Dr. G. A. Martin Built Church in Concord

The Concord Times of September 8 devotes almost two columns of space to a description of the splendid new home of the congregation of The First Baptist church of that place, which was dedicated Sunday September 7 with Dr. Archibald Johnson preaching the sermon.

Dr. G. A. Martin, brother of our townsman John A. Martin, is pastor of the church and it was largely through his efforts according to The Times that the splendid house of worship was erected.

It cost $70,000 and seats comfortably 1,000 and will care for a Sunday school of 1200.

Dr. Martin is now serving his sixth year as pastor and he has proven himself a man of faith and works, believing that any band of Christians under God could do anything that needs to be done and his wise and heroic leadership has been met with loyalty on the part of his members.

Mrs. Blackburn Ill Nine Months

Capt. Tom Blackburn, aged Confederate Veteran, wishes us to remind the public that his wife remains bed-fast with no improvement after nine months illness—he himself is pitifully frail and unable to work and the small pension he receives is not sufficient for their needs and the care of the sick wife.

As winter approaches there should be no fear in the heart of this, or any other, old soldier that the enemies of want, cold and hunger should enter his home now that he is no longer able to fight.

POSTERITY Will look upon the monuments from our hands as fitting tribute to life that has flown. When you erect one of our memorials you reveal your appreciation for your absent loved ones.

Saturday, September 20

Stuart, Va.
STAPLES HEIGHTS

This property is known as the Old Cotton Mill property now owned by the Patrick Land Company. Consisting of about 65 acres, has been sub-divided into building lots and small tracts, located in the western part of Stuart, in a stone's throw of the business district and public schools, beautified by streets and boulevards.

The Patrick Land Company, desiring to see Stuart grow and owning the most suitable and desirable acreage for development has spared neither time nor money to make this the most popular and desirable section in which to live and will offer a limited number of these beautiful lots at Auction, and the last bidder will be the purchaser and on easy terms.

With the opening of the Cotton Mills a large number of homes will be required to make homes for the numerous people that will come to Stuart to operate the mills and other business that will naturally follow, so now is the time for Stuart's old residents to get busy, show your desire for a larger population by assisting and providing homes for the new comers. With Stuart's large back country of undeveloped resources connecting with North Carolina's good roads together with railroad facilities, there is no reason why Stuart should not double her population in a very, very short time. A good place and time for the home seeker, speculator and investor.

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dressmaker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."

Mrs. MARGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Ky.

If you are planning to buy a lighting plant—

BE SURE you investigate the J. B. Colt system of Carbide-gas lighting, cooking and ironing before you decide.

Lower in original cost than other plants of equal value, 55% cheaper to operate than an electric-light plant (according to published statements of the Wisconsin Agricultural College), and furnishes the light that science says is nearer to sunlight than any other artificial illuminant. The highest insurance authorities agree that Carbide-gas is safer than the illuminant it replaces.

No complicated mechanism to get out of order—no parts to replace—no fuel or lubrication. The J. B. Colt system requires only recharging (average two or three times a year) with Union Carbide, and removal of residue which then gives service as whitewash, soil corrective or germicide.

And remember—besides lighting, this system furnishes gas for cooking, ironing and water-heating.

The J. B. Colt "pit-type" plant is installed in a convenient place in the yard, out of the way and away from the buildings.

Very liberal terms of payment allowed. Have a Colt man tell you the whole story.
