Soldiers and Food.

Raleigh, March 25.—Future officers of the United States Army, who are now receiving their training in the United States Military Academy at West Point, are helping to conserve this country's food. At the same time the health of the cadet corps is better than ever, according to Captain A. B. Dixon, Treasurer of the U. S. Military Academy.
All bread used at the Academy is composed of 45 per cent flour, 45 per cent rye and 10 per cent white bolted corn flour. This bread is entirely satisfactory, and many cadets consider it superior to the former product composed entirely of wheat flour.
A great saving has been effected in the use of fats. Formerly about 840 pounds of lard and 450 pounds of butter were consumed by the cadets each month. The use of these two products has been entirely discontinued. In their place, drippings obtained from the fatty portions of meat carcasses are substituted; the yield from the meat purchased for use in the mess being about 2,500 pounds of fine grease, which is used in making pie crusts, French fried potatoes and similar dishes. After this grease has served its purpose it is shipped to New York where the clear grease is sold at 13 1/2¢ per pound, the by-products in the way of scraps bringing 4 1/2¢. The bones from the carcasses are sold at 1 1/2¢ per pound.
During the month of January the revenue from the sale of grease that had been once used brought $616.00
The sugar problem has also been solved to the satisfaction of the authorities and without discomfort to the cadets. Formerly a great deal of syrup made from granulated sugar combined with maple product was used in the mess. A refined cane syrup was substituted and it gave satisfaction and substantially cut the consumption of sugar.
Meatless Tuesday is being observed in the Academy, and it is said that the health of the corps is better at the present time, due to the reduction in the consumption of meat, than when the cadets received meat in some form two or three times a day. The number being fed in the mess is about 775. Each person is served three meals a day.

Having qualified as Executor of Sabrie Doss, dec., all persons holding claims against said estate are hereby notified to present the same to the undersigned within 12 months from this date or this notice will be pleaded in bar of recovery.
All persons owing said estate will please make immediate settlement. This the 23rd day of February, 1918.

ALLIES READY TO STRIKE BACK AT HUNS

With Slackening of German Pace British Prepare for Offensive Blow.

After six days of terrific fighting, the German offense in France is beginning to show signs of losing its momentum. The progress of the enemy has materially slackened and the form of the dent made in the allied line west of Cambrai has begun to resemble the familiar wedge-like salient, instead of the broad, straight, forward movement of an offensive which carries all before it.
At its apex this wedge has gone beyond Albert, to the south of that place and is to the westward of the old allied line as it stood a year ago when von Hindenburg began his "strategic retreat." From this point the line runs off to the northeast at a gentle angle, with the line to the south running back until it reaches the Oise river.

German Effort Defeated

In spite of tremendous exertions and terrible losses, the German efforts to widen the tip of this salient were defeated on Tuesday. The British lines have stood firm to the north and have forced the Germans to turn southward toward the point of least resistance.
Official statements issued at London confirm the report from Berlin that American forces are engaged in the struggle. They are reported as "fighting shoulder to shoulder" with the French and British in the region of Roye, on the southern side of the salient driven into the allied front. There has been no official report sent to Washington as to the identity of these troops who are taking part in this greatest battle in history.

Allies Ready to Strike Back.

With the slackening of the German pace there come indications that the allies are ready to strike back somewhere along the front. Just where this blow will be launched will not be known until it is struck, but it may be expected that its impact will be terrific. It is known that the allied war council at Versailles created a great strategic reserve of men to be used in just the contingency which confronts the armies which have borne the brunt of the fighting since last Thursday morning.
This force probably will be launched when and where it is believed it will break the force of the German onslaught and send the enemy reeling back over the desert from which the British have slowly withdrawn.

Each succeeding day reveals the plan of the Germans absolutely to crush the allied lines west of Cambrai, a terrain which could not be defended by von Hindenburg a year ago. Each official report shows that this sector is valueless from a military standpoint and that the Germans have paid a terrible price for their advance to the lines established by the allies during the first two years of warfare. It is officially reported that 70 German divisions, or 840,000 men, have taken part in the fighting and that troops have been moved from every part of the western battlefield to reinforce the armies which have been forcing the British to fall back. Observers at the front say that the German losses have been frightful, and that the enemy has lost from 10 to 20 per cent of his men, by the most conservative estimates.

