WARNINGS MAY COST LICENSES TO DRIVE

Raleigh, Sept. 18.—Three warnings from a state highway patrolman now will cost a driver his license, Major Arthur Fulk patrol director, said today in announcing a new development in North Carolina's efforts to make the roads safe.

Highway patrolmen have been equipped with printed slips carrying "warnings" to violators they do not arrest, Fulk said. Copies of the notices will be sent to patrol offices here, he explained, and when one driver has accumulated three black marks against his name, his license will be taken.

Heretofore many motorists have been warned for minor infractions and a number have had their licenses suspended but there has been no way of recording such "warnings," Fulk said.

However, the patrol will not be too hard on motorists who lose their licenses, through such "notices," Fulk said the drivers would be given instructions in highway safety and rules of the road and would have their permits returned if they passed an examination.

STATE FAIR WILL BE STAGED OCTOBER 12-16

Raleigh, Sept. 16.—Details of one of the most ambitious state fair programs ever attempted in North Carolina have been outlined by Dr. J. S. Dorton, manager of the exposition which will mirror Tar Heel progress October 12-16 with an outstanding array of educational and entertaining features.

With the fair back in the hands of the state, after several years of private management, Dr. Dorton stressed the emphasis to be placed on agricultural exhibits and announced that premium books now on the presses will be available soon. A sizeable increase in awards will be offered over last year's figure.

Numerous inquiries already indicate that the cream of North Carolina crops will be on display at the October exposition to augment the imposing lineup of fun features which the state fair will cover. In addition, numerous state, federal and industrial exhibits will enhance the educational value of the fair.

On the midway will be the World of Mirth, featuring 20 thrilling rides and novelty shows under the banner of Max Linderman, one of the nation's most prominent carnival men.

Thrilling hippodrome acts, presenting some of the world's finest talent, will be presented each afternoon and night at the grandstand. In addition, each evening's program will contain a colorful presentation of "The Revue of Tomorrow," a George Hamid production which is coming to the North Carolina fair for its premiere in the South.

65,000 MAY RE-ENROLL IN CCC CAMPS

Washington, Sept. 18.—A ruling by the comptroller general today authorized re-enrollment October 1 of nearly 65,000 Civilian Conservation Corps enrollees who previously were declared ineligible because of service limitations.

It was held that restrictions in the act extending the CCC for three years which prohibited re-enrollment of youths who had served more than 18 months were effective July 1.

Earlier, it was believed that the restrictions were retroactive and efforts had been made by CCC officials to obtain employment for the youths who would have been discharged on October 1.

Due to reported improved conditions in private industry, nearly half of the 65,000 enrollees are expected to seek employment, leaving the remainder to re-enroll in the corps.

The CCC will start an enrollment period October 1 in an effort to bring the corps strength to 300,000—the maximum provided by law. The number of camps will be reduced to 1,602 by October 15, it was said.

The extension law also prohibits re-enrollment of youths who have reached 24 years of age, and nearly 12,000 are expected to be affected by the limitation.

PRISONERS IN STATE PRODUCING OWN FOOD

Raleigh, Sept. 18.—North Carolina convicts are producing virtually all of their own food this year, Oscar Pitts, superintendent of prisons, said today. This summer, prisoners canned 130,000 gallons of vegetables, compared with 86,559 last year. In addition, fishing operations begun several months ago in Brunswick county netted 13,000 pounds of fish. The penal division has also made a profit on cattle. Pitts said that 622 head purchased last year for $39,000 had been sold for $61,000.

Old Fort News

BUY STORE BUILDING

Old Fort, Sept. 16.—In planning a program of expansion for their business, H. R. and R. C. Early have purchased one of the store buildings from the Bradley estate, which was formerly used as a barber shop and the Odd Fellows' hall. They are re-flooring and improving it in general preparatory to moving Early Brothers' Grocery store into it at an early date. The building is just two doors from the one now occupied by the firm.

NEW STORE OPENED

Harris Brothers' grocery is Old Fort's newest business establishment. The owners and managers are Austin Harris, who has had several years of experience in the mercantile establishment of J. R. Harris and son, and Woodrow Harris, who for the last three years was connected with the Marion Coffee shop and with Rabb's market at Marion. The new store is in the building formerly occupied by the Allison market.

TO ERECT HOUSE

S. L. Stone has purchased a building lot just outside the town limits of Old Fort and plans to begin the erection of a modern home very soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Morris Fleming have announced the arrival of a son, Charles Clarke, on August 3.

The Bible Study Class, recently organized with Miss Carrie Carter as teacher, will meet at the Methodist church Friday evening at 7 o'clock.

SUGAR HILL CLUB MEETS

The Sugar Hill Home Demonstration Club met Monday, September 13, at Mrs. W. M. Wilson's home. America was sung by the club and collect read, after which a poem, "Christlike," was read by one of the members. During the business session the club members voted, as their choice, to have "Home Management" as their major project for the coming year. The county fair was discussed also.

Each member seemed very much interested in the thorough demonstration Miss Tucker gave on refinishing furniture. Mrs. W. M. Wilson demonstrated fall and winter fashions.

Refreshments consisting of cake, ice cream, lemonade and iced tea, were served by the hostess.

The October meeting will be held with Mrs. G. B. Marlowe.

FOURTH WINTER

The WPA is preparing to face its fourth winter as the major relief agency of the nation but with the expectation of providing for not more than 1,500,000 persons at a cost of $1,500,000,000. This contrasts with the employment of 2,500,000 persons in the fiscal year of 1936-37 at a cost of approximately $2,500,000,000.

A small advertisement in our columns often returns large dividends.

Less Monthly Discomfort

Many women, who formerly suffered from a weak, run-down condition as a result of poor assimilation of food, say they benefited by taking CARDUL, a special medicine for women. They found it helped to increase the appetite and improve digestion, thereby bringing them more strength from their food.

Naturally there is less discomfort at monthly periods when the system has been strengthened and the various functions restored and regulated.

Cardul, praised by thousands of women, is well worth trying. Of course, if not benefited, consult a physician.

QUALITY and PRICE PROVE IT

QUESTION: CAN PEOPLE REALLY TELL THE DIFFERENCE IN CAMEL'S TOBACCOS?

ANSWER: CAMELS ARE THE LARGEST-SELLING CIGARETTE IN AMERICA!

THE pleasure you get out of a cigarette depends on the quality of the tobacco put in it. And in Camels that means FINER, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic. If you are not a Camel smoker, try them.
