MISS FOISTER'S BODY FOUND

Further Details of the Great Havoc and Loss of Life in Asheville.

Asheville Dispatch, 19th.

The body of Miss Mabel Foister, one of the Biltmore nurses who was drowned with Miss Charlotte Walker, another nurse, her sister, and Capt. Lipe, was found this afternoon in a clump of bushes on the Biltmore estate about one mile from the entrance of the estate. All efforts to locate Capt. Lipe's body have been in vain. Funeral services were held today over the remains of the Walker sisters and the bodies will be placed in a vault in the Asheville cemetery pending removal to the family burial plot at Black Mountain.

Between Asheville and Hendersonville the railroad track in many places was damaged to a great extent. Trestles and fills have disappeared. The highway is in a very bad condition.

Three stores, two dwellings, several smaller buildings and the post-office were carried away at Bat Cave. Those who drowned were Isaac Connor, Marie Freeman, a young son of Tilden Freeman, of Fruitland, Mrs. Edgar Huntley and two children and a daughter of Henry Hill at Bat Cave never had a chance for their lives. It was before daybreak Sunday when the flood gates of heaven were opened wide and oceanlike waves began to roll down the mountains. M. D. Hall, of Green Hill, was drowned in an effort to swim the river on Monday.

Two bodies of men were seen floating down the river on Monday and it is believed that they had lived in McDowell county.

Federal Aid Requested.

Washington Dispatch, 19th.

Reports of destruction wrought by the rains in Wilkes county continue to reach Washington. Representative Doughton received a letter today from J. H. Berkley an attorney of Taylorsville, asking that he ask the federal government for at least $10,000 to put the road between Wilkesboro and Taylorsville in condition so that supply and mail may be sent into the county which is cut off from the outside world.

According to Mr. Merke the food supply in Wilkes county will not last more than a week, while it will take 100 men about 30 days to put the road between Wilkesboro and Taylorsville in conditions to be used by trains. The railroad between Wilkesboro and Winston-Salem, Mr. Berke says, will not be in shape for train service within a month.

Flood Briefs.

It is estimated that a thousand persons in Salisbury and Spencer are idle on account of flood. Several cotton mills are closed down.

Tremendous property damage in Alexander and Ashe is reported but nothing definite can be learned from these sections.

Three children of Lonas Russell were killed in Alexander county Saturday by a landslide.

The whole face of the country in the Hickory Nut Gap section is said to be completely changed.

Ninety-six families are destitute in Wilcox county, Ala., as result of flood.

The steel highway bridge at Camden, S. C., was washed away.

A young woman and a 10 year old boy both unidentified were fished from the Yadkin above Wilkesboro Wednesday afternoon.

Devastation at Bridgewater.

Morganton News-Herald, 19th.

Several brought reports from Bridgewater yesterday and they are very gloomy. Gibbs' store was washed away. Two barns belonging to Mr. Walker Lyerly went down the river. The railroad for miles was completely destroyed and the land is washed clear of productive soil. Water was up to the second floor in the old Rutherford homeplace. It went to the porch of Mrs. J. R. Rust's home and as it seemed doomed to go Mrs. Rust and her husband sought a place of safety. A Ford automobile belonging to Mr. Gibbs was washed away with his store.

The house occupied by Frank Murphy at the pump house, was washed away.

Poole's mill is reported to have been very badly damaged. Mr. Britt, of the Southern Power Company's force, came to Morganton yesterday and stated that on Monday he visited the home of Mr. C. B. Kincaid, on Paddy's creek. The water reached over five feet in the lower story. Mrs. Kincaid had to be carried out of the house. Of course all the furniture on the lower floor was practically ruined.

Oh, Well!

"I see a man was arrested last night for taking notes at a lecture."

"You don't mean it!"

"Yes; they were banknotes, and he took them out of another man's pocket."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Should Sloan's Liniment Go Along?

Of course it should! For after a strenuous day when your muscles have been exercised to the limit an application of Sloan's Liniment will take the soreness and stiffness away and get you in fine shape for the morrow. You should also use it for a sudden attack of toothache, stiff neck, backache, stings, bites and the many accidents that are incidental to a vacation. "We would as soon leave our baggage as go on a vacation or camp out without Sloan's Liniment." Writes one vacationist: "We use it for everything from cramps to toothache." Put a bottle in your bag, be prepared and have no regrets.

The Twelve Jurymen.

A prisoner is tried by twelve of his fellow countrymen. This custom is a thousand years old, and we get it from the vikings. The vikings divided their country up into cantons, which were subdivided into twelve portions, each under a chieftain. When a malefactor was brought to justice it was usual for each chieftain to select a man from the district over which he ruled and compel him to try the prisoner. The verdict of these twelve men being declared by the judge to be final.

Why Endure Summer Colds?

It isn't necessary to have a stuffed head, running nose. To cough your head off as it were. All you need do is to use Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. The soothing and healing balsams open the clogged air passages and in a short time you get relief and start on the road to recovery. Your nose stops running, you cough less and you know you are getting better. Get a bottle, use as directed. Keep what is left as a cough and cold insurance.

Maybe.

"Montmorency, can your fiancée cook?"

"No, mother, but she can paint beautifully on china. She can paint the most natural grapes and peaches you ever saw."

"Well, maybe looking at them will appease hunger when there is no dinner ready."—Kansas City Journal.

Look Good—Feel Good.

No one can either feel good nor look good while suffering from constipation. Get rid of that tired, draggy, lifeless feeling by a treatment of Dr. King's New Life Pills. Buy a box to-day, take one or two pills to-night. In the morning that stuffed, dull feeling is gone and you feel better at once. 25c. at your druggist.

Doubled.

"I just got back from Bermuda. There wasn't a single passenger on the boat besides myself."

"That's strange."

"Not at all. They were all married."

—Exchange.

Taking Big Chances.

It is a great risk to travel without a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, as this preparation cannot be obtained on the trains or steamships. Attacks of bowel complaint are often sudden and very severe, and everyone should go prepared for them. Obtainable everywhere.
