A Successful Season.

Every season in the short history of Pinehurst has been a grand success and all indications point to the present winter as being even more prosperous, if possible, than those preceding it. Although the accommodations for our Northern visitors have been immensely increased since last year, the demand is likely to exceed the supply. The enlarged Holly Inn has nearly reached its full complement of guests, and the Casino restaurant is taxed to its fullest capacity to provide for the people constantly arriving. The cottages are all occupied and but a few suites and single rooms remain idle or unengaged, and the prospects are that before the season ends there will not be a vacant room in the village. Pinehurst is undoubtedly destined to continue to grow in size and popularity and hold its place in the front rank of the health and pleasure resorts of the South.

Approaching old age has many compensations for one who is able to forget himself, his reputation, and his position, and to work daily merely for the love of work and for the good it does. In no way has Dr. Hale shown his quality more conspicuously than in the example he has set to all men of absolute unselfishness and unstinted generosity in his expenditure of talent, time and money, not merely for the public good, but also for innumerable private individuals.—Christian Register.

Try THE OUTLOOK for three months.

LOCALS.

Rev. R. B. Tobey will preach in the Deep Creek church next Sabbath afternoon at 3 o'clock. This church is located three miles from town, and attendance at this service will be of interest to our villagers. All are cordially invited to be present.

Among the latest arrivals at the Holly Inn are: George A. Mosher of Troy, N. Y., Henry and Miss Wheeler of Philadelphia, Pa., Edwin W. Sanborn of New York City, Miss Kate Sanborn of Medford, Mass., and Frank Hervey of Medford, Mass.

Cornelius Ray who lives about three miles from the village has sold to Mr. Tufts a weaving loom which will be placed in the museum and free exhibitions of weaving cloth will be given several days in the week for the gratification of our northern visitors.

Rev. J. V. Clancy of Medford, Mass., who is making his winter home in the village, will preach in the Culdee church on Sunday, March 20th, at 3 o'clock p. m. This church is located about three miles from town on the Carthage road, and is attended and supported by the people in the farming district in that vicinity. Our villagers are cordially invited to be present on the 20th inst.

The Pinehurst Nurseries have been subjected again to the half-yearly examination for San Jose and other scales by the acting state entomologist, D. W. E. Wieke of Raleigh, who found the stock clean and healthy in every respect. Mr. Katzenstein is kept quite busy now with packing and shipping shrubbery to all parts of America, from New England to California and Oregon. Most of the plants grown in the nursery have proved a success in New England.

The effect of the new dining hall at the Holly Inn is elegance itself. The large windows on two sides provide an abundance of sunshine during the day, and after night has fallen myriads of concealed electric lamps on the ceiling and walls diffuse a wealth of light that is reflected back from the beautifully tinted walls and well-laden tables, giving a bright and cheerful air to the room. Although the hall is a large one, but few empty chairs are to be seen at meal time and the tempting menu provided by the popular hosts is appreciated by a constantly increasing number of guests.

Emmanuel Church, Southern Pines.

Services every Sunday 10.30 a. m.; Holy Communion on first Sunday; during Lent every week day, except Wednesday and Saturday, at 4.30 p. m.; on Wednesday at 10.30 a. m. Henry T. Gregory, minister in charge.

An Evening With Longfellow.

A novel and pleasing entertainment is promised by the ladies who have in charge the Pinehurst recreation of Thursday evening, March 17th. "The Courtship of Myles Standish," "Hiawatha," "Evangeline," and "The Children's Hour" will be illustrated with songs, readings and tableaux vivants. Special scenery has been painted for the occasion by Mr. Walter E. Chivers.

THE OUTLOOK is for sale at this office at three cents per copy.
