Miss Annie Asbury of Randleman returned home Monday morning after spending several weeks with her sister Mrs. P. Nelson.

We were shown an apple Monday from a tree in Mayor Shaw's yard that was of the third growth for this year. It was from a June apple tree, and well developed.

You wear stockings, now don't you? Well, if you buy the Buster Brown of H. E. Wilkinson and Co., you won't have them to buy so often. Saves money and some trouble. Don't fail to try them.

A shoe to wear that will give comfort and last a good long time is the attractive announcement in J. M. Hendrix and Co., shoe ad of Greensboro. They are nice people and will all ways treat you right.

Try to get money in every honest way, but remember that the more you spend upon real charity, the less you need leave to build your monument, if it is a worthy remembrance you are seeking in the world you will leave.

At the top of the third page of this issue of the Leader will be found the advertisement of Mr. I. J. Mazer of Burlington, an enterprising and progressive merchant. He is making a big cut price sale this week. Don't forget it.

We place an advertisement in this week's Leader for H. W. and J. C. Webb of Hillsboro. These gentlemen carry an immense stock of general merchandise and will be loaded down for the holiday trade. Don't fail to see them.

Some men are born gentlemen, some are made so by their environments, and culture, some men do not know what gentility is, and go through life inflicting their insolence, and shameless brass upon people without ever having learned enough to realize that they do not know what a gentleman acts like.

The Democrats propose a revision of the tariff that will save to the people of this country 743 million dollars, and they expect to do it with a loss of revenue to the government of only six million dollars. Wont there go up a howl from the protected interest of this country. It will be like choking a big calf from his mother.

Dare to do the right, and fear not, but you can not all ways hope to be as popular with the professional liar, and sneak if you do.

An Extra Session of Congress

Governor Woodrow Wilson announces that immediately after his inauguration as President of the United States, he would call an extraordinary session of Congress to convene, not later than April 15, for the purpose of revising the tariff.

Dont

Dont get excited and loose sleep because some members of the so called elite society cuts funny capers over its favorites. At best it is said that much of the high class society is a reckless bawd, and runs riot after pleasures of a questionable character. It is wealth and its trappings upon a fine looking animal, (and men and women are animals) that attracts attention.

An Entertainment.

The entertainment given Tuesday night in the Graded school auditorium by Mrs. Beulah Elwood McNemar was fairly well attended, those present seemed to enjoy the entertainment very much. We do not know how much they realized, but presume it was a nice little sum, to help pay on the new piano purchased for the Graded school.

A Birthday Dinner.

Mr. J. R. Boon was delightfully entertained at his home on last Friday at a surprise birthday dinner. Quite a number of friends and relatives gathered in honor of the occasion. Mr. Boon was the recipient of several nice presents.

Worlds Way

It is not all ways an evidence of fidelity to the churches tenets, that some peoples names appear upon its registry, but rather in many cases a cover to conceal, the deceit, cunning and fraud, and yet we tell you to shut your eyes to it, and only look for the bad to where some chilled hunted brute has hollowed mad dog, then hunt you a brick and follow the rabble. This is the worlds way.

The Alens Must Die

The Supreme Court of Virginia having refused a new trial to Floyd Allen and Claud Swanson Allen, and the barest possibility of Governor Man interfering, they will both be electrocuted December 13.
It is more than likely that Sidney Allen and Wesley Edwards, both on trial for their life in the same shooting scrape will be convicted and go to the electric chair.

A Birthday Party

Mrs. E. W. Wilkerson gave to her son Theron and his little friends a birthday party Monday evening. Theron had reached his eleventh birthday. There was a table prepared with good things at which the following young folks sat down too and enjoyed a feast: Louis Nicholson, Thado Smith, Bess Nicholson, Alma York, Gladys Amick, Syble Walker, Dewy Bobbitt, Annie Dollar, Johnnie Dollar, Jimmie Dollar, Sallie Thornton, Harvie Thornton, Wilburn and Robert Wilkerson.

A Dangerous Fire.

