MASS MEETING CALLED TO CONSIDER GAS PLANT

Will Meet in Chamber of Commerce Rooms, Monday, February 16, at 8 O'clock, P. M.

Prospects are bright for the locating of a gas plant in Hickory. W. W. Hess, president of the Pennsylvania Gas Co., will be in Hickory Monday, February 16, and Secretary Joy of the Chamber of Commerce has issued the following call for a mass meeting of the citizens on that date:

"The citizens of Hickory and the suburban towns are requested to attend a meeting in the Chamber of Commerce rooms on Monday evening, February 16, at 8 p. m. We say suburban towns as well as Hickory, inasmuch as it is a part of the proposed plan to extend the system to our neighboring municipalities.

"W. W. Hess, president of the Pennsylvania Gas Co., visited our city some time ago, and was impressed with the possibilities of introducing a gas plant here. We went over the proposition with him at length, and thought it a matter of such importance that we decided to call a mass meeting to consider it.

"In answer to a telegram, Mr. Hess informs us that he will be here Monday, February 16, and we have called this meeting so that he can be present and tell of the benefits such a plant would be to our city.

"Don't forget the time and place—Monday evening, February 16 at 8 o'clock, in Chamber of Commerce rooms."

Grand Jury's report.

The grand jury made their report Wednesday evening. They reported the County Home in good conditions and the inmates satisfied. They recommended that the County Jail cells be painted—also the building inside and out.

The changing was reported to be in good conditions and the prisoners said that they were treated well and had plenty to eat.

The county offices were visited. The report insists that the books in the register's offices be re-indexed and be kept in a modern system.

The court house was recommended to be painted and repaired. Some plan to make the court house more sanitary and prevent careless spitting on the floor.

It was recommended that the bridges on the roads be in better repair and the roads be kept in better condition for public travel.—Catawba County News.

Death of Miss Raymo.

The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Raymo of Wayne, Mich. will be saddened to learn of the death of Miss Gladys Raymo who passed away quietly and peacefully, Monday morning January 26. She had been able to get around in the house and out in her wheel chair until within a day or two. Sunday was her twenty fourth birthday. Her cheerfulness and politeness was a wonder. This bravery with her lovely characters, brought her the abiding affection of many friends here who sympathize deeply with the family in this affliction.

Lutheran Laymen's Convention.

Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, of this city, will be represented at the Lutheran Laymen's Convention at Columbia, S. C., February 17-19, by Rev. J. H. Wannemacher, Messrs. B. F. Campbell, L. D. Russell, J. A. Moretz, P. C. Setzer and possibly others.

This will be one of the greatest gatherings of laymen ever held in the Southern States. Thirty-one speakers have been secured, and each one of these shines as a brilliant star in the galaxy of specialists.

The program prospectus is unique in its make up. The subjects selected are of intense interest to the laymen of the church. Many of the speakers are well known throughout America and some of them have a world-wide reputation.

The laymen of the Lutheran Church in and around Hickory cannot do any better right now than avail themselves of this opportunity.

McKinley Sigmon Acquitted.

McKinley Sigmon, who was tried in Newton court last week on the charge of killing Terry Shell in this city New Year's eve, was acquitted by the jury. No direct evidence showing that he was the person who fired the fatal shot was introduced and he was given the benefit of the doubt.

Southern Power Company's Lookout Railroad Begun.

Statesville, February, 9.—The Brooks-Parker Construction Company, which has the contract to construct the Southern Power Company's railroad from Steel's siding on the Catawba River, 10 miles west of Statesville, to the site of the big power plant to be erected at Lookout Shoals, five miles further up the river, began the work of grading the roadbed today.

Accompanying the equipment were 40 colored laborers brought from South Carolina, who begun the work of constructing camping quarters immediately after the arrival in the river bottoms where the work is to begin. A number of additional laborers passed through Statesville today going to the camp, and others will be added until a very large force is at work. The company will use only horse-drawn machinery in grading the road, the work not being sufficiently heavy to justify the use of steam shovels and other heavy machinery.

Mr. L. B. Sloop, the Southern Power Company's right-of-way man who has been making headquarters in Statesville for several months, will continue to spend much time here and at the river and will have a general oversight of the operations at the river. While little work on the big dam and power plant will be done until the railroad is finished, the site will probably be immediately cleared off, preparatory to the building operation.

Crop Improvement Committee Makes Financial Statement.

January 1, 1913 the sum of $1000 was received from the National Crop Improvement Committee of Chicago to help pay the cost of hiring a farm demonstrator for Catawba County. Mr. H. K. Foster, a man thoroughly acquainted with farm work under all conditions, and with the best way of marketing crops, was chosen to carry on this work in Catawba county.

