RANDLEMAN NEWS SUSPENDS

We regret to note that the Randleman News has suspended. Lack of financial support was the cause. It is like saying of a man when he dies, heart failure is the cause. There are hundreds of people who receive great benefit from their home paper in many ways but who do not so much as pay their subscription bills. It, in the estimation of many ought to live upon air, and hot air at that. They expect the home paper to furnish the news, promote the community, to be the advertising medium, to advocate the cause of righteousness and good morals, and to live upon promises.—The Burlington News.

If it was with the Randleman paper as it is with so many, there were a number of misleading promises made to the Editor to induce him to spend his time, and money to establishing and maintain a paper for the interest and benefit of Randleman and its people, but as soon as he was tied down, and it was thought he could not help himself, if they followed the usual custom, they forgot, or neglected their promises of support and began handing out to him biled snake for a diet, in other words began a crusade of lies and slanders against him and his paper disparaging his every effort, and doing all they could to cripple him, they succeeded after a while, and destroyed his business, and now the people of Randleman will have ample time to reflect upon doing without a paper, and Randleman will get a set back for ten years, for it will be quite that long before they succeed in fooling another man into believing the "leading citizens rot." Of course in every community there are good men loyal citizens, who contribute their share in the support and sustenance of every public enterprise, and but for them none could exist and while this is true, and full credit should be accorded, these progressive serviceable citizens, how often is it you find some gutter snipe, some mental degenerate, going around criticizing and abusing the Editor, and disparaging his paper, doing their level to create a false, and unfair opinion of both. It is these insufferable worthies, men, and women, who have not the brains, or decency to appreciate a newspaper. They think the efforts of a newspaper is to be appreciated much like a certain animal does jewelry.

GAYNOR WONT DO

Mayor Gaynor of New York may be as straight as a black snakes track, he may even be straighter, but some how he has succeeded in impressing us with the idea that he was entirely too crooked to even be mayor of New York. His expression, and his general attitude all go to strengthen that belief.

If the people of New York had depended upon Gaynor to probe the murder of Rosenthal, then it would never have been done. If Gaynor has not profited by the graft in the public department, then he should get from under. Gaynor says:

"I do not see how I can expect the police to be honest when they see on every hand that even the aldermen of the city are taking graft personally or enabling corrupt go-betweens to do so," Mayor Gaynor declared.

And he seems to be a man that thinks as long as others steal, his subordinate should be given a show at the till.

Gaynor, in his letter to the investigating committee seeks to divert attention from the vital question of police graft, by complaining that a few news stand may have gotten license in an irregular manner. Poor contemptible excuse. Gaynor wont do, and the sooner his term expires the better for law and order in the city of New York.

STOP THE HAZING AT ANY COST

The hazing of young I W Rand at Chapel Hill by which he lost his life should be handled by State authorities with gloves off. Because University boys was responsible for it is no reason for mitigating the crime.

If a half a dozen boys had had their brutal necks broken in former hazing it would have long since ceased. Some Colleges have been a place where the toughest of American youth have hid behind the professors robe, and because they were college boys with a wealthy father usually went unwhipped of justice for crimes they committed. Admitting that the killing of young Rand was purely accidentally, and unforeseen tragedy does not excuse it. When a boy as he is compelled to, to entirely surrender all physical resistance when he is being hazed by a lot of irresponsible toughs, who is it that is to guard him against the dangers that thickly strew his pathway? It is not to avail them that his tormentors are interested, but that the keenest delight is felt when the gravest danger is most apparent.

The Return

A little hand is knocking at my heart,
And I have closed the door;
I pray thee, for the love of God, depart;
Thou shalt come in no more."

"Open, for I am weary of the way.
The night is very black.
I have been wandering many a night and day.

Open, I have come back."
The little hand is knocking patiently;
I listen, dumb with pain.
"Wilt thou not open any more to me?
I have come back again."

"I will not open any more. Depart.
I, once that lived, am dead."
The hand that had been knocking at my heart

Was still. "And I?" she said.
There is no sound, save in the winter air,
The sound of wind and rain,
All that I lived in all the world stands there,
And w 'I not knock again.

—Arthur Symons.

Hendrickson, Ohio Falls, Ind., writes, "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best for coughs, colds and croup, and is my best seller." For sale by All Dealers.

The old grouch was dying.

"Are you ready to go?" asked the minister.

"Yes," was the reply.

"Then that makes it unanimous."

The farmer is ready to buy your goods. When you have placed your advertising in the Leader saying that you are ready to sell him, that makes it unanimous.

Millionaire's Humor.

Baron Gustave de Rothschild had a pleasant mixture of caution and wagery. Once while in the synagogue his neighbor suddenly plucked him by the sleeve and whispered hoarsely, "I have come away this morning without locking the safe!" "Don't worry," replied Rothschild, looking round at the vast congregation, "we are all of us here!"