Two persons were severely burned or hurt by jumping from the windows of an assembly hall in Edgemont suburb of Durham last Sunday night and one woman is probably fatally injured. A hanging lamp was knocked from the ceiling during a session of a convention of the Holiness people, the stairway caught fire and escape was cut off except by the windows of the room, which was on the second floor. Something like 100 were in attendance and in the mad scramble for the windows many were burned. In jumping many more were hurt.

Gift For Elon College.

At the regular chapel service Monday morning President Harper of Elon College read a letter from Dr. Martyn Summerbell, stating that the Francis A. Fry Palmer Fund Board had donated to the college for the fall term the sum of $2,000 on current expense account.
It will be remembered that Mr. Palmer, who created this board gave Elon large sums of money during his life time and added $30,000 to the permanent endowment fund by the terms of his will, which fund became available 12 years ago. His vast estate was left in the hands of a trust corporation bearing his name and it is through this board that the donation of $2,000 just received was given. Each year this board remembers Elon in a substantial way, last year giving the college $2,500.

Good Things Coming the Worlds Way

It is good things coming the worlds way, when Becker and his four gunmen are convicted and sentenced to be electrocuted, and then other good things coming when the whole Allen gang of Virginia are sentenced to be killed. There are a good many things that are righting the worlds wronged. If God vengeance should blight some of the rich social lepers, other things would be righted.

Conviction of the Gunmen

"Gyp the Blood," "Lefty Loui," "Dago Frank," and "Whitey Lewis," who it is alleged killed Herman Rosenthal, the gambler, at the instigation of Charles Becker, must pay the penalty of death in the electric chair. The jury which has been hearing the evidence against the four gunmen, so decided Tuesday evening when it returned a verdict of murder in the first degree after but 20 minutes deliberation.
Sentence will follow and electrocution next.

Better Roads

Carr, N. C. 11-16-12
Editor Leader:—
I write to ask if something cannot be done to work the public road from the Orange county line near Mr. Bob Bates to the Cross Roads road near Mr. Frank Garrisons. This is an important road, we have a splendid road from Prospect Hill and Corbett via Carr to Alamance County line and from there to the Cross Roads road, a distance of 1 and one half miles, it is terrible during the winter and spring. There is a large section of Caswell, Orange and parts of Person counties that haul over this road from Mebane. Last spring the road got so bad that about 80 of the citizens of Orange and Caswell county took their hands and teams and went over to Alamance and worked this road to that we could get to our railroad station. I know that your county has not worked this road for years, it is because Alamance don't want us to come to their town? I have talked to the merchants and Tobacco Warehousemen of Mebane and urged them to see if they could help us, they all assured us they will do all they can to get it worked and that Commissioner Dailey promised them to have it worked. I hope Mr. Editor that you will get behind this and see if you can't get your county to work this short stretch of road, only 1 and one half miles and no more important stretch of road in your county. It means a lot to your town. If your county commissioners will send their road force to this road we will come over from Caswell and Orange to help you again, if your county is too poor to do this work. If you want to help Mebane and Alamance county you will get behind this and urge them to do something.
Orange County.

Hillsboro News

There was a big fire in Hillsboro last Friday night. The Bell View dye house was burned down.
Mr. J. C. Scott of Hillsboro has been confined to his room for several days but is some better.

Mrs. Ormond of Hillsboro is visiting her relatives and friends in Nashville Tenn., where she will spend several weeks.

Miss Cora Litchfield of Durham spent the night in Hillsboro last Friday night with her friend Mrs. J. C. Hassel.

Mr. Lemuel Lynch of Hillsboro who has been sick for several weeks at the Corbinton Inn was taken to the Williams Hospital at Greensboro for treatment, his many friends hope he will soon be well again.

Mrs. R. T. Dunn and little son, Willard of Hillsboro are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Smith at Mebane.

Miss Mary E. Whitaker of Greensboro is visiting her sister Mrs. V. L. Kenion at Hillsboro.

