Eight Clean Years

The platforms of the Democratic Republican and La Follette platforms are compared; Democratic and Republican principles contrasted and the party records made plain. Reference is made to "eight unsullied years of Democratic administration." in that period, that party pledges were fulfilled and constructive and dial laws enacted, the economic iff taxes reduced; federal trade comhour laws passed; agricultural condito an emotional impulse fied with tions improved by the Smith-Lever the bonds. Indirectly they declared of men. bill and other beneficial legislation that if Nathan Leopold and Richard passed. It is further pointed out that Loeb were given the benefi: of doubt during the World War "we had a leadership that carried America to greater heights of honor and power and glory than she had ever known before in her entire history"

But, it is shown, "Transition from this period of exalted Democratic leadership to the sordid record of the last three and a half years makes the nation ashamed. It marks the contrast between a high conception of public service and an avid purpose to distribute spoils."

It is declared that "The Democratic party believes in equal rights to all the people and special privileges to none. The Republican party holds that special privileges are essential to national prosperity. The Republican party is concerned chiefly with like Coolidge.