At the regular monthly meeting of County Commissioners February 2, Mr. Foster was re-elected to carry on this work another year.

Messrs. H. P. Lutz, J. W. Robinson and W. J. Shuford, who constitute the Crop Improvement Committee for this county, have rendered the following statement of the expenditures for the past year, which shows that they have expended a little over half of the $1000 in demonstration work and have $417.27 in the treasury to be used in carrying on this year's work.

CANT DENY IT

If This Had Happened Elsewhere Instead of Hickory You Might Doubt It.

The average man is a doubter. This is not surprising—the public have been humbugged so frequently they are skeptical. Proof like the following will stand investigation. It cannot be disputed.

W. L. Lafone, 1413 Eighth Ave., Hickory, N. C., says: "I have used Doan's Kidney Pills myself and also in the family and they have always brought satisfactory results. I was suffering from severe pains through my back and the kidney secretions were irregular in passage. I procured Doan's Kidney Pills at Moser & Lutz's Drug Store and they helped me in every way."

When Mr. Lafone was interviewed on March 6, 1912, he said: "I still recommend Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I hear anyone complaining of kidney trouble. I am pleased to confirm the public statement I gave some time ago."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

TWO OF CATAWBA'S AGED CITIZENS PASS TO REST

Capt. P. W. Carpenter of Conover.

Capt. Phillip W. Carpenter, one of Conover's oldest and most highly respected citizens, passed away at his home in that place Saturday night at the advanced age of 80 years and 1 month. Besides Mrs. Carpenter, he is survived by nine children, three sons and six daughters. They are Mrs. Rufus Mosteller, of Charlottesville, Va., Mrs. Fannie Corriher, of China Grove; Mrs. D. J. Settlemyre, of Hickory; W. P. Carpenter, of Mooresville; P. O. Carpenter, of Newton; Mrs. J. P. Miller, of Charlotte; Mrs. Byron Shuford, of China Grove; Miss Mildred Carpenter, of Conover and D. J. Carpenter.

He was a son of Jones Carpenter and was born in Lincoln county in January, 1834. At the beginning of the Civil War he enlisted in the Confederate Army. In July, 1862, he was made second lieutenant and one year later was promoted to captain and placed in command of Company G, 57th N. C. regiment. This position he held until near the close of the war when he was made a prisoner and taken to Washington, D. C., where he was released July 18, 1865.

The funeral services were held from the home in Conover Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock, conducted by his pastor, Rev. B. L. Stroup, of Newton. After the funeral services, the body was carried to Newton where it was laid to rest in the cemetery. He was a devoted member of the Lutheran Church at Newton.

J. B. Lutz of Newton, R. 4.

Following a stroke of paralysis of the brain last Friday Mr. J. B. Lutz died Friday night at his home about five miles east of this city. Up to the time of his death Mr. Lutz enjoyed good health considering his advanced age and his almost sudden death cast a dark shadow of sorrow over the entire community.

The funeral services were held Sunday morning at New Jerusalem Lutheran Church, conducted by Rev. B. L. Stroup, and the body was laid to rest in the burial ground in the church yard.

Besides a widow, Mr. Lutz leaves a wife and seven children. The children are Messrs. J. O. W. R. and H. P. Lutz, Mrs. L. H. Seitz, Mrs. A. L. Baker, Mrs. J. D. Bolick and Miss Sarah Lutz, all of this county.

Mr. Lutz was a member of the 48th regiment North Carolina troops in the Civil War, having enlisted October 5, 1864.

He was a member and one of the leading men in New Jerusalem Lutheran Church.

In the death of Mr. J. B. Lutz, which occurred Friday night the county lost one of its most progressive citizens and one who was the forerunner of farmers organizations in the county. Mr. Lutz was one of the first men to introduce the American Society of Equity and when this didn't prove a success he became a staunch supporter of the Farmers' Union and stood by it until his death.—Catawba County News.

D., head of the English Department of Davidson College, will deliver a lecture on "Christianity and the Newspapers" in the Lenoir College auditorium Sunday evening, February 15 at 7 o'clock. There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven Catarrh to be a constitutional disease, and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by E. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only Constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, Ohio.

IN SOCIAL CIRCLES

On last Monday night the Philathea classes of the Methodist Church entertained the Baraca boys at their regular monthly social meeting. Quotations on the Bible were read at roll-call, and after a short program, consisting of readings by Misses Mamie Sue Johnson, and Mabel Hight, a solo by Miss Clara Bowles, and a piano number by Miss Marjorie Whitener, refreshments were served, and a merry hour spent in chatting.

