Washington Letter.

Correspondence of COURIER.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 3, '94.—Sec-WASHINGTON, D. C., Sept. 10, '94.—Secretary Carlisle has left no doubt as to where he and President Cleveland stand on the sugar question. He told Representative Meyer, of La., that the administration would oppose any attempt to put sugar on the free list, but would aid in the passage of the substitute proposed by the Senate Finance Committee, striking out the difference a duty of one-eighth of a cent a pound on refined sugar, leaving all sugars dutiable at a flat rate of 40 per cent ad valorem.

The true inwardness of the alleged flop of Senator Jones, of Nevada, from the republicans to the populists is now known. It was merely a republican trick. Jones is no more a populist than he ever was and his pretended flop is but the first move in a game which was to have been secret and which has for its final object the nomination and election to the Presidency of Senator Cameron of Pennsylvania.

This isn't a good administration for sinecures. Secretary Hoke Smith's axe has just fallen upon another. Like a great many other people Secretary Smith was puzzled when he first heard of the editor of the United States Geological survey.

Ex-Congressman Breckinbridge, of Ark., now minister to Russia, is still in Washington, and still very much interested in politics. He said in the course of a general conversation on Southern politics; "My own State has just given us exceptionally heavy democratic majority, which is a fair indication of what the south may be expected to do in November. I wish however, that the majority had been a little lighter and the platform adopted at the State convention a little better. Too much was conceded the populists on the financial question. Better to have had a sound monetary plank than to have gained a few thousands superfluous votes.

In all that goes to strengthen and build up the system weakened by disease and pain, Ayer's Sarsaparilla is the superior medicine. It neutralizes the poisons left in the system after diphtheria and scarlet fever, and restores the debilitated patient to perfect health and vigor.

In Memoriam.

The stern sergeant, Death, has again, with the ponderous mace of time knocked at the portals of eternity, and ushered a weary pilgrim in. The headaches and heartaches that haunted long the way of the sojourner, are now but as the memory of a dreadful dream. The earthly life that went out in the gray dawn of the morning of August 28th 1894 had been in the keeping of Lorenzo Dow Haynes for sixty five temporal years.

His body was completely covered with "fly blows" and consuming flesh worms. He was so offensive that it was difficult to work with him without holding the nose. Part of the face was consumed by the worms; his hair was mostly flayed off. They buried him by the side of the road where he died.

He died two and a half miles from the very place where Taylor (colored) made his mysterious departure.

Republican Mass Meeting.

A meeting of the colored citizens of Lincolnton was held Sept 3rd, 1894, and the following resolutions were adopted: Resolved: 1. That we, the colored voting citizens of Lincolnton, N. C., do heartily endorse the action of the Republican State Convention held at Raleigh, N. C. Aug. 30th 1894, by supporting the ticket of the Populists in connection with the Republicans.

An Awful Death.

On Saturday afternoon, Mr. W. W. Laney and his little son were travelling along the Buffalo Shoals road, when suddenly the little boy with an exclamatory expression pointed out to his father, a mysterious object lying behind a log. He at once told him it was a dead man; he saw the flies swarming around. But however, he did not go close enough to examine or recognize the man but hastened to get help.

There he left his friend(?) a jug with a very small amount of whiskey in it, and went on several yards farther toward home and here he, as it is thought, sat down upon a log to rest (as near as we can get at it about Thursday afternoon late), and being as all intoxicated men are, unable to control himself fell backward on his head and there expired. There he lay, the most pitiable sight that I ever beheld, with his head doubled under his shoulders, his abdomen resting on the log; one leg hanging loosely down while the other leg reached over the log being hooked over a knot. There was no sign of any struggling. His coat lay across the log and his walking staff close by on the ground.

His wife on the search of him passed by him Saturday morning without observing him. The coroner was notified and the inquest held Sunday 1 o'clock p. m. Dr. Klutz was called. After a careful examination, he found there was no violence used, then the Juror rendered their verdict accordingly.

His body was completely covered with "fly blows" and consuming flesh worms. He was so offensive that it was difficult to work with him without holding the nose.

Part of the face was consumed by the worms; his hair was mostly flayed off. They buried him by the side of the road where he died. His death was caused by whiskey. He died two and a half miles from the very place where Taylor (colored) made his mysterious departure.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. CURES OTHERS WILL CURE YOU. SUPERIOR BLOOD PURIFIER. PERFECT TONIC. SOUND SLEEP. LONG LIFE. VITALITY. STRONG NERVES. CLEAR SKIN. HEALTH. MENTAL ENERGY.

S. P. SMITH, of Towanda, Pa., whose constitution was completely broken down, is cured by Ayer's Sarsaparilla. He writes: "For eight years, I was, most of the time, a great sufferer from constipation, kidney trouble, and indigestion, so that my constitution seemed to be completely broken down. I was induced to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and took nearly seven bottles, with such excellent results that my stomach, bowels, and kidneys are in perfect condition, and, in all their functions, as regular as clock-work. At the time I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, my weight was only 125 pounds; I now weigh 150 pounds, and was never in so good health. If you could see me before and after using, you would want me for a traveling advertisement. I believe this preparation of Sarsaparilla to be the best in the market to-day."
