A Brilliant Social Affair

About two hundred fifty people attended the reception given Friday evening in the Blue Ridge hotel parlors when the members of the Woman's club of Mount Airy were hostesses to their husbands, members of the Kiwanis club, teachers of the local schools and girl scouts.

The choicest flowers of the season had been garnered and used in flower baskets and vases in profusion to make an attractive setting for the beautiful occasion and music was furnished by Miss Nell Folger pianist and Mr. Edward Haymore, saxophonist.

The receiving line consisted of the club president Mrs. Lovill and Dr. Lovill, the president of the Kiwanis club, E. M. Linville and wife, Mayor Sydney P. of, and Mrs. J. H. Hurd of the school faculty.

The club members, who received their guests were assisted in the dining room where ice cream, cake and mints were served and again at the punch table by girl scouts.

Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Carter have moved into the Marion home on Rockford street.

Broadway Theatre to Use The News as a Regular Medium in Advertising

Commencing with this issue of The News the Broadway Theatre of this city will in the future carry an advertisement in the coming week's program. This, will do doubt come as a welcome to the many patrons of this popular theatre for it will be an attractively arranged ad in the form of a program and can be clipped from the paper each week and saved for future reference as to the coming attractions.

The management of the Broadway announces that for the coming season they have a line-up of attractions seldom equaled. Every picture has a big cast of stars that reads like the blue book of filmdom. The stories are from the greatest authors and from famous stage plays. To please the children and those who like comedies the film market has been combed thoroughly to provide the very best in this line of entertainment, then too the Broadway has an exclusive contract to show each Tuesday and Friday the International News reel. This particular subject gives one the latest news in pictures and as one patron expressed it, "Its worth twice the price of admission any time."

Virginia Farmer Dies Suddenly

The remains of J. W. Stockner, of Fancy Gap, Va., passed through this city Wednesday to his home en route from High Point where the deceased died suddenly Tuesday morning. He was in High Point with a load of farm products and was on a truck driven by S. M. Combs of his neighborhood. Suddenly Mr. Stockner fell from the truck and when he was reached life was extinct. He was bruised in several places about the body but the doctors called to render him aid stated that death was caused by apoplexy. The deceased was about 45 years of age and was a prosperous farmer of his section.
