On the reverse side of this tidy red tin you will read: "Process Patented July 30th, 1907," which has made three men smoke pipes where one smoked before!

PRINCE ALBERT

the national joy smoke

has a flavor as different as it is delightful. You never tasted the like of it! And that isn't strange, either.

Buy Prince Albert everywhere tobacco is sold in baggy red bags, 5c; tidy red tins, 30c; handsome pound and half-pound tin humidor—and that corking fine ground crystal-glass humidor with sponge-moistener cap that keeps the tobacco so such clever trim—always!

Men who think they can't smoke a pipe or roll a cigarette can smoke and will smoke if they use Prince Albert. And smokers who have not yet given P. A. a try-out certainly have a big surprise and a lot of enjoyment coming their way as soon as they invest in a supply. Prince Albert tobacco will tell its own story!

BAD WRECK AT ELMWOOD

Passenger Train No. 15 Crashes Into a Freight and Several Persons Are Injured.

Statesville, N. C., Nov. 30.—Three trainmen were injured, one of them seriously, and a number of passengers were bruised and otherwise slightly injured at Elmwood, eight miles east of Statesville, this morning, when passenger train No. 15 crashed into freight train No. 88, which was standing at the station.

The injured are:

Ernest Allison, Asheville, fireman on No. 15; both arms broken, hand mangled and face bruised.

John Cline, Asheville, engineer on No. 15; bruises and severe shock.

William B. Garrison, Glen Alpine, mail clerk on No. 15; leg pierced by huge splinter.

Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Abernathy and little son, of Spencer, were bruised, as was F. A. Oliver, of Georgetown, Mass.; F. E. Lewis and Captain Tom Murphy, conductor on No. 15. Several other passengers were slightly bruised.

Engineer C. A. Boone was in charge of the engine pulling No. 88, which was supposed to take a side track at Elmwood and wait for No. 15 to pass. According to reports of the accident, the dense fog prevented the engineer from seeing the switch, and the freight ran by the point where it should have taken the siding.

CRASHES INTO FREIGHT.

No. 15, with Engineer Cline in charge, crashed into the freight almost at the station. The cab of the freight engine was empty, it is stated, and it is presumed here that the engineer and fireman were investigating their position with reference to the switch when the crash came. Engineer Cline, it is declared, threw on the emergency brake and did all possible to stop the train before leaping from the cab with his fireman, Ernest Allison. Others on the train knew nothing of danger until the trains collided.

Both engines were badly damaged, the pilots being torn up and the cabs badly smashed. The mail car on the passenger, which was of steel, was little damaged, but the wooden passenger coaches were crushed in at each end. Although the train was carrying a large number of passengers there were few at the ends of the cars, by some strange freak of chance, and they were little injured.

Mr. and Mrs. Abernathy and child had an almost miraculous escape. They were seated at one end of a car when the smash occurred, and were picked out of a pile of debris after the wreck, none of them being more than slightly bruised. The track was soon cleared and service was resumed within three hours after the wreck occurred, a wrecking crew being called from Spencer to aid in clearing the tracks.

Stop That Cough

HONORABLE W. T. CLEMENT FEELS LIKE A NEW MAN

Former Legislator Tells Just What Tanlac Did For Him. E. H. Drum Talks.

When the Honorable W. T. Clement of Enfield says: "After using four bottles of Tanlac I feel like a new man," the people of Halifax County know that Tanlac is a great medicine and has done for him all that he claims. Nearly every man, woman and child in Halifax County knows and respects Mr. Clement for it was he who formerly represented their interests in the North Carolina Legislature.

"The Hon. Mr. Clement took Tanlac when he was suffering from loss of appetite, lack of energy and a run-down condition; for Tanlac helped some of his friends who had suffered similarly," commented E. H. Drum, State Distributor of Tanlac.

"At this particular time of the year when so many people are complaining of catarrhal affections of the head, nose and throat, faulty digestion and improper assimilation of the food, rheumatism and colds, I especially recommend the use of Tanlac for it strengthens the body and prepares it to offset all such attacks."

Tanlac is sold in Marion by J. W. Streetman.
