HE TIMED HIS RESIGNATION

We suppose it will be generally conceded that the Editor of this paper has never entertained any very high regard for Mr. William Jennings Bryan during his whole political career to this date. From the time he started his insane political propaganda of 16 to 1 to the morning when he announced his resignation as Secretary of the State, and quit Mr. Wilson's cabinet, he has been in our estimation the same selfish, unsafe, erratic, politician, playing the cards for Bryan pretending to be looking ahead and surely always with an eye single to his own selfish purpose.

He has stuck his mouth in almost every national issue, and a good many State issues with a view of dominating the Democratic party and its principals of dominating the selection of men for party purposes. It need not be recalled that when the time came to select a man to run for President to be voted for in the last national election, Mr. Bryan vehemently opposed every name that was selected, until he became thoroughly convinced it could never be Bryan, then he reached the conclusion to let up his opposition and claimed, he named Wilson.

He stuck his mouth in our State politics, and did his best to defeat Senator Simmons. It was a matter that was none of his business, and it was a piece of impertinence that he made it such. He has all the gall, and presumption that may be found in any man, and for some reason or other entirely unknown to us has a strangle hold on a number of American people. His method has been to jump ahead at some new and impractical idea to elicit a shout from his followers and thus attract attention.

His resignation as secretary of State was timed to occur when it proved the shabbiest piece of bum statesmanship this country has ever experienced. Nothing that he can say nor any excuse he or his friends can in any degree render for this deliberate and wilful piece of unpatriotic political abasement indulged for none other than rank selfishness.

Bryan timed his resignation when he hoped it would strike the administration the harder blow, and the ink had hardly been dry on the instrument when he began his threat to flood this country with letters in extenuation of his course, an effort at justifying a deviation of popular sentiment in this country at a time when every patriot knew we should stand as one man behind the administration. Mr. Taft today is an infinitely bigger man than Mr. Bryan, Taft is a loyal, a patriotic citizen of this Republic, and a much better man. Who is it that would claim and say that for Bryan.

Mr. Wilson loves peace just as well, or much better than Bryan but he has enough character, enough patriotism to strive to uphold the dignity and honor of this nation, Bryan has not.

The Greensboro News is bucking a head wind when it indulges its pacific utterances in regard to the resignation of William Jennings Bryan, with a view of voicing public sentiment. It won't be done. There was a day when this neck of the woods was full of Bryan's friends, but they are not here now, they have taken to the tall timber. A man with good sense will see in Mr. Bryan's act the perfidy of a political malcontent.

The News will not help its self espousing Bryan's unreasonable cause and course.

A WASTE OF STALE GAS

The following is clipped from W. J. Bryans letter that he wrote in defense of his resignation. It will be noted how he is playing before the foot lights for attention. What school boy is it that does not know that war is all he has painted it and more too, but what is he going to do about it, what is this nation going to do about it, according to his advise wait until the Germans cut throats enough to satiate their thirst for blood, then with hats off ask them to stop and talk to us about the wrongs she has inflicted upon the citizenship of this country.

To paraphrase a word Bryan says:
Wilson desired peace, but he sought it according to the rules of the old system. He believes that firmness would give the best assurance of the maintenance of peace and faithfully following precedent. The others went so near the fire that they were, one after another, sucked into the contest. Never before have the frightful follies of this fatal system been so clearly revealed as now. The most civilized and enlightened—aye, the most Christian of the Nations of Europe—are grappling with each other as if in a death struggle. They are sacrificing the best and bravest of their sons on the battlefield; they are converting their gardens into cemeteries and their homes into houses of mourning; they are taxing the wealth of today and laying a burden of debt on the toil of the future; they have filled the air with thunderbolts more deadly than those of Jove and they have multiplied the perils of the deep. Adding fresh fuel to the flame of hate, they have daily devised new horrors, until one side is endeavoring to drown non-combatant men, women and children at sea, while the other side seeks to starve non-combatant men, women and children on land. And they are so absorbed in alternate re-aliations and in competitive cruelties that they seem, for the time being, blind to the rights of neutrals and deaf to the appeals of humanity. A tree is known by its fruit. The war in Europe is the ripened fruit of the old system.

"This is what firmness, supported by force has done in the old world; shall we invite it to cross the Atlantic? Already the jingoes of our own country have caught the rabies from the dogs of war; shall the opponents of organized slaughter be silent while the disease spreads?
No Mr. Bryan, we must not do that we will sit still and let Germany murder our citizens and when we plead with her to stop sit still and let her spit in our face, and tell us they do not care a rap as they have Bryan with them, and such other fellows as he can drag away from the administration.

YOUR MONEY.
Will you have it work in your section, and serve your people and your own best interest, or will you send it to the North and North West where it will be forever out of your reach or service? The dollar of this section belongs to this section, and you can keep it here if you will, don't send it off to the mail order houses.

If some men and women will send there money off for goods elsewhere, then they are contributing to the impoverishment of their homes and sections. Don't do it, it don't pay.

SEEDS AND DOLLARS

Seed that is not planted does not grow. Dollars that are not banked do not increase. No farmer is so foolish as to think that a paper bag of watermelon seeds hanging from the rafters, will ever grow until he planted it. Yet are you not expecting those dollars in that bureau drawer will grow without banking them? Dead seeds and dead dollars brings no returns.

Opportunity

They do me wrong who say I come no more
When once I knock and fail to find you in;
For every day I stand outside your door,
And bid you wake, and rise to fight and win.
Wait not for the precious chances passed away,
Weep not for golden ages on the wane!
Each night I burn the records of the day--
At sunrise every soul is born again
Laugh like a boy at splendors that have sped,
To vanish joys be blind and deaf and dumb;
My judgments seal the dead past with its dead.

But never bind a moment yet to come.
Though deep in mire, writing not your hands and weep;
I lend my arm to all who say "I can!"
No shame-faced outcast ever sank so deep
But yet might rise and be again a man!
Dost thou behold thy lost youth all aghast?
Dost reel from righteous Re-tribution's blow?
Then turn from blotted archives of the past.
And find the future's pages white as snow.

Art thou a mourner? Rouse thee from thy spell;
Art thou a sinner? Sin may be forgiven;
Each morning gives thee wings to flee from hell,
Each night a star to guide thy feet to heaven.

Bright Salesman

(Harper's Magazine)
The depression in business caused a local jeweler to discharge his experienced man, replacing him with a high school graduate—a youth just out of school. He appeared very anxious to learn, and the proprietor at the end of the first week was much pleased with results. One day the merchant was obliged to be away from the store, and upon his return inquired:
"Well, Frank, did you sell anything while I was out?"
"Yes, sir; I sold five plain band rings."
"Fine, my boy!" said the jeweler, enthusiastically. "We'll make a salesman out of you one of these days. You got the regular price for them, of course?"
"Oh, yes, sir. The price on the inside was 18c., and the man took all that was left, sir." 18 stood for 18 carat gold.
