

DAILY CROSS WORD PUZZLE

ACROSS

- 1-Mother church of a diocese
2-Rabbit
9-Employ
10-Law term
11-A Vedic deity
14-Particle
16-The odic force of electricity
17-Those who condemn
20-Dancer's
21-Cymbals
26-Smell
27-A British noble
28-Faucet
30-Suffix to form verbal nouns
31-Flat table-land
32-Tumult
34-Small alpine flower

DOWN

- 1-Inclined watercourse
2-Man's name
3-Street cars
4-Goddess of death
5-Burmese measure of weight
6-That which rises
7-Seed coverings
8-Mother of Apollo
11-Confederate
13-Intellectually
15-A framework of bars
18-Lowest note

THIMBLE THEATRE Starring POPEYE

A Perfect Thirty-Six

By E. C. Segar

BIG SISTER

By LES FORGRAVE

BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

WRITTEN FOR CENTRAL PRESS

By Shepard Barclay 'The Authority on Authorities'

WHAT A DOUBLE MEANS

WHEN A PLAYER has made an informative double of one major suit, his partner should remember that this almost certainly guarantees a goodly holding in the other major.

The declarer then had no difficulty in making 4-hearts, as the diamond Q was successfully finessed and the trumps in dummy enabled the setting up of the diamond suit.

One East player overtook his partner's club K with the A and returned a trump, but this maneuver did not prevent South from fulfilling his contract.

The East player who defeated the contract overtook his partner's club K with the Ace, but switched to the spade J, figuring that his partner's double undoubtedly indicated strength in that suit. By so doing, he immediately set the contract.

Here South opened the bidding with 1-Heart, West doubled, North bid 3-Hearts, East passed and South went to 4-Hearts.

The club K was the opening lead at every table in the duplicate tournament where this deal came up. In some instances this was allowed to hold and those West players either continued with another heart or switched to a trump.

THE OLD HOME TOWN

Registered U. S. Patent Office By STANLEY

AFTER XENOPHON MEEKS WALKED NINETEEN BATTERS IN THE LAST GAME THE MANAGER DECIDED TO SHIFT THE LINE-UP

SCOTT'S SCRAP BOOK

By R. J. SCOTT

Vaccine Treatment For Hay Fever Prevention

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D. OF THE various methods of getting ready for the hay fever season which begins in about six weeks, the two methods recommended in the two previous articles are probably most likely to succeed—one is a prolonged vacation, and the other is the use of air filters in the room in which the patient sleeps and the room in which he works.

In this country the fall hay fever is caused by some form of ragweed in about 90 per cent of cases, although many people are sensitive to several kinds of plants. It has been found also that if very high dilutions of pollen are prepared and injected hypodermically, they act like an immunizing agent and desensitize the membranes involved.

ETTA KETT

By PAUL ROBINSON

THE GUMPS—A METHOD IN HER MADNESS

Copyright, 1937, by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Syndicate, Inc.