Fruit Probably Killed by Cold Weather.

Maj. H. H. Powell, Who Attempted to Kill Charles M. Smith and Duncan E. McIver at Raleigh and Then Suicide.

A tragedy occurred in the union station at Raleigh just before the departure of the Seaboard Air Line train No. 41 at 4 o'clock last Thursday afternoon, when Maj. H. Powell, proprietor of the Sanford hotel, attempted to kill C. H. Smith and D. E. McIver and then turned and put a bullet through his own head. Mr. Smith was struck in the right arm, the bullet coming out and re-entering, lodgin in the upper part of the arm near the shoulder, The shot aimed at McIver went wild, missing him entirely.

Domestic Tragedies.

There seems to be a plethora of domestic tragedies just now. A culmination, and correction of abuses, and wrongs, and jealousy. But behind it all runs the turbid stream of obscenity, lust, and lax morals.

A short while past, a man was shot to death in a hotel in Charlotte, whether he died by his own hand, or a woman is an unanswered question. A week ago a case was heard in the Superior court at Whiteville where in, a Mrs. Hays was charged with the murder of a man. The jury that heard her case said she was innocent, public sentiment in that section said she was guilty. The past week a lady by the name of Mrs. Royster of Burlington fired a bullet in her breast, while in a hotel at Greensboro. The wound is said to be dangerous Mrs. Royster was the bride of, but a few days, and had been abandoned by her husband, and in her dire distress and heart broken condition sought this method of forever ending her troubles. Saturday morning last, a Mr. C. G. Kornegia formerly of Goldsboro N. C. was shot to death in his office at Shreveport La. by a woman who had abandoned her husband to spend her time with Kornegia. The principal trouble about this case was that the woman emptied the last shot in her revolver into the prostrate body of Kornegia before she realized she ought to kill her self.

And thus this wreck, and ruin, and the failing frailties of humanity seeks its surcease through the quick exit of the bullet rout. These are bad very bad.

North Carolina has cases that have not reached their final climax in which all of the elements of a fiend are manifest. A contemptible cur, a lying crafty, cunning, human beast, plots, plans, and consumates the separation of his sister from her husband, to make a play thing of her for a rich reprobate, and then as agent and emissary of this foul wrong, undertakes with the money of his sister's friend to say she shall be custodian of their only child, and for two years has so poisoned the child's minds that she does not communicate with her father. Must such beasts as these strutting around in the mock plumes of respectable people be permitted to defy, and trample with impunity upon the highest and holiest claim of a father, that of the love of his child?

Thursday after-noon Club

Mrs. L. S. Straughn, was the charming hostess to the Thursday after-noon club. The club was called to order, minutes read and business transacted. There were interesting literary discussions for the benefit of those present. Then there was a special display of beautiful embroidery of lunch cloths, caps, waist jabots, sofa pillows, and napkins for Billy Lynch, the orphan boy supported by the ladies of the Presbyterian Missionary Society.

After the exchange of books dainty refreshments were served consisting of cake cream and fruit.

Those present were; Miss Fanny Murphy Mebane Mrs. Walter Yancy Malone, Miss Lillie Dow Fowler, Miss Marv Stuart Whith, Mrs. Luther S. Straughn, Miss Margaret Graham Scott, Miss Mary Alice Fowler, Miss Laura Edna Lineberry, Miss Jennie Stewart Lasley, Mrs. S. Arthur White, Miss Leonorah Graves Harris, Miss Mary Edwin Scott, Mrs. Frank Morton Hawley.

Lawyers Killed Senator Cotten's Torrens Bill.

Charlotte Chronicle. The Torrens land bill, fathered by Senator Cotten never at any time had the ghost of a show. Mr. Cotten could not succeed in getting it before the House, but after many trials and tribulations, did get it to a vote in the Senate. Then it was killed by a vote of 22 to 18, as fast as the clerk could call the roll. Mr. Cotten took the precaution to put the Senators on record, so the farmers will know who voted against them. Why we said the bill never had a chance is this: There are 32 lawyers in the Senate against 19 laymen. The vote against the bill was cast by 18 lawyers and 4 laymen who had been prevailed upon to go with them. But the fight will be kept up and the chances are that the Torrens land bill will be dealt with a little more respectfully in the next Legislature.

The chairman of the cold-storage committee of the American Warehousemen's Association is quoted as saying that members of his organization do not object to reasonable regulation of their business by law, but they prefer that the regulating be done by the Federal government rather than by the several States. This is exactly in line with the iterated and reiterated declaration of the country's big corporations generally, and is most probably prompted by identically the same motive. They know that Federal regulation, as demonstrated by experience, does not regulate; while State regulation can and does.—Virginia Pilot.

Foreclosure on Plant of Neuse River Cotton Mill.

The Neuse river cotton mills, near Raleigh, having defaulted in interest installment of $1,875 due the Trust Company of America on a $75,000 bond issue, proceedings have been started in the federal court for a foreclosure of the mortgage securing bonds.

The mill has paid the interest since 1901 until this year. A. A. Thompson, its president, is also president of the Raleigh and the Carleigh mills, and both were understood to be in good condition. Commissioner Wills was named by the court to sell the plant of Neuse mills.

Refreshments consisting of cream, cake and fruits were served in the Library room. Last, but by no means least came a lecture to the two classes by Mr. Hilliard, the two classes spent a very delightful evening. Adding much to the pleasure of the crowd was the music given by Miss Aline Perry, and Miss Ada Dodson.

Mr. Hiram Cheek, had the misfortune to cut his leg a few days ago, but not very seriously.

Miss Recie Crawford, is spending the week with her sister Mrs. Ernest Reynolds, at Hillsboro.

We see in the Greensboro Daily News of a recent date that Mr. Charlie Carroll, an old student of Orange Grove, played the star game for Whitsett, against Elon a few days ago Orange Grove not only turns out the best teachers and preachers, but also the best in any line. His hearing by the commission has been set for April 6.

MRS. EMERSON FILLS DENIAL

Wife of Bramo Selzer Man Brands His Charges in Divorce Proceeding as False.

Mrs. Emilie Askew Emerson, in answer to the petition for absolute divorce by her husband, Capt. Isaac T. Emerson, the millionaire drug manufacturer, brands as a deliberate falsehood the charge that she had been an unfaithful wife. The answer filed in the circuit court reveals the grounds on which Captain Emerson instituted sealed proceedings on January 18 last. Attorneys for Mrs. Emerson will not discuss the probability of a cross bill but there is a report that a compromise may be reached if Captain Emerson should agree to a financial settlement.
