The Excuse Would Have Been Fine If—

Four High School boys, lured by the balmy spring air and beautiful sunshine, bathed them an excuse for staying out of school Monday morning, so they decided to tell their teacher that they were summoned to court as witnesses. Every thing worked beautifully until the excuse came to the ears of Prof. Epps who stepped up town to the court house to investigate it and there was no court in session. Hard luck for boys with spring-fever wasn't it?

To School Patrons

School is progressing nicely. The teachers are about all back on the job, and the influenza situation is much improved. Much precaution is being taken for your child's health at school, so don't be afraid to send him. We want all the children to be reported, but to do this, it will be necessary for them to attend regularly.

The attendance has been fine on Saturdays, there being but a very few out that were in school the Fridays before. This is a fine evidence that the majority of both parents and children are with us in this plan.

L. M. Epps.

All the Sunday school teachers and workers are urged to be present at the Friend's church Friday night of this week at 7:30 o'clock. The meeting is of unusual importance. The subject, "How Shall We Secure and Train Teachers for Sunday School Work?" will be discussed by three good speakers in 10 minute talks. We especially want a large crowd of young people present.

Increase in Tobacco Acreage Not Likely

Danville, Va., March 20.—W. M. Perry, country farm demonstration agent who has just returned from a tour of the country, declares that the farmers will not attempt to produce a larger crop of tobacco than that planted out last year. The difficulty in obtaining farm labor and the fact that the planter now turns more attention to growing and producing foodstuffs needed by him during the year. Farm work is delayed owing to the recent unseasonable weather.

Fire Prevention and Clean-Up Week

A whole week of "Fire Prevention" work was inaugurated in 1918 as a Spring clean-up drive. It was such a success, it was repeated last year and is now in the class of unwritten laws, observed because of its necessity. Begun for fire prevention, it soon became a patent health measure. This year, the State Department of Education, the State Board of Health, the Womens Federation of Clubs, through its Civics department, Chairman Mrs. H. W. Chase, will act in conjunction with the insurance department. At a recent conference of these forces held at the state insurance department, the week beginning March 28th and ending April 3rd, was selected as fire prevention, or clean-up week throughout the state. It was also agreed that a request be made of all ministers to make some reference to their congregations of fire prevention and sanitary features of the weeks special work, on Sunday, March 28, and where agreeable, deliver a sermon from the text, "Cleanliness is next to Godliness". Commissioner Young thinks the date peculiarly appropriate in that the week precedes Easter, when singing birds, springing flowers, happy children, Easter bonneted women, newly caparisoned men, and all nature will smile in celebration of the anniversary of the risen Lord. It is really this year the actual beginning of Spring, and no better season he says could be fixed to have the cities and towns and all the country side swept and garnished for the jubiliant festival. He requests all who desire it to write for literature bearing on fire prevention. And requests for speakers will be honored where possible.

Mount Airy Churches To Make A Religious Survey

(Walter R. West)

On Tuesday evening of this week a very important meeting was held in the Sunday school annex of Central Methodist church. Committees representing the First Baptist, Presbyterian, Friends, and the Methodist churches met for the purpose of devising ways and means for making a religious census of the entire white population of Mount Airy.

Purpose Of Meeting Outlined

Rev. Walter R. West, in outlining purpose of the meeting, said, in substance, that there was a preponderating mass of our population outside the pale of any church communion, that the primary purpose of all our church work was to get the indifferent church member whose membership had been left in some out-of-town church in harness and to seek out the unaved citizen and win him for Christ; that we had been trying to accomplish this difficult aim in an unsystematic and slipshod manner; that we ought to present a solid united front in working out this delicate task; and that the meeting had been called with the object in view of planning for a thorough survey of our community, in order that each denomination might secure data from which it can find out its evangelistic responsibility.

Organization

The meeting was then thrown open for general discussion. As a result of this deliberation the following organization was perfected: D. E. Hoffman was elected general director of the census; denominational directors were elected as follows: W. L. Dunman, J. H. Carter, J. M. Holloway, L. P. Wrenn, and B. F. Sparger; Mr. Hoffman nominated the following committee to assist him in districting the town. A. V. West, E. M. Linville, J. M. Holloway, W. L. Dunman and E. C. Bivens.

Plans For Survey

Due to the fact that the Friends begin evangelistic services on next Sunday, and therefore desired to have information to be obtained by the census as soon as possible, it was decided to make the canvass on next Sunday afternoon, March 29 beginning promptly at two o'clock.

It was further determined that we would need at least forty teams of two each or eighty individuals to make the survey within two or two and one-half hours. Consequently the minimum number of canvassers allotted to the various churches was as follows: Friends 12, Presbyterian 12, Second Baptist 10, First Baptist 30, Episcopal 6, Methodist 36. In addition, each congregation is asked to secure alternates to the number of 20 per cent of its quota. This will guarantee a sufficient body of men and women to reach each district.

The denominational director of each church is responsible for securing the minimum quota of canvassers from his membership and for placing a list of names in the hands of the general director not later than Friday afternoon. This is absolutely demanded in order that the Districting Committee and the denominational directors may hold a meeting on Friday night for the purpose of assigning canvassers to each district.

Furthermore, the canvassers are insistently urged to meet in the Sunday school assembly room of the Methodist church not later than 1:45 on Sunday afternoon. It is essential that canvassers be on time, so as to get assignment of districts and to receive final instructions, and so that they may begin the survey concertedly at 2 P. M. These conditions being rigidly adhered to, the canvass can be completed in two hours.

Necessity of General Cooperation.

Finally, it is fundamentally necessary that the people of our town give hearty cooperation if the survey be a success. Therefore the committee earnestly hopes that every family may leave some member at home, until team gets there, who is qualified to give the desired information. Our churches need these facts before they can definitely and methodically undertake to advance the Kingdom in our community. They desire to give every unchurched and unaved man, woman and child direct, personal, repeated, and cordial invitations to take an eternal stand with Jesus Christ in His ceaseless warfare against all enemies of our immortal souls. May we not confidently count on you to aid Him in the work which cost Him such unutterable travail of soul?
