Virginia State Normal Has $300,000 Fire.

Between four and five hundred women students at the Virginia State Normal school were roused from sleep at 4:30 a. m. Saturday and marched quietly out of the main building which was discovered by the night watchman, to be on fire.

More than half of the 800 students of the institution were housed in the burning building and few of them were able to rescue their clothing and other effects.

The rear wing of the main building was entirely destroyed and school will be closed until after Thanksgiving.

A telegram was received here Saturday by Mr. and Mrs. P. S. Rothrock assuring them of the safety of their daughters Misses Elizabeth and Louise Rothrock, who were students there, their clothing and other belongings were completely destroyed, the message stated.

You have to pay your county tax. Why not pay before Dec. 1st and save the discount? C. H. Haynes, Sheriff.

How Not to Take Cold
Some persons are subject to frequent colds while others seldom, if ever, have a cold. You will find that the latter take good care of themselves. They take shower or cold sponge baths every day in a warm room, avoid over heated rooms, sleep with a window open or partly open, avoid excesses, over eating, becoming over heated and then chilled and getting the feet wet. Then, when they feel the first indication of a cold, they take Chamberlain's Cough Remedy without delay and it is soon over.

Activities of Central Methodist Church

A splendid report of the work being done by Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Frank, in their mission field in Japan, has been received by the pastor Dr. H. E. Boyer. Those who failed to hear Dr. Boyer's review of the report may see the report and read for themselves by applying to Dr. Boyer.

Two strong sermons were preached by the pastor Sunday, in the morning he stressed the truth that without holiness no man shall see God; in the evening he talked on the excesses people make for withholding their best from God's service.

Now that the time has come to furnish the new Sunday school and young people's building, a splendid opportunity is offered for those who wish to do so to establish memorials for their dead. An engraved plate can be placed on the door of any room or on any piece of furniture to mark it as a memorial. Among the suggestions for memorials are new pulpit furniture, a communion table, new choir chairs, and class room furnishings.

The Junior League members will hold their Thanksgiving service next Sunday at 5 p. m., a special program is being prepared.

The Philathea class will have a social meeting in the home of Miss Grace Foy, Friday evening Miss Clegg acting as joint hostess. They are booking special orders for dressed dolls, as well as dressing dolls which will be sold at their bazaar December 7th and 8th.

The district stewards, lay leaders and others will meet at Walnut Cove, Thursday to discuss plans for the work for the new year, C. H. Ireland, of Greensboro, and H. E. Dwire, of Winston-Salem will be among the speakers.

Each member of the church is asked for a Thanksgiving offering for the Children's Home in Winston-Salem equal to one day's income. Let us make a Thanksgiving offering for helpless childhood worthy of the great body of Methodists Central church has become, remembering it is more blessed to give than to receive.—Reporter.

Mrs. Sobotta Twice Hostess.

The hospitable home of Mrs. John Sobotta was especially inviting with its decorations of yellow and white chrysanthemums when on both Wednesday and Thursday afternoon of last week Mrs. Sobotta was hostess to a number of friends.

On Wednesday the Entree Nous club members were her guests and on Thursday she entertained friends not members of this club.

Book was played and at the close of the games Mesdames James Yokley, E. W. Paddison, W. Fulton, E. H. Kochitzky and Ed Hollingsworth served a tempting course of refreshments consisting of chicken salad, olives, wafers, sandwiches, cheese straws, and coffee with whipped cream.

TRUCK PLUNGES HEAD- LONG 35 FEET INTO RIVER

Father Jumps And is Seriously Injured; Son Sticks to Wheel And Gets Only A Dushing.

Frank Bobbitt, aged 40 and his son Eugene Bobbitt, aged 17, driving a Republic truck loaded with a thousand feet of lumber, Tuesday just before noon plunged thru the railing of the approach to the Ararat bridge at the South edge of Mount Airy, the truck jumping clear of the cement retaining wall and plunging headlong 35 feet into the river. The elder Bobbitt jumped as the car left the embankment of the bridge and, striking against the corner of the cement bridge, fell unconscious to the ground below. Eugene who was at the wheel stuck to his post till the truck struck the water, when he and the lumber were unloaded very unceremoniously at the farther edge of the river some 20 feet away.

Both father and son were taken to the Martin Memorial hospital where it was found that the father had sustained fractures at several ribs where he struck the corner of the bridge when he jumped. The boy stuck to the wheel until the impact of the hurtling truck upon striking the water wrenched the rim of the steering wheel from the post and, with the steering rim still clutched in his hands, threw him and a thousand feet of lumber pell mell 20 feet into the water. Strange to say the boy was not hurt save for a mighty cold ducking. Upon arrival at the hospital Eugene was given a hot bath to wash the sand from his ears and hair. He will soon be as good as new but it is feared the elder Bobbitt may have received internal injuries.

The Bobbitts are residents of Galax Va., and are at present engaged in hauling lumber to make concrete forms for a bridge in Stokes county. They loaded up with 1000 feet of two by fours at the Foy lumber yard just before noon, and started to Stokes county. They were going down the cement pavement which the town has recently laid to the Ararat bridge connecting with the Westfield road and must have been going rapidly. The brakes were poor or refused to work and just then two cars were passing on the bridge. The young driver of the truck saw no way to avoid a wreck but chose to take chances on stopping his truck by rapping it into the railing on the left side of the approach to the bridge. The railing is supported at this point by four posts six inches square, set four feet into the ground. When the truck hit the railing the posts were uprooted, the inch board railing splintered into kindling wood, and truck and human freight plunged into the river. The father was picked up unconscious, for fortunately he did not fall into the water.

The truck buried its front wheels in the river sand. It looks like a total loss. The lumber, some of it splintered and broken, swims placidly around on the Ararat. Just how that boy came out of such a wreck alive no one will ever know.

30th Annual Convention U. D. C. in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 19.—The 30th annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy opened tonight with a banquet in the New Willard hotel in honor of the state presidents and the president general. Between 1200 and 1500 delegates are expected here for the convention, and it was estimated that a majority of these had arrived by noon today. The delegates are accompanied by 75 young woman pages, in whose honor the closing ball will be given at the Willard Friday night. Delegates tomorrow go to Annapolis to present a portrait of Admiral Matthe Fontaine Maury, C. S. N., to the Naval academy. Tomorrow night a reception will be given in the Willard. Watch the Kidneys Before and After Childbirth

During the period of pregnancy the kidneys have double work to do, which is apt to strain and weaken them so that they break down and fail to keep up their work of filtering the uric poisons out of the blood-stream. This condition, unless looked after promptly, may kill the baby before birth and ruin the mother's health, too.

The expectant mother, should have her urine examined every two weeks. This should be done by the attending physician, or send sample to Dr. Pierce's Invalids' Hotel, in Buffalo, N. Y., for analysis.

For treating up weakened kidneys, Dr. Pierce's An-uric (anti-uric-acid) Tablets provide effective treatment, and a bottle should be kept in the house and should be used for a time after baby has come to keep the blood free from poisonous matter that might affect the little one during the nursing period. "An-uric" can now be had from all medicine dealers.
