Murray was at the Masonic picnic at Baynes store and from appearance he seemed to be having the time of his life. There was some one there that was decidedly attractive to Murray in fact he has not been able to tear himself away until Monday of this week. Some of Murray's friends say he has recently been buying furniture, but if so why not, if he is going to need it, he surely ought to buy it.

COCAINE EVIL ON INCREASE.

Twenty-Five Convictions For Selling the Drug in Greensboro.

Twenty-five men and women, nearly all negroes, were convicted in municipal court during the month of July in Greensboro for retailing cocaine. This statement gives some idea of the magnitude of the business that is going on in Greensboro and other towns of the South among the lower class of negroes. Here it is found that users and sellers of cocaine are an absolutely worthless class; sniffers of the drug make up at least two-thirds of the criminal docket. The rapidity with which the number of users is growing is also alarming and unless speedy and heroic efforts are brought to bear the drug will become a greater menace to the negro race than whiskey has ever been. The effects are so much more permanent than that of whiskey.

The center of trouble is the drug stores and they are harder to reach. It is known that several drug stores there engage in the business of selling to negroes and refilling prescriptions time after time, but it is hard to get evidence that will convict. However, the authorities keep hard at the work and eventually the two or three drug stores that are violating the law will be entangled in the meshes of the law.

BIG GUNS OF NAVY USELESS.

New Fourteen-Inch Weapons of Battleships.

The ancient but good natured rivalry between the army and navy artillerymen is evident just at present in their talk about the probable effect of the equipment of the future battleship with guns of fourteen-inch calibre. The statement attributed to former Chief Naval Constructor Bowles, that a fleet armed with these guns could stay out of range and safely destroy American sea-coast fortifications and cities has stirred the army contingent who are firmly of the opinion that no naval fleet would ever dare to come within the range of guns of such splendid defenses as exist at New York or Boston or indeed at any of the approaches to commercial ports.

"What are the naval gunners going to shoot at when their ships are lying fourteen or fifteen miles off the coast?" inquired one of the army artillery officers. "Don't they know that the curvature of the earth at that distance is about 150 feet? Think they can shoot around the corner? No battleship has a mast high enough to enable a look-out to see the coast at that distance, and how are the gunners to hit anything they cannot see?"

"Again, to get the range at fifteen miles, the gun would have to be elevated about twenty degrees. No turret yet built would admit of that elevation, nor would any gun carriage or ship's deck stand the strain of the tremendous downward recoil of a gun of that weight when so elevated."

On The Soil of Chatham.

Pretending a lofty superiority to cat stories, Ike S. London of The Siler City Grit dispenses "a little incident that happened near Siler City recently." It seems that a train was late. When the conductor was asked the reason for his lateness, he replied: "No, I have not been in a wreck. I am late because I am too blessed accommodating. Why, down the road a little way a lady flagged me and made me wait until her hen, which was then on the nest, laid the twelfth egg so she could send an even dozen to market by me. And I waited till the hen came across" For convincing quality this story is hard to match. We have little doubt that at times trains which jump Chatham's famous game animal are halted or run backward as the case requires until another Chatham rabbit has been run down.—Charlotte Observer.

Subscription Must Be Paid.

The courts have held that the act of a person in taking a newspaper from the postoffice makes the recipient for the bill. A recent decision is a case in point. A Butler, Mo., publisher sent his paper to one Charles Burge, who paid for it twice and then refused to pay for it again, claiming he had ordered the paper stopped. But the court of appeals holds that mere acceptance of the paper created a liability. Its adds:

"The preparation and publication of newspaper involves much mental and physical labor as well as an outlay of money. One who accepts the paper by continuously taking it from the postoffice receives a benefit and pleasure arising from labor and expenditure as fully as if he had appropriated any other product of another's labor, and by such act he must be held liable for the subscription price."

They May Pool Tobacco Crop.

In pursuance of action taken at the State Convention of North Carolina Farmer's Cooperative-add Educational Union in Salisbury last week, arrangements have been perfected for the holding of an inter state convention of North Carolina and Virginia Unions at Greensboro August 25 and 26th.

The object of this meeting is to get the farmers of the two states to pool this year's crop of tobacco. Among the members of national organization in the union who will be present and make addresses are Charles S. Barnett president of the national organization and Hon. Joel B. Fort, president of the State Union of Tennessee.

The Hobbie.

The peek-a-boo waist and the hose unehaste were wiles that appealed to the first; but they've gone out' date and the danger of late is the lure of the hobbie skirt. The young maiden coy, out after a boy, thinks love will lie inert 'til she enters the race with her beauty and grace encased in a hobbie skirt. The faded old maid hunts on undismayed for anything wearing a skirt, and her latest endeavor is discovering whether she'll "catch" in a hobbie skirt. Oh, the fashions are punk, but it is clever junk this latest design for Gert. Of course it is naughty, but the human and haughty all seem to be stuck on that skirt.

The Hickory Plan.

