreak, but 7 o'clock, 8 o'clock, and 9 o'clock passed without any news from them. At a few minutes past 9 o'clock the cry suddenly went up "the troops are coming." "The troops are coming," and instantly the greatest excitement prevailed. The militia came in by rail from above the town and at once surroudded the Carnegie mills. They were received with standers as the train rolled in and most respectful consideration was accorded them in every respect. The first detachment of troops sumbered of Gen. Snowden. They comprised the Second and Third brigades, First Portions of the Fifth, Tenth and Fifteenth regiments are on the field and com-panies A, C, E and H, of the Eighteenth regiment are also recognized among the blue coats. The troops came from the point of rendezvous two miles this side of Greensburg, and it is stated that the First Brigade is now at Mount Gretna, where it will remain until further orders.

Immediately on the arrival of the trains there was great bustle and excitement, but the militia themselves preserved perfect order and responded silently and promptly to every order of their superiors. Rapidly descending from the train the troops formed in column at the switch yards just beyond Munhalls station. One company was at once detached on picket duty and the line immediately thrown out among the mill yards. Then the main boly of troops marched down the streets headed by a regiment band and along what is known as "Scab hill." This is an eminence overlooking the mills and the scene of last week's hostilities, and mostly women. Precautions Against Cholers.

(Baltimore Sun) NEW YORK, July 11.-While the health officials of this city say they are not much alarmed as to the probability of cholera coming here from European countries, yet they do not intend being taken by surprise, as they were at the time of the typhus cutbreak.

Orders have been lately issued to examine carefully the death certificates, and to investigate carefully all deaths caused by cholera morbus. As the germs can only be introduced into the system through the mouth, the worst danger is that the germs might get into the Croton water supply. Every precaution will be taken to prevent such a calamity.

Senator Allison, seeing that the bill was going to lead to debate, objected sheds and tents, but provisions and to its consideration and called up the clothing are needed and relief should Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, the Sundry Civil Appropriation bill, the pending question being Senator Quay's take those forms. The insurance agents held a meeting to-day. Their reports showed that the losses covered by in-Sunday. The debate was temporarily interrupted to allow the presentation of the conference report on the District of Columbia bill and it was agreed to. At 2 o'clock the Silk Culture bill came up as unfinished business.

Senator Washburn moved that the Anti-Option bill should take the place of the Silk Culture bill as unfinished business. The vote was taken and reanti-Option bill was taken up and become unfinished business, to come up each day at 2 o'clock. It was, however, immediately laid aside on motion of Senator Allison and consideration was proceed with. Senator Quay's Sunday closing amendment was discussed until after 5 lunatic asylum to day, their minds hav-ing been unbalanced owing to their given to have the debate to-morrow on the exposition section under the five minute rule. Several amendments to the exposition section were preserted and ordered printed. Among them was one by Senator Daniel prohibiting the payment of dividends on stock before repayment of the government

Senator Pettigrew, chairman of the Quadro Centennial committee, sent to the clerks desk and had read some half a dozen telegrams received by him to-day urging persistence in the Sunday observance amendments and Senator Quay also sent up a score or more which he had received. The uniformity of expressions in them caused much laughter as one after the other was read. They all urged Sena-tor Quay to "hold the fort," to "stand firm" and "to make no compromise." sence of any special demand. The adjournment of the Western Traffic assobusiness character were offered to other portions of the bill and were agreed to. The Senate then at 5:40 o'clock adjourned.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES On motion of Mr. Catchings, from the Committee on Rules, a resolution was adopted setting apart to-day for consideration of bills called up by the Committee on Election of President, Vice President, and members of Con-

On motion of Mr. Stout, the Senate hill passed granting to the Mexican Gulf, Pacific and Puget Sound railroad the right of way through the public lands in Florida, Alabama, Mississippi and Tennessee.

Mr. Dockery submitted a conference report on the District of Columbia Appropriation bill. The report a's agreed to appropriates $90,000 to mr et the expenses of the Grand Army of by popular vote.

Mr. Tucker, of Va., made a very sole speech upon a legal line in favor of the bill. He was listened to with the greatest attention and at the conclu sion of his speech received warm con gratulations upon his maiden effort. He is forcible in his delivery and grace-
