Winston May Suspend

Funerals on Sabbath

Winston-Salem, Oct. 2.—The local Ministerial association, at its monthly meeting today, went on record in favor of putting a ban on Sunday funerals, except where such are actually necessary. The undertakers here are also said to be in favor of the movement. A committee from the association was named to confer with the officials of all the churches and secure their opinion. If it is favorable Sunday funerals are expected to be dispensed with in Winston-Salem.

Sparks Circus Delights Mount

Airy People

By Ned W. Holt

After an absence of several years Sparks circus, frequently called the "twentieth century wonder show," has again endeared itself to the hearts of Mount Airy people.

From the time of the arrival of its all steel special trains, early in the morning, until its departure late at night, last Thursday, the people of Mount Airy were treated to the most wonderful exhibition of team work, union and harmony imaginable.

Conspicuous, by its absence, was the hurry and bustle usually employed by an aggregation of this kind in getting to and from the show grounds. Absolutely no friction, whatever, even the stately draft horses and ponderous elephants seemed to enter into the spirit of co-operation, as they peacefully wended their way to the fair grounds, where, long before parade time a city of tents was gleaming in the autumn sun.

When the call for parade came, with clock like precision, mammoth floats and glittering tableau wagons augmented by outriders fell into formation and passed in review thru the principal streets of the city.

Open cages and dens displayed, to thousands who thronged the thoroughfares, blue blood of the animal kingdom. From miniature monkeys to lordly lions, denizens of the jungle, each a prize specimen of his species, they were beautiful to behold. An especially pleasing feature of the street pageant was the beautiful appearance of Sparks horses. Their condition could not have been improved upon. Sleek and fat they paid silent tribute to the careful attention of their hostlers. In fact, the "March," from herald to calliope, was a signal success and an entirely pleasing spectacle.

The day being unusually fine, thousands were in attendance when the doors were thrown open for the afternoon performance. Immediately upon entering the tents, one was struck by the elaborate display of paraphernalia. From ring back to big top everything was ship-shape and up to the "Sparks" standard. In seating and caring for the crowds, courtesy seemed to predominate the attitude of the circus employees. Really, one was made to feel that he was a guest rather than a patron.

After a pleasing concert by Pro. Jack Phillips concert band, the show went into action with a "whirl." An imposing spectacle—The Parade Of The Sheik Thru Arabia—was staged as the grand entree. Then began a succession of the most elaborate and gorgeously arrayed circus acts ever seen in this section. Working in unison, until a climax was reached, feature followed feature, until some breath taking feat stopped the show, world famous artists and animal actors held those in attendance enthralled.

Well known in this community for its criterion of honesty and integrity, the visits of Sparks circus are always looked forward to with almost the eager anticipation one would experience when expecting home folks home. This show was founded thirty five years ago by John H. Sparks who, at his death passed it on to his sons Charles and Clifford. The Sparks show thru its fair dealing with the public, has created an international reputation by strictly adhering to the slogan of cleanliness and honesty. "It truly might be termed the aristocrat of circuses."

To Bring New York Man To N. C. For Trial

Raleigh, Oct. 3.—United States District Attorney Irvin B. Tucker has been informed that Frank Echels, of New York City, said to be the largest dealer in stolen automobiles in the United States, has been arrested on an indictment returned by the grand jury at the special term of federal court here last week.

Echels will be brought here for trial but it is assumed that he will give bond before a United States Commissioner in New York for his appearance here at the November term of court.

According to Mr. Tucker, Echels has made a fortune of a half million dollars dealing in stolen automobiles and the case is considered of far greater importance than the so-called Kelly cases tried during the past year, in which fourteen defendants were charged with dealing in over one hundred stolen automobiles in seven different states. C. J. Killy, of Sanford, alleged to be the distributor of an organized gang of thieves, was sentenced to five years in the federal prison in Atlanta. The trial also involved A. W. Hoffman, but he was used as a government witness and escaped with a fine of $100, while four other defendants also received prison sentences.

Hubbard-Merritt

Elkin, Oct. 7.—Characterized by unusual beauty, and an event of wide spread interest was the wedding of Miss Catherine Hubbard and Mr. Oscar Merritt, of Mount Airy, which occurred this afternoon at five o'clock, in the Methodist church.

An effective wedding setting of white and green had been arranged. A mass of pines formed the background of the altar, while in the center was a graceful basket of exquisite white dahlias. On either side, lights of cathedral candles from groups of candelabra, softly glowed. Around the chancel rail, dahlias and ferns were artistically arranged. Prior to the nuptial service, the following program was rendered by Dr. Vardrey McBee:

"Maestoso" Organist
"Andante Cantezile" Hayden
"Memories" Cyril Montrose
"O'Dolce Concerto" Mozart
"Marche Nuptiale" Rockwell
"Wedding Hymn" Barnby

Immediately preceding the entrance of the wedding party, "The Bridal Chorus," from "The Rose Maiden" was sung by Mesdames E. F. McNeer, R. H. Chatham, E. G. Click and H. P. Graham, Messrs. A. G. Click and T. M. Lillard. "The Wedding March" from Mendelssohn was played as a processional.

