Mrs. W. E. Ham who has been quite ill is much improved we are glad to learn.

Miss Lena Foy left Friday for Ashboro to visit her brother Mr. W. L. Foy.

Miss Maud Eiland, of Eiland, spent Saturday and Sunday at the White House.

Mr. Stringfield delivered a very able address on temperance last Thursday night.

Mr. Mallory Clark spent Saturday in Durham on business returning in the afternoon.

Miss Sudie Cook and Maud Whitefield are visiting relatives at Hurdle Mills.

Miss Nannie Boon is spending some time at her home, taking her vacation.

Quite a number of the Mebane people attended the childrens day at Lebanon Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. B. F. Warren and Mr. and Mrs. W. Y. Malone spent Sunday at Corbett.

Mr. J. O. Foy and daughter Miss Bessie Foy left Friday for Morehead to spend a few days.

Mr. J. O. Gathaway of Burlington will preach at the Methodist church in Mebane on the third Sunday.

H. E. Wilkinson and Co., keep at their Store fresh Washington bread on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Miss Annie Montague, daughter of Mr. B. F. Montague of Raleigh spent a portion of last week with Mrs. J. M. Thompson of Mebane.

Mr. C. W. Lasley left Tuesday for Andrews, N. C., to manage a big land sale for the American Realty and auction sale of Greensboro, N. C.

Mr. and Mrs. Steed of Steed, left Monday for their home Mrs. Steed has been spending some time here with her daughter Mrs. R. H. Tyson.

Mr. John Craig who has been spending several weeks in Mebane returned to Durham Saturday to resume his duties with the American Tobacco Co.

Sneed-Markham-Taylor Co., of Durham changes their ad. in this weeks Leader directing attention to the many attractive things they have to offer in clothing. Don't fail to read it.

Are you hiding your money in your stocking? Well it matters not where you put it, if not in a bank it is not in a safe place. The Commercial and Farmers Bank will take good care of it for you and pay you interest on it.

Buster wants you to keep your head cool, and deal with the store that gives you good values. He especially recommends Holmes-Warren Co., the legitimate low price store. See ad. else where.

If you want to buy a good farm, or any other kind of real estate call on Mr. Walter S. Crawford real estate dealer. Mr. Crawford has some exceptional good property listed with him. If you have property to sell and want a quick buyer list it with Mr. Crawford.

The Home Furniture Company is reducing stock with a view of moving in to their new store recently erected by C. C. Smith. They are cutting prices to the quick, in all furniture, rockers, hammocks, in fact everything. If you expect to make any purchase in furniture soon, it will pay you to buy now.

Mr. S. G. Morgan returned Sunday from Columbia, S. C., where he had been spending several days with his wife who is ill. Mr. Morgan reports her condition as much improved, and hopes to be able to bring her home in a short while. Mr. Morgan brought back with him his little daughter Mary Allen.

Tom Settle Sued

In Haywood Superior court the case of Mrs. J. M. Moody vs. Thomas Settle is being heard. Mrs. Moody, widow of the late Congressman James M. Moody of Waynesville, is bringing suit for the recovery of $2,000 which she alleges she paid to Settle as fees and expenses for conducting the contest for a seat in Congress with J. M. Gudger, Jr., in 1903. She contends that none of this money, or very little of it was used for the purpose promised or directed. Settle pretends that the money was paid for fees and for getting passed an act allowing the widow $5,000, the year's salary for her husband.

Miss Susan Jones of Raleigh is visiting Mrs. Frank Holt.

In The New Office

Post Master White has moved into the new post office since the old one burned, and is making out temporary until he can get his fixtures. He will put in 240 lock boxes of the latest and most approved designs. Mebane will soon have a neat creditable post office.

Fruit Trains Pass Through Rate At of One Per Hour

Sunday was one of the busiest days for the Southern railway in the way of freight traffic during the year, for during the 24 hours 28 fruit trains were rushed through Greensboro to the northern markets from the south. These trains ran as sections of Nos. 30, 44, 36 and 38, and flashed through at the rate of more than one an hour. At intervals they came every half hour.

Following the routing of the Allen outlaws from the mountains of Carroll County, Virginia, as a result of the Hillsville court room tragedy, the revenue men of the Federal Government, including deputy marshals and deputy collectors, are having their own way in the mountains of that region. Heretofore those mountains were approached by revenue officers with trepidation and the destruction of illicit stills were incidents of the rarest kind.