The many friends of the contracting parties will be interested in the following announcement of the marriage of one of Hickory's most popular young ladies:

Mr. and Mrs. Amidas Crawford Link announce the marriage of their daughter Annie Moore to Mr. Robert Sinclair Booth on Thursday, the fifth of February nineteen hundred and fourteen Hickory, North Carolina.

The Round Dozen Book Club met February 4, with Mrs. J. W. Blackwelder, "Laddie" was given prominence in the discussion of books, the hostess giving a criticism of the book and an interesting sketch of the author, Gene Stratton Porter. She also read a story which was much enjoyed. Items of news were discussed and the club adjourned to meet on the 18th, with Mrs. J. L. Murphy, Dainty and appetizing refreshments were served.

The Thursday Study Club was most pleasantly entertained February 5 by Mrs. Worth Elliott. Items of news were given at roll-call and the readings were given by Mrs. Roy Abernethy, Mrs. C. C. Bost and Mrs. F. B. Ingold. Miss Bertha Bradshaw gave much pleasure by reciting several pieces, Miss Beatrice Bulla, of Davenport College, also added to the entertainment by playing beautiful selections on the violin. Mrs. Harte accompanying her on the piano. A delicious supper in four courses was served in the dining room. The next meeting will be with Mrs. F. B. Ingold.

February 4 Mrs. H. C. Menzies entertained the Hickory Book Club. Mrs. Geo. W. Patterson of Castine, Maine, a classmate of Mrs. Chadwick's at Wellesley College was a welcomed guest. In allusion to the special book of the day "A Dream of Blue Roses" two "Blue Roses", the young daughters of the hostess with Miss Clarissa Abernethy greeted the guests at the door of this hospitable home. Mrs. Menzies gave a very interesting account of her book and the life of the author, Mrs. Hubert Barclay, a talented English writer. A "Dream of Pink Roses" gave their greeting in the dining-room. Place-cards were hand-painted pictures characteristic of the different books. Conundrums added their spice to the course-dinner. Rose bonbon boxes with birds filled with "goodies" were souvenirs of this delightful occasion. The meeting of February 18 will be with Mrs. K. C. Menzies.

During the past week Mrs. Chadwick has had the pleasure of a visit from a friend, and classmate at Wellesley College, Mrs. Geo. W. Patterson, of Castine, Maine. Mrs. Chadwick generously shared this pleasure with her friends. Mrs. Royster and Mrs. Martin were invited to dine with Mrs. Patterson on Tuesday. Wednesday Mrs. Patterson was guest of honor at the Book Club meeting with Mrs. Chas. Menzies. On Thursday afternoon about 40 guests were invited to meet Mrs. Patterson at the home of Mrs. Chadwick, Mrs. Patterson has made two visits to Palestine and Egypt, and she told of these countries in a most interesting and enlightening way, illustrating with maps and pictures, also costumes of the identical fashion of the time of Joseph and the coat of many colors. She made clear to us that while the actual earth that Christ trod upon while in Jerusalem is buried 50 or 100 feet beneath the present streets of Jerusalem, the same type of people are there—wretched, dirty, wicked—the multitude on which He had compassion, and it seems to bring closer to us His inexhaustible pity and power to save to the utmost. She told us especially of the women and children, who are always interesting. Cakes and punch and conversation ended the afternoon.

SAD STORY OF THE MURDER OF AN INFANT

Spartanburg, S. C., Feb. 3.—Developments in the case of the two-month-old baby found drowned in Whites millpond near Spartanburg Saturday came to a startling climax when the alleged parents were arrested almost simultaneously—the mother, in a boarding house as she was arranging to take a train for Charleston, the father at Chesnee, S. C., as he was preparing to leave for San Francisco. She is Miss Fieta Pendleton, 19 years old, daughter of a shoe salesman of Durham, N. C. He is Clyde Caldwell Clement, aged 23, of Sandy Springs, N. C., son of Robert Clement, a merchant.

The arrest of Miss Pendleton was dramatic in the extreme. Mrs. W. W. Hoopes of Greenville, had come to Spartanburg and identified the baby as that of a young woman who lived in her boarding house as "Mrs Caldwell" last month.

Taking Mrs. Hoopes with them officers went to the house.

When Mrs. Hoopes laid her eyes on the girl she burst into a flood of tears and said: "Oh, God, Mrs. Caldwell! Why did you kill that dear little baby?"

Miss Pendleton collapsed.