BANNER WAREHOUSE AT OXFORD BURNED

Sales Had Just Been Completed and Much Tobacco on the Floor Was Consumed.

The Banner warehouse at Oxford, owned by Bullock and Mitchell and operated by W. Z. Mitchell, was burned Friday morning at 10 o'clock. The sales for the day had just been completed and much of the tobacco was still on the floor. The fire was caused by a match thrown into a barrel of paint that had been thinned down with gasoline. The paint contained a large proportion of tar and the explosion scattered the fire in all directions. The building was within a few feet of the Exchange hotel and it was with difficulty that this building was saved. Mr. Mitchell was partly protected by insurance, his loss amounting to several thousand dollars.

It is claimed for the legalized primary that it prevents frauds and corruption in the selection of party candidates for office. Down in South Carolina they have long had a legalized primary and the Democratic executive committee of that State has been busily engaged for the past month or so investigating and unearthing fraud and corruption of almost every known species in connection with the recent gubernatorial primary. It was so corrupt and vile that in many counties good men had to hold their noses while it was being investigated. Here is a very striking specimen of your legalized primary.

ADRIANOPOLE FIGHT LIKE PORT ARTHUR

Bulgarians Attended Divine Worship and Then Stripped and Went Into Battle.

Bennett Burleigh, in a despatch from Mustapha Paasha to the Daily Telegraph of London under date of Nov. 15, describes the fighting around Adrianople. He says: "Port Arthur produced no grander or more terrible effects than Sunday night's furious bombardment. Hundreds of shells burst at the same instant over and around Adrianople. Guns of all sizes and kinds made a flaming, roaring inferno which reverberated for miles and rocked and rattled the houses in distant Mustapha Paasha. The Turks attempted to reply, but were soon overpowered by the tremendous strength, energy and accuracy of the besiegers' artillery."
The correspondent describes the storming of the forts on the north and east the same night: "The Bulgarian storming battalions first attended divine worship. Then they stripped and piled their superfluous coats and baggage in the trenches. The Turks precipitated matters by attempting a sally little knowing what was in store for them. There was a tornado of artillery and rifle fire on both sides; then the Bulgarians ran in with bayonet. There was wild and terrible work, with no wish to ask or give quarter. Such Turks as could fly, but they left an awful trail of dead and dying on the field. The battle continued for many hours in a heavy rainstorm."

AN ENORMOUS ESTATE

For a Youth of 21 Years of Age.

When Vincent Astor left the offices of the Astor Estate, at No. 21 West Twenty-sixth street New York at 5:30 o'clock last Friday night, he paused at the door to remark, as if by chance, that he would be around "in the morning as usual." His announcement meant that he would spend the of his coming of age at his desk, as he has spent every day, almost without exception, since he returned from Europe on Sept. 27.
In spite of this routine purpose of the young man his twenty-first anniversary will be marked by developments of an unusual character. Chief among them will be the following:
Vincent Astor will come into absolute control of his $65,000,000 share of the estate left by his father, Col. John Jacob Astor, who lost his life in the sinking of the Titanic, seven months ago. Vincent may do with all or any part of it whatever his fancy may suggest, and no person may offer anything but advice against his action.
Lewis Cass Ledyard will cease to be the guardian of the new head of the American house of Astor, and the new head will come into full enjoyment of the distinction of being the youngest of the line to assume the responsibilities involved thereby.
For the first time since 1892 there will be no entail upon the moiety of the Astor fortune still held in the United States, and the most distinctive trait of the Astors will have been wiped out, perhaps forever. Vincent Astor may entail the estate that is now his if he so wishes.
Besides coming into control of his own affairs, Vincent will take his place with James Roosevelt, Douglas Robinson and Nicholas Biddle in charge of the portions of his father's estate still held in trust—the $5,000,000 set aside for Col. Astor's widow, Mrs. Madeleine Force Astor; the $5,000,000 set aside for Muriel Astor, daughter of Col. Astor's first wife, Mrs. John Astor, and the $3,000,000 set aside for John Jacob Astor, Col. Astor's posthumous son.
In addition—not to say multiplication Vincent Astor succeeds to his father's place as a member of the third panel of the sheriff's jury.

