MYSTERY SHIP COMES INTO PORT AT HALIFAX

Tells Story of Falling Victim to Pirates Worse Than Those on Chinese Sea

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 21.—The four-masted British schooner Veronica was under command of a band of armed liquor pirates for three weeks before it was deserted and left drifting, a cripple of the seas crying for help, it was reported here tonight when the craft was towed into port. The master of the schooner and the two supercargoes refused to talk, but the mate, a Scotchman who claimed years of service on the seven seas, told a story of modern pirates, compared to whom, he said, oriental pirates of the Chinese sea, with whom he had come in contact were "gentlemen."

According to the mate, the Veronica was boarded on October 24 off Mantauk Point by 15 men who came ostensibly to purchase liquor with which he said the craft was loaded. When they were aboard, the mate related, the men covered the crew with pistols.

"Taking complete charge of their prize the hi-jackers proceeded to conduct a wholesale liquor business with small craft, the mate said, until nearly all the cargo was sold."

While the pirates were in command it was said, the officers were kept locked in the chain locker and the crew was forced under threat of violence to assist in disposing of the cargo. Every night, it was reported, the entire crew was locked in a compartment and kept under guard until morning.

Then after crippling the engines of the vessel, smashing her compass, chronometer and other instruments which she might be guided to port the pirates went over the side as casually as they had arrived, leaving their victims an aimless hulk at the mercy of the elements.

The mate said the Veronica drifted about, her officers unable to take their bearings, until flares and rockets they sent up every night were seen by the liner President Harding Wednesday night, three days after they had been cast loose by their captives.

When the Veronica arrived here tonight it was reported that not a drop of water remained aboard and that the supply of provisions was very low. Champaign and whiskey had been used by the crew to assuage their thirst in the absence of water, it is said.

The crew of the schooner, mostly foreigners who could speak but little English, said that they had shipped on the Veronica four months ago in Bremen, ostensibly for a cruise to Morocco.

They said, however, that they had not seen land since the day of their sailing. They reported enormous hardships at the hands of the pirates.

When the craft dropped anchor to-night customs officers sealed up the remaining liquor. No estimate was available of the value of the cargo which had been looted, or the amount the pirates received for what they had sold over the side.

Los Angeles' Water Supply Is Released

Lone Pine, Calif., Nov. 20.—Evacuation of their stronghold at the Alabama control waste gates of the Los Angeles water supply aqueduct seized Sunday was begun today by farmers and ranchers of the Owens valley district, who after a midnight council agreed to terminate their wastage of the municipal water supply. Today the aqueduct was reopened after a four day gesture by the Owens valley people in their 20 year feud with Los Angeles over water.

Determination to permit the water of the valley once more to flow into the reservoirs for use by Los Angeles, was hinged by the Owens valley people upon a resolution adopted Tuesday by the Los Angeles Clearing House association. This resolution was in effect that if the crowd retired the bankers would use their best efforts to bring about an equitable settlement.

Engineer Is Scalded to Death

Spencer, Nov. 21.—Yard Engineer Jno. W. Miller, aged about 50 years, was scalded to death when caught with a sideswipe by another engine on the Spencer yards this afternoon. Death followed in a hospital 2 hours after the accident.

It is said Mr. Miller's engine was standing on a switch when an engine in charge of Engineer Swarringer struck it. Mr. Miller was pinned in his cab with bursted steam pipes blowing hard in his face and body.

He is survived by a wife and three children and had been in the service of the Southern for about 28 years.