Mebane Building Up

There will be a considerable building done in Mebane in the near future. Mr. Will Murray is laying a foundation for a handsome residence on his lot between Mrs. H. A. Basons and Mr. S. G. Morgans. This is one of the prettiest lots in Mebane, and we learn that Mr. Murray will grace it with a handsome residence. Mr. Walter Malone is also preparing to erect a nice 8 room house, in the neighborhood of Mr. Yorks new home. Mr. R. W. Bright will also erect a nice home. It will be an 8 room house. Mr. Arthur White is arranging to build a pretty bungalow on his lot in the Southern section of the town. His plans indicate a home of unusual beauty.

FIRE AT MEBANE

One Store, Stock of goods and The Post Office Burned.

Friday morning some where near half past four o'clock, the store room belonging to Mr. John Lasley of Burlington and occupied by Mr. A. P. Long was totally destroyed by fire, also the Post office building adjoining Mr. Long had approximately four thousand dollars worth of goods, with about fifteen hundred dollars in insurance. Some of the fixtures in the post office were saved and most of the mail. There was we learn about two hundred dollars insurance on the post office building.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but it looks suspicious at best. No fire had been in the building for months. It is a heavy loss to Mr. Long who had built up a good trade, and seem to be doing a thriving business. He has our sympathy.

A Surprise Birthday Dinner.

The 19th of June being the seventy fifth birthday of Mrs. R. O. Farrell, her daughter Mrs. Jas. S. Cheek gave a dinner in honor of the day, quite a large number gathered at the home, and when Mrs. Cheek telephoned her mother to come and spend the day with her, this dear, stately, old lady was very much surprised when she walked in and found so many of her old friends on hand to assist her in celebrating the day that had brought her to the three-fourth of the century mark. This lady does not look to be so old, her friends of days gone by, were very glad to see her looking so young. When the guests had been seated at the table and a count made of the ages, the average was 70 and one half years.

The guests were: Mrs. J. N. H. Clendenin of Graham, (a school-mate of Mrs. Farrell, who herself was 75 years of age on the 2nd day of June.) Mrs. L. L. Kernodle of Graham, Mrs. W. B. York, (the only surviving sister of Mrs. Farrell) Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Fowler, the latter an only living brother, Hon. and Mrs. T. M. Cheek, Miss Pattie York, Messrs. E. Y. and T. C. Farrell, sons of Mrs. Farrell, Mrs. E. Y. Ferrell and sons, Edgar, Harry and William. Mrs. Cheek was assisted in receiving the guests by her husband Mr. J. S. Cheek.

GOES UP IN FLAME

Mr. I. L. Ferrees Automobile Burned

It is a little late news, but as we were so pushed with the fourth of July it escaped us, we will give it now. Mr. I. L. Ferree, a citizen of Mebane who recently struck it rich somewhere purchased for his joy riding a big double barreled automobile. Everything went smooth until he decided to use the "thing" and then came a streak of bad luck that came quite close to being serious, sure enough. On the 3rd of July he was returning from Greensboro with his wife and Mrs. Nelson also Mr. Wyatt as chauffeur. They were traveling at a pretty lively clip, when they reached a point near Elon College, it being a little dark they were about to run past the road they should turn out to reach Mebane, when making a sudden turn with the machine they run into an embankment and came near turning turtle, at that rate Mrs. Ferree got a bit bruised up, and all got out of the machine. Mr. Wyatt found there was something wrong as he could not make it go, about that time a Mr. Kernodly of Burlington came up with his machine, and got out to see if he could give any assistance, in trying to find the trouble he struck a match, this ignited with some spilled gasoline, in an instant this spread to the machine when the whole thing flashed up a roaring furnace. Every particle of wood, or other combustible material, was burned and the machine dropped to pieces a complete wreck of burnt and twisted iron, fit only for the junk heap. We learn that Mr. Ferree says he expects to buy him an other pretty soon. It is well to be able to do so.

Obituary

On Wednesday morning June 19th 1912 the death Angel came to the home of Mr. Ira Lewis and took from his loving embrace his precious wife, Annie after an illness of thirteen weeks medical aid and the special attention of loved ones could not stay the hand of death, for she and they saw in the near future "the silver cord would break" and so it did and Angels bore her gentle spirit home.

Only six months ago Annie was a bright and beautiful bride, but disease and death had marked her as their prey, and even love which is stronger than death could not hold her here. How the mothers heart ached and the young husband wept as they stood by the bed and saw death with his mighty cycle cut the full blown rose, but weep not husband, sorrow not mother father sisters and brothers for Annie whose spirit to day is mingling with departed loved ones on that Golden Shore.