An Artful Dodger.

(Pearson's Weekly.)
"Papa," said George, "it worries me awful to think how much trouble I give mama."
"She hasn't complained."
"No, she's very patient. But she often sends me to the shops for things and they are a good ways off, and I know she gets cross waiting when she's in such a dreadful hurry."
"No often, I fancy."
"Oh, she's nearly always in a hurry she gets everything already for buying and finds at the last minute she hasn't any yeast or she gets a pudding all mixed and finds she hasn't any nutmeg or something and then she's in an awful stew, 'cause the one is all ready and nabe visitors are coming, and I can't run a very long distance, you know; and I feel awful sorry for mama."
"Hump! Well, what can you do about it?"
"I was thinking you might get me a bicycle."

The Teachers Assembly.

Greensboro, N. C. Nov. 16th
Greensboro is busy getting ready for the twenty-ninth annual meeting of the North Carolina Teachers' Assembly which will meet in this city, Wednesday to Saturday, November 27-30, the intention and desire of both the officers of the Association and the local committee having the matter in charge being to make it the biggest and most successful meeting in the entire history of the Assembly.
In 1905, when the Assembly was figuratively on its last legs Greensboro came to the rescue with a subscription of one thousand dollars and helped to make the meeting of that year a turning point in its affairs. Since then the Assembly has been in a flourishing condition, and the fact that it will again this year meet in Greensboro has given an added incentive to all concerned to duplicate and if possible exceed the success of the former here.
In 1912, the program calls for fifty three separate papers and addresses, including many names of national reputation. Among these may be mentioned Hon. E. T. Fairchild, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Kansas and President of the National Educational Association; Doctor George D. Strayer, Professor of the Teachers' College of Columbia University; and Annie S. George, President of the Montessori America Committee and the greatest American authority on the Montessori method; Miss Naomi Noraworthy, of the Teachers College of Columbia University and noted authority on primary work.
The matter of board and lodging for the visiting teachers, which has frequently caused trouble, is being handled in a systematic manner. The Greensboro Woman's Club has undertaken the task of securing homes for seven to eight hundred teachers, and as far as possible homes will be assigned in advance of the meeting at the uniform rate of $1.50 per day. A committee headed by Mrs. C. P. Langley of 836 West Market Street has the matter in charge and those wishing accommodations reserved should communicate with her. This is in addition to the regular hotels which can take about three hundred teachers.
A Bureau of Information and general Headquarters will also be maintained and all teachers have been requested to report there immediately upon their arrival.
City pride as well as interest in education and regard of the hundreds of visiting teachers has caused extra efforts to be made towards the success of the meeting; this being especially true of Greensboro which takes special pride in the fact that it was the first city in the state to levy a special tax for graded schools and the center of the county which blazed the way in the matter of rural taxation.
It is expected that from one thousand to twelve hundred teachers will be in attendance and unless all signs fail, the meeting will be a striking success from every standpoint.

National War on Hazing.

Buffalo Evening News.
Every little while we get reports of the maiming or killing by young men of some student who has gone to college to get an education instead of death. There should be a federal law at once making death by hazing punishable by imprisonment for life. We have had hazing enough in this country, and the college presidents should get together and led by Nicholas Murray Butler of Columbia, for instance, have a uniform law enacted or drafted and have it passed in every State in the Union.
This killing people for fun should be stopped. It is in a way stopped in this State. The parents of boys should teach them before they go to college common decency, and if they are taught that they would not indulge in such "careless boyish pranks" as they have been doing for the past two years. Four deaths have resulted in that time from hazing. The college faculty should expel hazers no matter what influence they have.
The latest case that comes to us by wire from Middletown, Ohio, describes the death of a young man who was required to lie down on all fours and push a lead pencil with his nose across the floor three or four times. The young brutes who stood by to watch this fun kicked him violently in the spine three or four times, and the result is that his death is expected.
Those young villains should be taken out and put in prison and the authorities should see that they are kept there for their natural life. Otherwise they cannot expect parents to send children to such butcher houses in order that students shall have fun at the expense of school fellows lives.

