SELECT HEALTH WINNERS AT CLUB SHORT COURSE

Annie Ruth Raper, 17 year old brunette daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. M. Raper of Welsome, Davidson county, and George Howard Moose, Jr., 19 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Moose, of Newton, Catawba county, were crowned King and Queen of Health for the 26,000 club members of North Carolina at impressive exercises Thursday evening during the short course at State College last week. Dr. J. M. Parrott, Secretary of the State Board of Health, crowned the sovereigns.

About 700 young people from all parts of the State registered for the short course exercises. In addition to special class room work each morning, the young folks held two assemblies each day with a vesper service each evening on the college campus. In the afternoons, there were games, swimming parties, sight-seeing trips and other recreational events.

Miss Raper and George Moose, by winning the state health title, claimed the most sought-after honor of the entire short course. Miss Raper scored 96.5 percent and has been a club member for seven years specializing in clothing and food food work. Mr. Moose is a dairy club member and has been in the club work for six years. He scored 95.4 per cent.

Miss Lena Early of Iredell county was elected president of the honor society formed during the week. The meeting closed on Friday night following the camp fire exercises and the installation of new officers elected Friday afternoon.

IMPROVES HIS LAND BY LIME-LEGUMES

From yields of 6 to 15 bushels of wheat an acre, 10 to 15 bushels of corn and about one-half bale of cotton, to 30 and 40 bushels of wheat, 50 bushels of corn and 500 to 700 pounds of lint cotton, is the interesting record of M. L. Aderholdt of Route 4, Lexington, in Davidson county.

This steady climb in soil fertility and resulting acre yields has been made during the last 13 years by the intelligent use of soil building practices including the generous use of lime and legumes, say agricultural extension workers at State College. When Mr. Aderholdt bought his present farm 13 years ago, the neighbors, so they do everywhere, prophesied that he would starve on the poor, sandy soil. He did have low crop yields for the first three years, but he began the practice of using ground limestone and acid phosphate and turning under crops of red clover and vetch until he has one of the most fertile farms in Davidson county.

This past season, he averaged 30 bushels an acre on 16 acres, all of which was cotton or corn stalk land. On three acres, where a crop of corn was grown last summer, he averaged 40 bushels of wheat. This three acres was planted to sweet clover and turned under prior to the corn crop.

Mr. Aderholdt usually applies one ton of limestone an acre to begin, and then keeps up his lime requirements by adding a small amount in his fertilizer mix for a period of five years when he makes another application of one ton of the limestone an acre. In this way, he grows clover and other legumes in a successful way.

By turning under that part of the clover not needed for hay, he builds up the nitrogen and organic matter content of his soil. Then with a little judicious fertilizing to balance the plant food supply, he is able to make profitable crop yields.

"INSIDE" INFORMATION

To remove chewing gum from a washable dress, soften the stain with egg white and then wash.

Liver and cucumber salad is a good combination. Mix 2 cups of cold chopped cooked liver, 1-2 cup of diced cucumber, and 1-2 cup of diced celery with mayonnaise dressing and serve on lettuce leaves.

All preserves should be cooked rapidly until they are clear and tender, and the fruit should hold its original shape. The finished product should be bright, sparkling, and with the pump fruit easily distinguishable throughout. Slowly cooked preserves are dull, dark, and not nearly so attractive.

Pear salad is usually good. Either fresh or canned pears may be used. If using canned pears, drain the fruit, but save the pear juice for a fruit punch, with lemon or orange juice added. Wash and chill the lettuce so that it will be crisp. Arrange the pears on the lettuce, sprinkle with grated cheese and garnish with salad dressing. Pared fresh pears will discolor on standing. They should be pared and cored just before serving or must have lemon juice added.

BILIOUS

"I have used Black-Draught . . . and have not found anything that could take its place. I take Black-Draught for biliousness. When I get bilious, I have a nervous headache and a nervous, trembling feeling that unfits me for my work. After I take a few doses of Black-Draught, I get all right. When I begin to get bilious, I feel tired and run-down, and then the headache and trembling. But Black-Draught relieves all this."—H. O. Hendrix, Homerville, Ga.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

Step out of any other low-priced car into a Chevrolet, and learn the difference six cylinders make. "Idle" the engine—and the whole car remains steady. Open the throttle—the power flows evenly. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—and this smoothness stays with you whatever you do. It's actually built into the motor—and objectionable vibration never even starts! Yet smoothness is only one of many six-cylinder advantages. There's greater quietness, because noisy vibration is gone. There's greater comfort, because built-in smoothness doesn't tire you out. There's greater flexibility, because the power-impulses of a six overlap. And a six is much easier to handle! If you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine running so smoothly, you'll realize that six cylinders also mean greater dependability. And remember when you do—that no other car is so economical to operate as the Chevrolet Six.