Kinston Free Press.

The proposition of the Hickory chamber of commerce to put up a guarantee fund of $200,000 for the purpose of financing any legitimate industry for that town created much favorable comment when first made. Those wide-awake citizens put up the $200,000, and now they are getting results. One man proposes to erect a large carriage and buggy factory, to be sufficiently capitalized to make it one of the largest in the country. Another is interested in an overall factory; another in a chair factory— Still another wishes to erect a filling cabinet factory. The biggest proposition, however, is for a bridge and steel structural plant. This would employ several hundred hands, and the weekly payroll would be near $2,500. These propositions are all being considered by the directors of the guarantee fund, and it is expected that a number of new enterprises will be established.

The gods help those who help themselves—and it doesn't matter whether they are building factories or building good roads. The Hickory plan is a winner, and you'll see it work out, too.

A CASE FOR THE COURT

James E. Carrigan Prays Court For An Absolute Dissolution of Marriage.

The Greensboro News of August 3 says:

Yesterday morning a complaint was filed with the clerk of Guilford county Superior court in which James E. Carrigan prays for an absolute divorce from his wife, Sadie Thaxton Carrigan on account of scandalous conduct on the part of the defendant. The papers were filed by Attorney G. S. Bad-seaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan formerly were residents of Greensboro and she for a time, ranked high in social circles. They moved to Durham the first of last year, and there made their home until the past spring when, it is stated, Mrs. Carrigan left for parts unknown. Mr. Carrigan is a prominent salesman, is very popular, and is prominently connected socially and otherwise in the state.

In the complaint it is stated, first, that Mr. and Mrs. Carrigan were lawfully married in Alamance county the first of February, in 1906; that they lived in Graham a few months, in Burlington a few months, and that they moved to Greensboro the first of February, 1907.

It is stated that soon thereafter the defendant, in the absence of the plaintiff, "received marked attention from men, wineing and dinnning them at card parties and otherwise" at the plaintiff's home while he mildly protested against this conduct on her part and admonished her from time to time without result; that in the face of and in spite of the repeated protests of him, her conduct continued to grow worse until the first of February, 1910, when, he, in order to remove her from the temptations of her environments and associates, moved temporarily to Durham in the hope that a temporary stay there among strangers and new friends might cause a change in the life and habits of the defendant and bring her back to a sense of her duty to the plaintiff and to her two children.

That after removing to Durham the conduct of the defendant was even worse than while living in Greensboro, and that she continued, in the absence of her husband, to receive attention from men in Greensboro and formed acquaintances with others.

That the defendant, about the first of March, this year, left and fled to parts unknown and abandoned said home, living separate and apart from the plaintiff, who has heard nothing of her and knows nothing of her whereabouts.

The plaintiff prays for judgment that matrimony be dissolved absolutely, that absolute divorce be granted, and that the custody of the two children, a daughter of 5 years of age, and a son of 3 years, now living with him, be awarded to him, asking "for judgment for such other and further relief as the court may seem right and proper."

Mr. E. R. Graves planted 4 bushels of irish potatoes meade 2 bushel and would like to hear from some one that can beat this. Mr. Graves is a potato raiser too.

The picnic at Hawfields and Cross Roads Saturday were largely attended at both places, had plenty of good things to eat at Cross Roads as Mrs. J. W. Stainback had a large box filled up and waiting for us nearly enough to do a week. Thanks.

The following good and faithful patrons remembered us this week with melons: Messrs J. W. Bason, H. D. Scarborough, J. P. Pace, L. L. and Tate Carrboro also our colored friends C.W. Ray and P. S. Miles.

Wonder what Mr. E. P. Cook is doing so much work around the house that stands on the brow of the hill at the mill means. He is having the yard mowed off and flowers set out, also sowing grass seed. Look out for something to follow later.

Court Tells Tobacco Company How It Must Dissolve.

The United States circuit court, under whose direction the American Tobacco Company will work out its dissolution, handed down the madate of the Federal Supreme Court, an order outlining conditions under which the company may perfect plans for dissolving. A clause in the order enjoins the defendants from doing any act which may further enlarge and extend the power of the combinations prior to its disintegration.

The order was handed down by Judges Lacombe, Ward and Noyes, following a conference held with Attorney General Wickersham, United States District Attorney Wise, counsel for the American Tobacco Company and the United Cigar Stores Company. Preliminary plans of the disintegration of the American Tobacco Company were submitted by its counsel discussed by lawyers in the court. The three judges expressed no opinion regarding them, however.

THE COURT FIRM

After reciting the decree of the Supreme Court, the court serves notice that it will tie up the company's shipments or appoint a receiver as ordered by the higher tribunal, should counsel fail to submit an acceptable plan of dissolution by December 30, next or sixty days therefrom if the circuit court should grant such an extension. Leave is given counsel to apply for more specific directions in this regard and also to any party to apply from time to time for relief "which may seem in conformity with the judgment of the Supreme Court,"