The ushers, Messrs. Haywood Merritt, of Mount, and Harold Click, Merritt of Mt. Airy, and Harold Click, O. Bryan, entered in pairs, advancing down either aisle and crossing in front of the altar. Next came the flower girls, little Misses Margaret Abernethy and Nancy Click, daintily and bewitchingly attired in long Kate Greenway dresses of filmy organdy, with poke bonnets of straw, carrying nosegays of old fashioned flowers. The maid of honor, Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, sister of the bride, entered from the left aisle. She wore a becoming gown of green taffeta with silver trimmings and carried an arm bouquet of Russell roses. Entering upon the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride never before looked so lovely. Her elegant gown of white imported satin, with court train, was made in becoming draped fashion, with trimmings of chantilly lace and pearls. Her tulle veil arranged in cap fashion, with orange blossoms and pearls, fell the full length of her train. She carried an exquisite bouquet of bride's roses showered with swansonia. The bride-groom entering from the east vestibule with his best man, Mr. William Merritt, of Mount Airy, met the bride at the altar, where the nuptial ceremony was spoken by the bride's pastor, Rev. A. P. Rattledge. During the ceremony the organist played very softly, "Bride's Song," from Schuman. The "Wedding March" from Mozart, was used as a recessional.

A wedding reception immediately followed at the home of the bride's parents, on Surry Avenue. Receiving in the front hall were Capt. and Mrs. G. T. Roth, who introduced the guests to the receiving line, composed of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hubbard, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Merritt, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Merritt, of Mount Airy, Miss Elizabeth Hubbard, Mr. William Merritt, of Mount Airy, and Rev. A. P. Rattledge.

In the dining room, attractively decorated with autumn leaves and gorgeous dahlias in the varied hues of autumn, Mrs. Harold Messenger, of Hartford, Conn., Mr. and Mrs. T. M. Lillard, presided. Here a delightful salad course and coffee were served. In the gift-room the decorations of which were effected in white and green, Misses Elizabeth Merritt, of Mount Airy, and Louise Roth presided, serving apricot ice. Mr. John S. Roth presided over the bride's register. Adieux were said to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Kennichell, Jr., of Winston-Salem, as the guests departed through the east hall.

Following the reception, Mr. and Mrs. Merritt left by automobile for an extended honeymoon trip. Upon their return they will be at home to their friends in Mount Airy.

The bride's going-away suit was a brown home spun, her hat, gloves and shoes corresponding in color.

The wedding today unites two of Surry county's most widely known and popular young people. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Hubbard, and is one of Elkin's most talented and charming young women. She is a graduate of Greensboro College, and has taught successfully in the graded school for several terms. The bridegroom is a successful young business man of Mount Airy and a graduate of the State University at Chapel Hill and has a host of friends throughout this and other states. An elegant collection of wedding gifts show in a measure the wide popularity of the young couple.

HOLCOMB & MIDKIFF

"Slimy Taste"

"When I feel stupid, get constipated, or bilious, I take a good dose or two of Black-Draught and it sets me straight," writes Mr. George B. Haislep, of R. F. D. 2, Columbia, S. C. "It cleanses the liver and I feel all right, and have not used any other medicine as I do not see the need of it. I am a guard at the State Reformatory, and have been for three or more years. When I first heard of and the good medicine it was, I had been having a tired feeling when I'd get up in the morning. I would be stiff and sore, and had a slimy, bad taste in my mouth, but didn't think so much of it till I began to feel stupid and didn't feel like eating—then I knew I needed medicine. It was then I began Black-Draught, and I felt all made over, ready for any kind of work, ready to eat and sleep. So, for any return of this trouble, I take Black-Draught, and for 25 years it has been my medicine, and I wouldn't be without it at all. My work is constant. I am on my feet a lot. I am out of doors, and fresh air and Black-Draught are all the medicines I need. I recommend it to others for I know it is good."

Have you ever wondered why quick fortunes are never made by funeral directors and why you never hear of millionaire undertakers?

Public need for broader service and improved facilities have resulted in large investments in motor cars, scientific equipment, funeral homes and chapels. These bring about a heavy and continuous operating expense.

Another reason is that the funeral director has taken over all the tasks formerly looked after by neighbors and friends. He also performs scores of additional services which modern conditions and modern sensibilities demand.

In the funeral director's bill, the cost of this service and overhead (often a large proportion of the total cost) usually is included in the charge for better understood items. Such charges should be judged with this fact in mind.