Repetition of Kluck's Dash.

The situation as it stands seems to be a repetition of the dash of General von Kluck on Paris, in 1914, when the German artillery and transport could not keep up with the infantry and the French were able to turn back the invaders at the Marne. Reports from various sectors in the last two days have indicated that the German infantry, relying on its mass attacks, has fought without the customary assistance of the artillery. To bring up heavy guns requires time and the German advance will steadily become more painful and costly.
While the German line of communications has been growing longer, the British have constantly moved nearer their base of supplies. It is probable that the line where stern battle will be given is not far away from the present position of the front.
There has been no activity on the Italian front, but no attacks of importance have been made by either side in this theater of the war. The American lines in the Luneville and Toul sectors have been bombarded once more, but no infantry fighting is reported there. North of the Somme battlefield there have been no engagements of significance. The British troops in Palestine have captured the village of Es-Salt, in the hills to the east of the Jordan and far in advance of the rest of the line running west to the Mediterranean.

Fifteen Years for Vermont Minister.

Burlington, Vt.—The Rev. Clarence H. Waldron was sentenced to 15 years in the United States penitentiary at Atlanta Ga., in the Federal Court here Thursday, following his conviction Tuesday, of disloyal utterances and of attempting to obstruct the operation of the Selective Draft Act. It is expected that an appeal will be taken to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in New York as soon as Rufus E. Brown, attorney for the defense, returns here tomorrow. After the sentence was passed Judge Howe continued the court until April 9. The judge refused to allow Mr. Waldron to be released on bail and ordered him taken to the Chittenden County Jail.
Another case of a similar nature was settled in the court at the same time when Harold Mackley of Holland, Vt., was sentenced to 15 years at Atlanta for disloyal utterances. Evidence was produced to show that Mackley boasted that he was proud of his German descent, and if forced to fight against the Germans, would kill the Americans before he was shot. His employer offered evidence that Mackley said he would be glad if the United States was beaten, claiming that "if the country had minded its own business it wouldn't be in war." Mackley, in defending himself said that these were "jokes."
Mr. Waldron was tried at Brattleboro about two months ago when the jury failed to agree after being out 24 hours. At both trials, Waldron has protested his innocence of the charges against him, despite the many witnesses produced by the Government that Wildron had been refused the use of a Baptist church on account of his pacifist tendencies and that he had spoken against the Liberty loans as well as advising young men to oppose the draft, even to the extent of being shot for so doing.

Mount Airy Iron Works

Foundry and Machine Shop
Repair Work a Specialty

A large variety of castings a stock, others made to order.

J. D. MINICK,
Mt. Airy, N. C., Aug. 28, 1915.

Notice to Timber Men

We have orders for 20,000 No. 1. cross ties from White Oak, Post, and Chestnut oak, standard specifications of 7"X8"X8 feet and 6 inches long, when sawed and 7"X7" hewed, same length as sawed.
We also have order for 5,000 No. 2 cross ties, to be any size under the above sizes, down to 6"X7" and length to be the same as for No. ones, also to be from above kinds of oak timber.
Almost all timber haulers already know the specification and we mention this for those who will be getting out timber this year who have not made ties before.
Also all this timber must be sound, all knots smoothed off with the tie and all bark peeled off when either sawed or hewed.
A great many haulers lose their grade by measuring with their axe handles and we would ask that you cut a pole exactly eight and one half feet long and make all ties according to this length, and notch it for 7 inches to get face and thickness.
At this time we also wish to thank the hundreds of people who sold their timber to us last year and beg to assure them of the same fair and courteous treatment for the coming season.
The price, effective February 1st is 60 cents each for No. 1 ties and 50 cents for second class.
For Red Oak, Spanish Oak, and all other kinds of oak (except the above mentioned kinds,) also Hickory and Ash we will pay 50 cents for No. 1's, and 40 cents for No. 2's, same specifications as above.
