Valentine Dinner

Misses Jessie and Maria Woods, Sallie Bunker and Nell Simpson, the senior cookery class of the White Plains high school, served a four course dinner at six o'clock Wednesday evening February 15, in the domestic science laboratory under the direction of their teacher, Miss Nina Robertson. Covers were laid for eight the centerpiece was red and white flowers. The place cards were dainty valentines. The dinner was served to the following guests: Messrs Sanford Chilton, Perry Taylor, Harry Robertson, Hobart Simpson, and Sparger Robertson.

On Honor Roll N. C. C. W.

We noticed with pride that the name of Miss Kate Mitchell of Mount Airy, N. C. appeared among the names of fifteen seniors making a grade of not less than 90 per cent on all their studies in the mid-term report of the North Carolina College for Women. The whole report was gratifying to our State pride in that 252 young ladies in the college had no grade less than a three, but we are especially gratified to claim one of the fifteen seniors who ranked highest.

Miss Tyson Honor Guest

A charming little party was given by Mrs. M. Ellis last Thursday evening complimentary to Miss Tyson who was recuperating in the home of Mrs. Ellis, after being confined to the hospital for two weeks with a broken bone in her foot. Cards were played at three tables after which a delicious salad course with coffee and whipped cream was served.

NOT HER HONEY

A newly married couple stopped at a hotel, and one morning the bride went shopping, leaving her "hubby" in their room. Returning soon, she rapped at what she supposed was their door and said "Honey, let me in." Receiving no response, she knocked louder and demanded, "Honey, oh, honey, you mean thing, won't you let me in?" And a deep bass voice responded, "Madam, this is no bee hive; this is a bath room."

WORN NERVES

Nervous troubles, with backache, dizzy spells, queer pains and irregular kidneys, give reason to suspect kidney weakness and to try the remedy that has helped your neighbors.

Mrs. C. F. James, 257 S. Main St., says: "I suffered a good deal with kidney trouble and my back would ache so I could hardly stand. Sharp pains would catch me and I nearly collapsed. It seemed as if a knife were stabbing me in the back. I couldn't straighten for some time after an attack of this kind and my kidneys acted too frequently and caused me a great deal of misery. My nerves were pretty bad and there were other symptoms of the trouble. A friend recommended Doan's Kidney Pills and I began taking them. They gradually rid me of this complaint and I have had no trouble since."

Three years later, Mrs. James added: "I always keep Doan's Kidney Pills on hand, for I know their value. They have brought me quick relief whenever I have had occasion to use them and I recommend them now as highly as ever."

A Judicious Inquiry

A well known traveling man who visits the drug trade, says he has often heard druggists ask a customer who wished to buy a cough medicine, whether it was for a child or an adult, and if for a child, they almost invariably recommended Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. The reason for this is that they know there is no danger from it and that it always cures. There is not the least danger in giving it and for colds, croup and whooping cough it is unsurpassed.