It fills our hearts with sadness when we think of the rich promise of this young life cut down in the very flower of its usefulness and activity, and of the grief stricken homes where her presence was an inspiration and a joy, and of the desolate broken hearts of those who loved her so much. She was converted at an early age, and developed a sweet and lovely womanhood. She was attractive in person and engaging in manners cultivated in mind and rich in christian graces. After death as she lay on the couch where loving hands had placed her we almost caught a vision of Angels and felt the heavenly radiance a smile of such unearthly brightness rested on the sweet pale face.

"Sleep on dear Annie and take thy rest. We loved thee well but Jesus loved thee best."

Mrs. Lewis was 19 years of age, and leaves a young husband mother father five sisters and four brothers to mourn the loss of a loved one. The funeral services were conducted by her pastor and her remains laid to rest in Orange Chapel church yard.

Her gentle voice now is hushed, Her warm true heart is still And on her young and innocent brow Is resting death's cold chill Her hands are clasped upon her breast We have kissed her lovely brow, And in our aching hearts we know We have no Annie now.

Earth has lost its look of gladness Heaven seems to us more bright, Since the spirit of our dear one Took its homeward flight. One who knew and loved her.

Chanoler Gift to University of N. C.

Liberal plans for aid to Southern education are made in the last will and testament of John Armstrong Chanoler fearing that relatives may attempt to contest the will on grounds of alleged insanity, has conveyed his entire property, estimated value at $1,500,000 in trust to the Virginia Trust Company of Richmond, naming the University of Virginia and the University of North Carolina as residuary legatees, while nine other educational institutions in several States will receive $10,000 each.

If you owe the Leader on subscription now is a good time to pay up. The paper has earned the money.

Orange Grove Items.

Mr. and Mrs. Walton of Norfolk, Va., are visiting Mrs. Waltons parents Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Lloyd, also Mr. Graham Lloyd of Ashboro, is taking a few days vacation at home.

Miss Murray and Miss Hooks and Mr. Baity and Mr. Hooks were visitors at Mr. A. A. Perry's Saturday night and Sunday and attended the ice cream party at Mrs. D. F. Crawford's Saturday night.

The picnic given by the Baraca and Philathea classes on Saturday July 13th was well attended by both classes and many visitors, and all reported a very pleasant time. Among the "out of town" visitors we noticed, Misses Bertha, Lora, Mamie, Annie and Lillie Couch with the Messrs. Whites, Carrolls and Mr. Lynch all from near Durham; also Mr. Wade Sykes and sister and Miss Alma Durham of Durham with many other visitors enjoyed the day and the party that followed with the two classes.

The community was saddened Saturday by the death of little Bernice Cates, the two year old child of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Cates, he had only been sick for a few days, but the Great Creator saw fit in his matchless wisdom to send an Angel to pluck this fair flower from earth, which is full of misery and disappointments and to transplant it where all is peace and happiness and love, who would call him back from his myriad hosts of little Angel playmates to this cold unfeeling world. He was gently laid to rest on Sunday evening. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Green of Hillsboro, the pall bearers were Messrs. Hiram Cheek, Graham Crawford, Chandler Cates and John Crawford four members of the Baraca class of which his father is teacher. The father and mother have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement.

If you can't pull you can push a little, but if you can't do either just keep out of the way and let everything that means a better community and happier people go marching on. Above all work for a better school and Sunday School and if you ever gossip and backbite leave off now henceforth and forever and don't be a chameleon, a crawfish or a skunk.

Miss Julia Cates and Miss Nina Ingle of Burlington are visiting Miss Nannie Lloyd for a few days.

Mr. A. G. Crawford and Miss Opal Crawford went to Durham Monday Miss Crawford will spend a few days with relatives. Mr. Crawford went on business.

Mebane, Rfd. 2

Mr. W. J. Sykes who has been working for the Range Co. is spending his vacation with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Sykes.

Picnicing at Oconeechee.

The young people of Mebane enjoyed a most delightful time last Tuesday 9, at Oconeechee farm near Hillsboro. The party reached Oconeechee at 11 o'clock and walked out to the club house where a delicious lunch was served. After lunch many amusements were indulged in, among which were games, kodaking, fishing, mountain climbing and the visiting of historical around Hillsboro. At 6 o'clock dinner was spread on the lawn in front of General Carr's summer home. After dinner the crowd strolled down lover's lane in couples to the Hillsboro station where they caught the last west bound train for home.

Those enjoying the day were: Misses Magada Malone, Minnie Bright, Lillie Fowler, Annie Cooper, Bessie Craig, Mary Patton, Lois Ham, Nannie Boone, Clara Warren, Lyde Palmer, Bernice Bright, Buena Hurley, Alice McFarland, Sophia Long, Hattie Hodge, Grace Amick, Virginia Clark, Lottie Satterfield; Messrs. Aint This Funny?

