ABOUT PINEHURST!

the "Village Green." It is this year being carefully looked after by Manager A. I. Creamer, a young hotel man from New England, of much experience, who thoroughly understands his very exacting art.

The demand still increasing it became necessary three years ago to erect The Carolina, the largest hotel in North Carolina—a more pretentious but not more complete than the Holly Inn.

All the Pinehurst hotels are under the general management of Mr. H. W. Priest of Hotel Preston, Beach Bluff, Mass. No better guarantee of good management than the above statement is necessary, as the many guests who have "stopped with" Mr. Priest will testify.

For amusement there is golf; golf morning and afternoon. The links are the finest in the South, the 18-hole course 5,277 yards in length and a shorter course of 9 holes, entirely separate, for beginners—ladies and children. They are kept in superb condition. Messrs. Ross Bros., Scotch professionals, are in charge and to give instruction.

IN JEALOUS MOOD!

birds will lay, I will hold a covey while Doc makes hot coffee and you eat lunch. And if perchance, the birds run in the meantime, and I get lost in the black-jacks, just look for white Boy. He will be backing at a respectable distance, indicating my position with nose and eye, and attracting your attention with his tail. If you should occupy a long time consuming your lunch, leave Rock behind and bring on Rye, for Boy may be exhausted or even dead—may the Gods forbid! Should this unfortunate calamity happen, please give him a decent burial making his resting place with something better than a "Rock."

"PINEHURST DICK."

Daylight Developer Outdone.

The need of a dark-room in photography is obviated by Dr. Hezekiel of Berlin by the use of a reddish colored solution. Immersion of the plates in this for two minutes renders the film impervious to light, after which the developing can be done in broad daylight.

"As Immovable as the Rock of Gibraltar."

Pen Drawing for The Pinehurst Outlook by James Hall.

Quail are very abundant here this year and can be shot within a mile of the town. Pinehurst Kennels contain twenty-two finely broken bird dogs in charge of a professional handler and may be hired at a nominal cost per day. Good driving and saddle horses are to be had at the livery, and there is much riding.

Since the whole section is owned by Mr. Leonard Tufts no objectionable residents or enterprises are permitted, and no consumptives are received.

Holly Inn opened for business Dec. 15, and the bookings indicate a full house soon after Jan. 1. The Carolina opened Jan. 10 and an exceptionally busy season is anticipated. Many people now here have formerly spent their winters in Florida, and I predict an increasing proportion of business of this kind.

At first glimpse one gets an idea of a certain barrenness or desolation in the landscape, but within a very few days the bright sunshine, the bracing air and a growing familiarity with the not unhandsome pines, brings a feeling of rest and contentment difficult to account for. It grows on one and is nothing, after all, but the effects of the exhilarating climate. This is the secret of the success of this resort and is amply sufficient to continue its prosperity. F. J. B.

When The Next Coal Famine Comes.

Deep coal-mining will be a problem for British engineers to solve within the present century. At present the noxious gases and the heat of 60 to 80 degrees above that at the surface make mining impossible at depths of 5000 feet or more, but Mr. T. J. Davies predicts that the future mine will be 5000 to 10,000 feet below the surface, and will be reached by electric locomotives running in inclined tunnels 7, 8 or 10 miles long. In such a mine, he foresees, 5000 to 10,000 workers will live for several days at a time.
