RHEUMATIC SUFFERERS SHOULD USE

Not Always Our Own Master. That which we are we shall teach, not voluntarily, but involuntarily. Thoughts come into our minds by avenues which we never left open, and thoughts go out of our minds through avenues which we never voluntarily opened.—Emerson.

Child Cross? Feverish? Sick?

A cross, peevish, listless child, with coated tongue, pale, doesn't sleep; eats sometimes very little, then again ravenously; stomach sour; breath fetid; pains in stomach, with diarrhea; grinds teeth while asleep, and starts up with terror—all suggest a Worm Killer—something that expels worms, and almost every child has them. Kickapoo Worm Killer is needed. Get a box to-day. Start at once. You won't have to coax, as Kickapoo Worm Killer is a candy confection. Expels the worms, the cause of your child's trouble. 25c. at your druggist.

Sick Headache.

Mrs. A. L. Luckie, East Rochester, N. Y., was a victim of sick headache and despondency, caused by a badly weakened and debilitated condition of her stomach, when she began taking Chamberlain's Tablets. She says, "I found them pleasant to take, also mild effective. I was restored to my former good health." For sale by Mebane Drug Co.

Timkins' Little Joke.

Mr. Striggs, who was very self-important, made an absurd offer for Mr. Timkins' extra lot in East Orange. He allowed a day for Mr. Timkins to think it over; then called again. "Did you entertain my proposition?" he asked. "No," said Mr. Timkins. "Your proposition entertained me."—New York Evening Post.

For a Torpid Liver

Girls Should Marry.

All girls should marry when they can. There's naught more useful than a man. A husband has some faults, no doubt, and yet he's good to have about; And she who doesn't get a mate will wish she had one soon or late. That girl is off her base, I fear, who plans to have a high career, Who sidesteps vows and wedding rings to follow after abstract things.

I know so many ancient maids who in professions, arts or trades have to cut a manlike wrath, and old age finds them in the broth. A loneliness, as of the tomb, enshrouls the spinsters in its gloom; The jim crow honors they have won they'd sell at seven cents a ton. Their sun is sinking in the West, and they, unloved and uncared, Must envy, as they bleakly roam, the girl with husband, hearth and home. Get married, then, Jimima dear; don't fiddle with a cheap career. Select a man who's true and good, whose head is not composed of wood. A man who's sound in mind and limb, then round him up and marry him. Oh, rush him to the altar rail, nor heed his protest or his wail.

"This is," you'll say, when he's been won, "The best days work I've ever done."

The insolent civility of a proud man is, if possible, more shocking than his rudeness could be; because he shows you, by his manner, that he thinks mere condescension in him, and that his goodness alone bestows upon you what you have no pretense to claim.—Chesterfield.