When she had been partly recomposed she told this story:

She became intimate with Clement last year when he was a student at Wofford and she was taking a course in telegraphy at a local business school. Clement paid her frequent visits. When her condition became alarming she went to Charlotte, living for awhile in a boarding house there and later going to the Presbyterian Hospital, where the baby was born December 6.

After various vicissitudes Clement took her to Greenville on January 13 and they obtained a room at the home of Mrs. Hodges. Clement did not stay there, but frequently visited the girl.

Clement, the girl said, constantly importuned her to get rid of the baby, saying he did not love "the d-n brat" and would not marry her while she had it.

Miss Pendleton said she called at the Salvation Army Rescue Home in Greenville and asked the matron, Mrs. Mary E. Bebout, to take the infant and give it to somebody who wanted a baby. Mrs. Bebout informed her that it was contrary to the rules of the institution to take babies while they were still nursing.

Mrs. Hodges in the meanwhile suspected that things were not as they should be, and on making inquiries learned the real identity of the couple. They decided to leave Greenville.

They took a train last Friday night and came to Spartanburg. They had decided, the girl said, to put the baby out of the way.

They engaged a hack at the station, drove to the outskirts of the city and then dismissed the hack. They then walked to the bridge over Lawson's Fork Creek. Miss Pendleton faltered, she said, when it came to the crucial test, but Clement repeated to her that unless they made way with the child he would not marry her.

The mother could not stand it. She turned and fled, Clement, she said, dropped the baby from the bridge into the cold black water below and coolly rejoined her. They returned to the city and he engaged a room for her at the boarding house where she was found.

When the hue and cry became hot Clement, she said, decided it would be well for both of them to leave this vicinity.

The only tangible clue presented to the officers when the baby's body was found was the laundry mark on her undergarment, which it has been since learned, was the mark of a Charlotte laundry.

When Mrs. Hodges learned of the case she at once surmised that the drowned baby was the infant of the woman she had known as "Mrs. Caldwell" Sergeant Thompson notified Sheriff W. J. White, who arranged that Mrs. Hodges should come to the city to identify the baby. In the meanwhile Mr. Miller returned to Greenville, questioned Mrs. Hodges and learned who the couple were who lived at her house. Through telephone messages Clement was located at the home of his father at Sandy Springs in Polk county, N. C.

Accompanied by Sergeant Thompson, Mrs. Hodges came to the city today, looked at the baby and at once recognized it. She was then taken to the boarding house where Miss Pendleton was arrested as told. After visiting Miss Pendleton Clement engaged an automobile and started back to his home. Sheriff White and Moss Hayes, a detective, on their way to Sandy Springs encountered Clement at Chesnee and arrested him at almost exactly the same time that the warrant was being served on Miss Pendleton.

Both were placed in cells and held without bond on a charge of murder. The girl begged to see her little daughter and arrangements were made to carry the tiny corpse to the jail.

Clement was perfectly calm. He declined to make any statement except this: He is 23 years old and has known Miss Pendleton since she was 13 years old. They lived near each other in Polk county for a number of years.

Solicitor Hill said: "This is one of the most cold-blooded, premeditated murders in my experience."

Miss Pendleton made a complete confession to the Solicitor in the jail. She begged to see Clement. When he was brought from his cell she reached her hands through the bars and clasped his, with many expressions of love and devotion. Tears streamed down her face as she chokingly murmured her love for the man, and she would not release her feverish hold on his hands. Clement did not utter a word. She begged the Solicitor to let Clement remain with her, but he would not consent.

HANDSOME RESIDENCE DESTROYED BY FIRE

Late Monday afternoon an alarm of fire was turned in to the fire department. The building on fire proved to be the handsome dwelling of Atty. D. L. Russell, near the graded school building. How the fire originated is not known, as the interior of the house and the roof was in a blaze when first discovered.

The fire department turned out as soon as possible, but all they could do was to confine the fire to the main part of the house and the kitchen and dining room was saved, although considerably damaged.

Every piece of hose available was pressed into service, a line being laid from the hydrant near the graded school, and one from the corner at J. A. Bowles' residence.

Some of the furniture down stairs was saved, although badly damaged, but none of the household goods upstairs were gotten out.

The damage to the house and contents is estimated at $4,500.00, with $2,350.00 insurance.

The citizens of the city deeply sympathize with Mr. and Mrs. Russell in the loss of their home.

We, the undersigned, do hereby express our sincere thanks to the good people of Hickory for the aid and assistance and words of cheer and comfort so generously bestowed upon us in our recent calamity, in the loss of our home by fire. Man is, indeed, the "Noblest Handiwork of God."

Sincerely,
