

Pinehurst nursery into great demand.

Mr. Katzenstein, while a resident of this State but a few years, by straightforward business methods, transacting business upon the most liberal plans, has won the confidence and esteem of all who know him in both social and business circles, and he is recognized as one of our most capable nurserymen.—The Fruit Grower's Review.

An Afternoon with Rogers.

Mr. Edwin Rogers of North Adams, Mass., who makes his winter home in Pinehurst, gave his lecture on the "Pilgrims, Puritans, and Quakers of New England" in the Village Hall last Tuesday afternoon, and delighted a large audience. The address was full of interesting and humorous anecdotes of yesteryear and the speaker held the close attention of his hearers throughout its delivery.

Miss Eugenie D. Upham favored the company with a solo, which was received with the applause which always greets her appearance in public.

Both Miss Upham and Mr. Rogers gave their talents for the benefit of the colored people in this neighborhood who are working hard to erect a church in place of the one recently burned in the forest fire. Admission to the hall was free but a voluntary collection amounted to $32. This added to the contributions privately made will enable the officers of the church to immediately commence the new building.

ABERDEEN.

Postmaster Powell has strawberries in bloom in his garden.

Mr. E. L. Johnston of New York City is visiting his brother, Rev. J. W. Johnston of this village.

We are pleased to learn that a pottery will soon be established on land owned by Louis Letien. We cordially welcome any industry which may be located among us.

A party of twelve ladies and gentlemen from Pinehurst visited this town last Wednesday and took dinner at the Powell House, after which they drove about town, returning home much pleased with their visit.

In visiting the Bethesda church and churchyard recently the following inscriptions were observed on headstones:

In Memory of
COLIN BETHUNE,
(An Honest Man)

A native of Scotland by accident,
But a citizen of the United States from choice.
Died May 29, 1820,
Aged 64 years.

His dust must mingle with the ground
Till the last trump's awakening sound,
It will then arise in sweet surprise,
To meet its Savior in the skies.

In Memory of
M. P. CLARK,
Consort of J. R. Clark,
Died Nov. 10, 1736.

1798
Here Lieth the Corpse
of ISBEL BUCHAN.
Memo—Mento.

We shall tell the whole story next week, lack of space preventing its publication in this issue.

SOUTHERN PINES.

Rev. Albert Greene and wife made a trip to Pinehurst last Wednesday.

Our people are patronizing the electric road since the new car was put on.

O. J. Carroll representing the Raleigh Post registered at the Ozone Wednesday.

The Baptist society has received a donation of a costly pulpit set from a church in New York.

Real estate transactions are numerous, and indications for extensive improvements next year are evident.

Delays in receiving some memorial windows, and the seats for the new Congregational church, will prevent some from attending the opening service before their return North.

Uncle Gowins, aged 94, born near Carthage court-house, was on our streets Thursday. He lost his house and fences by the late fires. He has seven children scattered up and down in the Southland, and keeps bachelor's hall in his old age.

Emmanuel Church, Southern Pines.

Services every Sunday 10.30 a. m.; Holy Communion on first Sunday; during Lent every week day, except Wednesday and Saturday, at 4.30 p. m.; on Wednesday at 10.30 a. m. Henry T. Gregory, minister in charge.

Mean Insinuation.

"When we reached the station," said the young bride recently returned from the wedding tour, "the men picked my husband up and carried him to the house on their shoulders."

"Yes," said a neighbor, "but it wasn't the first time they'd carried him home."—Yonkers Statesman.

A Reverie.

The hazy days of autumn
Come apace.
There's a lazy sort of feeling
Round the place,
And o'ef me comes a-stealing
A sort of savage longing
To get out and after something
On the run
With a gun.
—Cleveland Leader.

Testing Him.

Mamma—I wonder why it is that George plays and sings so much for Albert since they've become engaged? She never seems to cease from the time he comes into the house until he departs.

Papa—I guess she wants to make sure that he really loves her.—Chicago News.