A Premium For Leaf Tobacco.

There is offered through Mr. W. F. Dailey a progressive farmer living North of Mebane, five sacks of Zella high grade fertilizer to the party selling upon the market of Mebane 100lbs or more of the best quality of wrappers, five sacks of the same high grade fertilizer to the farmer who makes the highest average price on a lot of 500lbs of tobacco. These are valuable premiums and are sure worth working for.

Sulloway of New Hampshire Gone.

(From The Vicksburg Herald.)
The defeat of Congressman Sulloway of New Hampshire should be a lesson of value to the cowardice which carried the pensions scandal to record-breaking dimensions in the last Congress. Pension appropriations were Sulloway's chief industry and dragnet for voters. And where he led, regardless of duty and principle, Congressmen trailed, as blindly as sheep follow a bellweather. His dirge has been thus sounded by The New York Sun: "Hon. Cyrus Adams Sulloway of the First New Hampshire district has overhung nine Congresses. A beacon of pension seekers, a tower of ancient Republicanism, a head among the stars, for nearly 20 years the Hon. Cy Sulloway has been mistaken for the other Washington monument by tourists. Birds nested in his marital bed; the telephone ran up from the Speaker's desk to his cloudy summit; yet was he always ready to lout low and shake hands with New Hampshire visitors in the gallery. A tower is fallen, a mountain sunken, also, alas for Cyrus!"

Senator Simmons Is Declared Nominee

Vote in Senatorial Primary Officially Canvassed—Avery Omitted, Stokes Unofficial—Executive Committee Endorses Daniels.

With 47 members present in person and by proxy the State Democratic Executive Committee last Thursday canvassed the vote in the recent senatorial primary and formally declared Senator F. M. Simmons the nominee of the party to succeed himself. The Avery County vote is still out and the Stokes is unofficial. With Avery figures omitted entirely, and unofficial figures from Stokes used, the vote declared by the committee is Clark 16,418; Kitchin 47,017, and Simmons 84,687.

The canvass of the vote was made by a special committee consisting of Chairman Charles A. Webb, Secretary W. E. Brock, A. D. Watts, E. L. Travis and W. A. Devin, E. L. Travis reported for the committee, and the resolution approving the report and declaring Senator Simmons the nominee was made by ex-Judge J. Crawford Biggs.

The committee adopted unanimously a resolution offered by J. R. Blair of Montgomery County, urging upon President-elect Woodrow Wilson the selection of National Committeeman Joseph Daniels as a member of his Cabinet. On motion of Mr. Watts it was ordered that copies of this resolution be furnished to the North Carolina delegation in Congress to be presented through the proper channels at the opportune time.

Votes of thanks were tendered State Chairman Webb and Secretary Brock for their effective service during the campaign, and high tribute paid for great victory won with the shortest means and fewest available campaigners in the history of the party in the State, including biggest vote for President, for Congressmen and for Governor in the history of the party in the State and largest majority in the Legislature on record, 104 in the House and 47 in the Senate.

By congressional districts the senatorial primary vote was as follows: First, Clark 2,092; Kitchin 4,442; Simmons 5,889; second, Clark 1,154; Kitchin 6,629; Simmons 5,589; third, Clark 706; Kitchin 2,611; Simmons 8,594; fourth, Clark 2,018; Kitchin 4,946; Simmons 7,019; fifth, (with Stokes unofficial), Clark 2,035; Kitchin 11,524; Simmons 6,792; sixth, Clark 1,253; Kitchin 3,055; Simmons 8,399; seventh, Clark 2,614; Kitchin 4,046; Simmons 10,865; eighth, Clark 894; Kitchin 3,546; Simmons 3,893; ninth (with Avery omitted), Clark 1,554; Kitchin 3,635; Simmons 10,434; tenth, Clark 2,009; Kitchin 2,224; Simmons 11,239.
