There is something a bit gruesome in the fact that Uncle Sam has sent a thousand or more coffins to Vera Cruz, however much unpleasant it may be if there is real war in Mexico a number will be brought back in coffins.

Spring time has come gentle Annie, with its fragrant flowers its singing birds and its babbling brooks. What a sweet and delightful time of the year, winters icy bands have been broken, the frost king has been vanquished, and world comes forth smiling, in beauty, fragrant with sweet odor, and ringing with the sweet melody of a thousand songsters. Spring time make manifest the great resurrection when Christ comes the incarnated of the first fruit of those who slept.

It is a peculiar thing to us, for this great big government, with all of its wealth and its resources to allow its secretary of state to send a man an emissary to Villa who is an acknowledged brigand and cut throat to see what he has to say about this war, if war you call it, Mr. Carothers was up to it, when he was patting Villa on the back, and discussing the important part he was playing in the Mexican drama.

So the United States is to have meditation with Mexico. Brazil Argentina and Chila have offered to meditate in the interest of peace. The offer is made jointly and the President of the United States accepts, but between whom are they to meditate? We have a quarrel with Huerta, and still we do not dignify him by recognizing him in any sense as a ruler. Is there a government with which we may treat is there any one that we may meditate with. There is no ruler in Mexico. It is blind chaos, it is anarchy, it is disorder and ruin, a whirlwind of disaster, a babel of shame. Before we can reach an understanding that would relieve the Mexican situation, that would give us an amicable and peaceable understanding we shall have to find the correct source, the acknowledged authority with whom to have the understanding.

You know it, but it can not hurt to repeat the suggestion, the advice the all important rule of trading at home. There has been built up in the past forty years some large and important cities in this country, the most magical growth of them have been the result of united effort. The people have pulled for their home town, they have traded with their home merchants, spent every dollar at home possible. It is the only correct way for a town to advance rapidly, and a people in a community who do not appreciate this fact and live up to it, are slighting the most important factor in town building.

It is all right to say the other fellow should do this that, or the other, but what are you doing, you want him to trade with you, and yet you will send out of town for much that you could buy from your home merchant and buy as cheap as you could buy elsewhere.

Don't disparage, and speak unkindly of home people. It may gratify a little petulant prejudice, but it is showing up the infinitesimal smallness of your nature, and possibly doing some one harm, which in the end may be all you are aiming at, but cut it out, try and see if you have not as good doctors, as good merchants, as good bankers, as good horse traders, in fact as good citizenship as any other place.