Mr. Underwood may be a logical candidate in 1916 or he may not. His friends may make a mistake if they attempt to make a perpetual candidate of him.—Durham Herald.

GOV. BLEASE OF SOUTH CAROLINA IS SERIOUSLY ACCUSED

New Charges Against Governor Will Be Sifted.

Sensational testimony charging Gov. Cole L. Blease, of South Carolina, with official corruption, was introduced before the dispensary investigating committee of that state in a hearing at S. Reed, a Burns detective, and Thomas B. Felder, the Atlanta attorney, were the principal witnesses.

So unexpected was the character of the evidence that after the hearing was adjourned, Chairman H. B. Charles, of the committee, asserted that the newly adduced charges against the South Carolina governor would be thoroughly sifted.

Detective Reed's testimony included records taken with a telephone device relative to negotiations for the purchase of a convict's pardon from the South Carolina penitentiary. The records, Reed testified, were of conversations between the detective and Sam J. Nicholls, a Spartanburg attorney, reputed to be a go-between for Governor Blease.

Reed testified James Johnson, a yegman with several aliases, serving a 10 year sentence in the penitentiary for robbing a safe of $8,000, was the convict about whom the negotiation were conducted.

Oscar W. Underwood.

Next to Woodrow Wilson, there is question that of the four candidates before the Democratic convention Mr. Underwood came out of it in better position. His personal demeanor in the campaign, from first to last, was admirable, flawless and the staunchness of his friends was highly creditable to the man.

While a great deal of the encouragement given Mr. Underwood last fall to enter the race came from sources whose opposition to Wilson was greater than their advocacy of Underwood, there is no man in the country who has gained more of public confidence within a year than this Alabamian.

The future is bright for him.—Columbia State.

The Curse of Cocain.

It is said that there is a vast increase in the use of Cocain, in fact its use is growing rapidly.

Its use among the negroes of this country began about twenty years ago, when the Stevedores of Charleston, Savannah and New Orleans learned that through the use of Cocain they could do much more labor in loading steamers and vessels than they could without its use, they could endure more, work longer with less fatigue. When a steamer comes to port it must be loaded at once if it takes all day, and all night, then there may be days of rest. This was the beginning of the use of Cocain among the negroes, its use soon began to spread rapidly, and to day there is hardly a city in this country that has not an army of Cocain fiends. The states, have attempted to suppress its use and sale, but with poor results.

Cocain is dangerous by reason of the manner in which it affects the individual. Negroes have been known to become absolutely crazy under its influence and in such state are liable to commit any act. It simply removes the balance wheel of conduct and there is no telling what will happen. And just here enters the loafing element, who for the most part are addicted to the use of cocaine. The two problems are so entangled the one with the other that anything that will have a curative effect upon one will likewise help the other.

Absynth has been the bane of France for more than a century. It has sent more people to suicide graves, caused more murders and crimes than any thing else known, France is trying to get rid of absynth, America is trying to get rid of cocain and China is trying to get rid of Opium. There is a heavy charge against all of these drugs for crime and suffering.

Bryan Fails.

(From the Albany Journal.)

Of the candidates that have been in the running, Woodrow Wilson is nearest like Mr. Bryan. Therefore Mr. Bryan's support would naturally have to him in the first place if the Nebraska had been willing that anyone but himself should be nominated. The deadlock might have developed in any case. Mr. Bryan's maneuvering made it certain. And he could have but one object in working to produce it' which was to create a condition that would precipitate a stampede of which he would become the beneficiary. As it is, his plan has failed. He has succeeded only in so dividing his party against itself that a coming together of the factions is out of the question.

Wanted to buy timbered land, also would like to buy a farm.

The Pecan in Georgia

The sale of a 600-acre pecan grove in Mitchell county for $200,000 indicates how a pecan grove as an investment is regarded by those with money to invest. Pecan growing in south Georgia is of recent date, although the trees have been planted for many years. Of the grove which sold for a small fortune, one-half the trees are in bearing, although young. The land on which this grove was planted was worth $25 to $50 per acre. In eight years' time its value was increased to $333 per acre, or about 900 per cent. From this must be deducted the expense of planting and care, but with the most liberal estimates for these the investment was a splendid one. And those who bought the grove got value since the grove will yield from 75,000 to 100,000 pounds of nuts this season, and this will be more than doubled when all the trees come into bearing. Once in bearing, the pecan tree is fruitful for an indefinite time, being hardy and long lived, and the crop is reasonably certain. Pecan growing is an attractive investment.—Savannah News.
