The residence of J. C. Hall of Westfield R. F. D. was the scene of a pretty marriage at 2 p. m. Sunday when his daughter Miss Flora B. Hall became the bride of John Curtis Cole of Pinnacle, the Rev. J. H. Haynes officiating. They will reside at Pinnacle.

Study Class

The Mission Study class of the Presbyterian church met in the home of Mrs. J. G. Powell, Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock with a full attendance, continuing the study of the text "The Triumphs of the Gospel in the Congo" under the leadership of Mrs. W. M. Lewis.

After the discussion of the lesson the hostess served sandwiches, coffee and cheese straws followed by candy.

Joint Hostesses

Mesdames D. E. Hoffman and B. Y. Graves were joint hostesses at a delightful little party Saturday evening in the home of the former.

Book was played at five tables, Mrs. J. D. McCollum receiving the prize a bud vase for making the highest score and Mrs. J. H. Carter receiving the consolation.

A delicious chicken salad course with coffee was followed by an ice course.

New Building and Loan Association

A meeting of stock-holders was held Friday night, March 10th, in the office of the Mt. Airy Insurance & Realty Co. and an organization perfected to be known as the Home Building & Loan Association of Mt. Airy. The following representative men were elected as directors of the company:

E. H. Kochtitzky, C. A. Shelton, C. W. Andrew, J. A. Tesh, D. H. Cook, N. W. Dobbins, W. E. Lindsay, A. G. Bowman, W. I. Monday, J. B. Jeffries, and C. M. Whitlock.

The directors then elected officers as follows:

W. E. Lindsay, pres., J. A. Tesh, vice-pres., Geo. W. Sparger, Jr., secy., & treas., and E. C. Bivens, attorney.

There was quite a good attendance of the stock-holders at the meeting and much interest manifested in the new company.

There is already one Building & Loan Association here which has done much for the up-building of Mt. Airy and about fifteen hundred shares have already been pledged in the newly organized association.

There is already one Building & the wage-earner or capitalist and there is no organization that does as much for the mutual help to the community or the up-building of a town.

The first series will open April 1st in the office of the Mt. Airy Insurance & Realty Co.

Water Supply for Stock Needed

We have been asked to call attention of the City Fathers to the fact that since the street work was finished on North Main street there has not been any water supply in that end of town for farmers driving horses and mules to town. This request comes from people who come from the section north of Mount Airy, and they say they have to trouble people living along the road or else make a long trip without watering their horses.

Students Visit Nations Capital

Miss Mary Herring of this city left with a group of students, who are studying government at the North Carolina college for Women, Tuesday for a trip to Washington, D. C., where they will spend two days visiting points of interest at the capital and will see both houses of Congress in session. It is the present plan that while they are in Washington the class will stop at the recently completed hotel for women, and with that as headquarters, will make visits to Mt. Vernon, Arlington, and other points of historical interest.

They will be chaperoned by Miss Harriett Elliott and Dr. J. I. Foust.

Miss Elliott believes that the sight of the government machinery at work will do much to increase the interest of the students.

Senior Social

The Senior High school class enjoyed a delightful social meeting Friday evening in the home of Miss Frances Foy.

Games were enjoyed, and delicious refreshments attractively served.

Two Parties for Mrs. Duffield

Mrs. W. M. McCulley very delightfully entertained Friday evening honoring Mrs. Sargent Duffield of Wilkesboro, house guest of Mrs. Mabel Foy.

Jonquils and hyacinths afforded attractive decorations, rook was played at four tables after which Misses Ethel Haynes and Lillian Sparger assisted the hostess in serving a delicious salad course.

Mrs. Duffield was again honored on Saturday afternoon when Mrs. Mabel Foy entertained at six tables of rook.

Delicious fruit salad was served after the games.

Trinity Episcopal Church

Lenten service with sermon Monday night, March 20th, 1922 at 7:30 p. m.

Twice Hostess

Miss Mary Hannah was twice hostess last week, the members of the Young Ladies book club being her guests Thursday afternoon, and the married ladies Friday afternoon.

Yellow jonquils, harbingers of spring, in green bowls and vases were effectively used in the decorations. St. Patrick's Day place cards marked the places at six tables of cards. Miss Marion Prather securing the prize, two Maderia handkerchiefs, on Thursday, and Mrs. E. C. Bivens receiving a blue bowl filled with jonquils for making the highest score, Friday.

A delicious salad course with coffee was served. Those assisting in serving being Misses Marion Prather, Mary Thompson, Anna Rector, Irene Thompson and Mrs. Jesse F. Prather.

To Meet Mrs. McKimmon

One of the most thoroly delightful gatherings of the week, was the coming together of the members of the council, of the Woman's club, last Friday evening in the home of Mrs. W. E. Jackson, in a charmingly informal way, to become better acquainted with Mrs. Jane S. McKimmon of Raleigh who addressed the club at the City Hall in the afternoon.

The evening was spent in conversation, and much information was gleaned from the honor guest regarding club work thruout the state.

Dainty refreshments were served during the evening.

Birthday Party

Carroll Weaver celebrated his 13th birthday Saturday afternoon by entertaining his friends at a very enjoyable party. Games were played after which homemade candy and fruit were served.
