THE NEW PRESIDENT'S IN-SPIRING PLEA.

The Cincinnati Post.

In his plea for unity to meet a great crisis, in his solemn summons of the aid of all who love justice, as voiced in his inaugural address, the new President is like a reborn Lincoln.

For the first time in our generation, the nation is asked by its elected head "to count the human cost" of greed and reckless ambition: to put men and women and little children before mere dollars.

Thus does the counsel of William Jennings Bryan, rejected with seeming scorn in 1896, become in 1913-a very brief time as time is measured in history-the will of the majority. For, make no mistake, the country is back of this appeal. Back of it so sincerely, with such firmness of determination, that no new outpouring of predatory money can debauch its purpose, no trickery or intrigue long delay the accomplishment of its aims.

To the Wilson administration the common people look for certain, definite, concrete results.

They expect a revision of the tariff; one that will cut out its notorious grafts, that will lower the cost of living, that will free honest industry from the cruel fetters of the trusts.

They expect a revision of the currency system, one that will seat Uncle Sam instead of Morgan at the head of the financial table, that will provide credit for producers instead of unearned profits for exploiters, that will put it out of the power of a few selfish men to rig up a panic whenever they wish to pull off a new raid upon rivals or "teach the people a lesson."

They expect the laws to be enforced without fear or favor and always in the public interest.

They expect new laws to save for all the people the treasures of nature not yet given over to private greed, and to take back, as fast as chance permits, the public property now exploited unfairly.

They want long, sharp teeth put into the laws against robbery by wholesale.

These are not unfair demands. They are what have been specifically promised. The country will hold the Wilson administration to its

And it will bring its fist down with the force of a pile driver on the head of any public servant of any party who, either trickily or stupidly, stands in the way of the accomplishment of these

LARGE ATTENDANCE DESIRED.

It now looks as if a recordbreaking crowd will be here on next Friday to attend the Lincoln County Commencement. The interesting program which has all be to rehabilitate the old "navy The Great Electric System of the South ready been published will be car. yard" at Charlotte, N. C. If that ried out to the letter. It will be an inspiring sight to see practically all the school children in the county in a line of march, two could be put on wheels and porabreast, keeping step to martial music by the band. Capt. Fair's troopers will also be in line which will add to the splendor of the occasion. Surely it will be a great day for education and there should be a great out-pouring of the people for the occasion.

Fifty Cents a Thousand For Flies.

Lexington Dispatch.

The boys and girls of Lexington are urged not to forget Mr. L. P. Peacock's anti-fiy campaign. He will pay 50 cents a thousand for all flies, up to 100,000, delivered to him at his office at the Lexington Upholstery Company during the month of March. Flies are begin-ning to be plentiful now and it will be easy to catch them these cool mornings. It will not take an active boy very long to catch a thousand. This offer holds good only for the month of March.

Mecklenburg Cotton Goes to Mooresville.

From The Enterprise.

One of the most interesting sights on the streets of Mooresville for many days was beheld Tuesday afternoon when a long string Train No. 8 Lv. Gastonia of wagons drove in from Mecklenburg, bearing 123 bales of cotton, bought by H. N. Howard of the Dixie Mill from Caldwell and Train No. 7 Lv. Lenoir Bradford. It was an easy matter for the Mecklenburg farmers to reach Mooresville over our excellent sand clay roads.
