PUNGENCIES.

"Goodness, John! How queer the baby looks. I believe he is going to have a fit! "By George! I believe you are right. Where's my camera?"—Tit-Bits.

"Is Orlando Skaggs a companionable man?" "Yes, indeed; if you don't let him get started on pronunciations, or golf, or germs, or Wagner, or religion, or politics."—Indianapolis Journal.

Col. Baden-Powell, when in West Africa, fell in love with a native saying, "Softly, softly: catchee monkey!" which, when Anglicised, is, "Don't flurry: patience gains the day!"—Exchange.

They tell of a Chicago physician, who, opening the door of his consultation-room, asked, "Who has been waiting the longest?" A tailor, who had called to present his bill, rose and said, "I have, doctor: I delivered your clothes to you three years ago."—Chicago Clinic.

The latest anecdote about Dr. Randall Davidson, Bishop of Winchester, is that, after a recent ecclesiastical function, as the clergy was trooping into luncheon, an unctuous archdeacon observed, "This is the time to put a bridle on our appetites!" "Yes," replied the bishop: "this is the time to put a bit in our mouths!"—Christian Life.

The descendant of a New England Puritan divine has in his possession an old sermon written by his ancestor. It is written in a strange, crabbed hand, and plentifully be-sprinkled with marginal references. "Read slowly here," the minister admonishes himself in one spot, and "To be given out very loud and clear" is the suggestion for another passage. "Hurry a little, with fire," he wrote in several places. The most emphatic and important part of the whole sermon is indicated by a much-underlined marginal note. It is amusing to know that he deemed it necessary at the climax of his eloquence to "Yell like one possessed."—Exchange.

Play Golf.

Real Estate Agent—A fine place, and a splendid one for a golf course, sir. Does your family play golf?

Prospective Buyer—Does my family play golf! My two sons at school have won all the intercollegiate championships, my daughter wins all the women's handicaps, my wife is out on the links every morning before breakfast, my wife's mother has broken all the club's records, and the very first word word my baby learned to say was "fore." Does my family play golf! If you can show me a piece of property with no possible hazards, no bunkers, nothing but rocks, woods and water, I'm your man!—Life.

Apportioning the Risk.

"This pane of glass," said the dealer, "will have to be cut at one end and on one side. One cut is at your risk, and one at mine."

"All right," replied the customer. "Which cut is at my risk?"

The dealer did not reply till after he had drawn his diamond across one end of the pane and made the short cut safely.

"The next one," he said, preparing to make the long cut, "is your risk."—Exchange.
