DID HE KEEP HIS POLITICAL PROMISE?

It appears from the editorial page of Sunday mornings News and Observer that Mr. Daniels set down, and took his pen or pencil in hand to drop a few lines in reference to Governor Kitchin keeping his political promise, and it must be admitted that Mr. Daniels dropped some hot lines. From a careful perusal of a page editorial, we must confess that it was according to our estimate the best handled subject we have ever known Mr. Daniels to attempt.

It puts Mr. Kitchin in a hole good and deep, and there is no getting around it.

Mr. Kitchin might not have been able to secure a trust law with teeth, but did he try? If he had been truly sincere in wishing to curb the trust then when he had the opportunity he would have exercised all the great power of his position to have accomplished that purpose. But no, Mr. Kitchin is an adroit politician, he wanted to be governor, and he misled the people into believing he was going to curb the rapacity of the trust in order to secure the necessary votes to be governor, but after he became governor he seemed not to have had the moral courage to fight for opinions he had led the people to believe he stood for. "You can fool all of the people some time" some of the people all time, but not all of the people all the time.

Mr. Kitchin asked for a law at the last Legislature to investigate the insurance business of the state, and after this if Mr. Kitchin had joined forces with Representative Koonce of Onslow and stood by him as President Taft stood by Knox, there would have been something doing, and the fruits of a valuable suggestion would not have been lost, but after his message to the Legislative in reference to the insurance Legislation he went in his hole, and left Mr. Koonce to battle with a lot of rapacious, mercenary, imbecils, or-political marplots, and a wholesome measure was defeated.

Mr. Kitchin is a fine talker, a plausible and unusual bright politician, but nothing better illustrates his character than his promises during the gubernatorial fight, and after he won it. His indifference to fulfilling what he promised.

CAN NOT FORGIVE NOW.

Nearly every article that North Carolina people have used for the past forty years has been taxed to the limit, and it was paid without a wry face until Senator Simmons decided that as long as every thing else was taxed North Carolina products should have a share. He got a tariff on lumber for North Carolina people, this was alright until Mr. Kitchin wanted Mr. Simmons seat in the senate, then it became a very grievous sin, just such a sin as the Kitchinites could not forgive. Mr. Simmons might secure a half million for the Cape Fear river, he might secure a like sum for the inland water way at Beaufort, he might do other things for his state equally as important, he might accomplish greater things than any other Senator has ever accomplish for the state, but these are small things, Simmons got a tariff on a North Carolina product, and that is a crime because there are other men who want his seat in Congress. This be the fight on Simmons, and a gullible public are expected to swallow the whole mess because his seat is wanted by men, yes professional politician.

TRIED TO OUST DR. WILEY.

It is very gratifying to the public at large to learn that after all Dr. Wiley who has charge of the pure food department at Washington will not be disturbed in his position by the administration.

A threat to oust him caused apprehension, and alarm, for it was pretty well understood that if this cable interested in the profits of food adulterants could destroy so important a man as Dr. Wiley, then where was the limit to their power, or the curb to their rapacity and wrong? Dr. Wiley dismissal was demanded by the same crowd that demanded the Remson board, and the Remson board was to nullify Dr. Wileys work, and make possible the use of benzoate of soda and other food adulterants.

It is a hard proposition when this crowd of slow poisoners become so bold and powerful that they can secure the cooperation of the President of the United States, for it did seem for a while that Mr. Taft in obedience to their demand was going to dismiss Dr. Wiley.

Instead of curbing Dr. Wiley, it would be better to give him more powers, for truly he has shown him self to be a very able man, an honest man and a very capable one, a friend of the people and fair play.

Let us know all about the Remson board. It has conferred on the food poisoners with the privilege of doping up half-decayed vegetable matter so that its rottenness should be disguised, and palming it off on the public as decent food.

The real benzoate question relates to its use to disguise unfit food articles and conduct them into the systems of millions of people who would never use them if they had not been disinfected, deodorized, and rendered apparently decent and fit.

Aldrich denies the story of Hines. If Aldrich had not been caught red handed with the loot his denial might be worth something, but the old fox has too many feathers about his lips to say he has not been stealing chickens.

L'Amour.

Love is happiness, love is pain;
Love is laughter or tears like rain;
Love is sighing, love is a song;
Love is madness for short or long.

Love is beauty, love is a breath;
Love is living, and love is death;
Love is sacrifice, love is greed;
Love is riches and love is need.

Love is a glance from a kindling eye,
Love is a flame, a flower, a sigh;
Love is a feather from Cupid's wing;
Love is torture, a passionate thing!

Love? Ah, love is the heart's desire,
Love is the dream that we all pursue;
Love is the inmost soul's white fire;
Love is heart o' me, love is You!

Cause of Contempt For Law.

The Concord Tribune says: "In Spartanburg a few nights ago a party of six young men who are prominent and belong to the 'best families' were caught gambling and arrested. Their names were entered on the police docket but after many hasty consultations, were blotted out before a newspaper reporter could obtain them. The public there is demanding that these young men be tried like all other defendants in police court and much criticism of the action of the officials in suppressing their names has been heard on the streets of Spartanburg. And the public is right."

This sort of action is witnessed in every town in the country and is a prolific cause for contempt of all law. A negro or poor white man without influence while the fellow from the "best families" commits almost any kind of violation of the law and goes without arrest or punishment. And this sort of influence not only stays the hand of the law but it muzzles the press to a large extent. The gambler and the trader of women from the social world, if he happens to have money and influential parents, demands the editor to keep his name out of the paper. The parents accompany the son to the newspaper office and state in unmistakable language that this thing must not go in print, and in a majority of cases the matter is hushed—the press has been throttled.

It is time for this condition to cease, and who will be the first to volunteer to stand for right and justice? Until a change is effected the law will be fettered and the papers will be only a partial mirror of current events.—Salisbury Post.

How to Call on The Editor

Johnson News-Monitor.
Advance to the inner door and give three raps. The devil will attend to the alarm. You will give your name postoffice address and number of years you owe for the paper. You will be admitted to the sanctum and will advance to the centre of the room, where you will address the editor with the following countersign: After laying a watermelon on the floor, hold the right hand about two feet from the body with the thumb and fingers clasping $1 bill, which you will drop into the editor's hand, saying, "Were you waiting for me?" The editor will grasp your hand and the bill, pressing it, and will say, "You bet!"

Sorrow.

Sorrow was a ship, I found,
Wrecked with them that in her
are,
On an island richer far
Than the port where they were bound,
Fear was but the awful boom
Of the old great bell of doom;
Tolling, far from earthly air,
For all words to go to prayer,
Pain, that to no mortal clings,
But the pushing of our wings,
That we have no use for yet,
And the uprooting of our feet
From the soil where they are set,
And the land we reckon sweet,
Love in growth, the grand deceit
Whereby men the perfect greet;
Love in wane, the blessing sent
To be (howsoe'er it went)
Nevermore with earth content.
