

FURNISHED HOUSES.

A few cottages in Pinehurst remain unrented. They are comfortably furnished throughout with everything necessary for housekeeping, except bed and table linen, which may also be obtained at a small extra charge. Desirable parties, giving satisfactory references, can secure these attractive winter homes at reasonable rental.

There are also SUITES FOR LIGHT HOUSEKEEPING and SINGLE ROOMS for those who obtain table board at the Pinehurst Casino.

For the security of both invalids and pleasure seekers, cases of pronounced consumption will under no circumstances be allowed admission.

PINEHURST is a unique town in the Southland—apparently a Yankee village dropped down in the woods. It is located in highest and driest part of Moore County, North Carolina, in the well-known sand belt, and among the health-giving long-leaf pines. It is 70 miles southwest of Raleigh and 125 miles from the sea coast, at an altitude of 650 feet, and noted for its healthfulness. The village was founded by Mr. James W. Tufts, of Boston, in 1895, and consists of fifty cozy cottages, elegantly furnished, with apartments, village hall, museum and other Carolina, the largest a magnificent four-story building, with apartments to gratify the most exacting tastes. The Holly Inn is quiet and comfortable, with all modern comforts. The Berkshire has more than double its former size, and is now a first-class hotel. The Casino is a first-class table board establishment, with a ladies' parlor, reading room, and billiard room. The village is a beautiful and healthful place, with a climate that is ideal for winter resort.

Bath rooms are also to be found here. The houses are all substantially built, painted and plastered, well furnished, and supplied with all modern comforts and conveniences, including electric lights, water, and perfect sanitation. There are also croquet grounds, tennis courts, bowling alleys, trap shooting, billiards, quoits and shuffleboard. The village offers unequalled attractions for refined people, at very moderate cost. Trolley cars connect with Southern Pines, a station on the Seaboard Air Line, eighteen hours from New York City.

furnished hotels, restaurants, public schoolhouse, store, public buildings. The hotel in the state, is a story hostelry erected to gratify the most exacting tastes. The and home-like, with all conveniences. It has been enlarged to its former size, and is now a first-class hotel. The Casino is a first-class table board establishment, with a ladies' parlor, reading room, and billiard room. The village is a beautiful and healthful place, with a climate that is ideal for winter resort.
