

The Pinehurst Outlook

VOL. VI., NO. 13.

PINEHURST, MOORE COUNTY, NORTH CAROLINA, FEB. 20, 1903.

PRICE THREE CENTS

THE VALENTINE GERMAN !

One of the Most Charming Affairs of its Kind Ever Held Here.

Event Attracts a Great Company which Taxes the Capacity of The Carolina's Music Hall.

The progressive Valentine German at The Carolina Saturday evening, was one of the most charming affairs of its kind ever held here; a brilliant event and a pleasant prophesy for the future.

In the great company which gathered to witness and take part were a large proportion of Pinehurst's guests. The details were arranged with elaborate care and absolute thoroughness, and many were expected and provided for, but little did the managers realize that long before the hour set for opening every seat in the music hall would be taken. To meet the unexpected demand chairs were hurried into the hall by the score until they began to crowd the floor space and delay the opening.

Dancing began shortly after nine o'clock, Mr. Burrows McNeir of New York City, and Miss Helen T. Campbell of Newark, N. J., leading off and ending with a clever maze. A series of unique, amusing and beautiful figures followed, which were effectively carried out under Mr. McNeir's experienced leadership.

Vari-colored scarfs were distributed and couples danced with them gaily flaunting and in closing formed an arch under which all passed.

Then the ends of a tangle of bright ribbons were unravelled by the men and the prize was the young woman at the other end.

One of the amusing features was the apron figure. Two gentlemen were each given an apron and pins and at a signal, came a contest to see who could pin on the apron first. The reward was a dance.

A pretty figure was the archery. Half a dozen gentlemen were given a bow and arrow with which to shoot at colored hearts fastened to a monster heart, placed at the head of the hall. Those failing to score were forced to return to their seats empty-handed, but the skillful won both a dance and a souvenir heart favor.

In closing dancing was general and tiny bouquets of violets and clever devices were used as favors. These favors were prepared mostly by the participants; clever conceptions of many sorts, done on pale green cardboard hearts; verse, water color sketches, and the like.

The dancing closed at eleven and was followed by a dainty spread served through Mrs. Priest's thoughtfulness.

Not the least of the pleasing features of the evening were the many exquisite gowns worn by the women participating. Among the most effective were the toilettes of Miss Campbell, Mrs. Walker, Miss Stackpole, Miss Smith, the Misses Barnett, Miss Tewksbury, Miss Priest, Miss Denton, Miss Crary, Mrs. W. H. Horton and Mrs. Gildersleeve.

Mrs. C. S. Horton of Williamsport, of Williamsport, Pa., from The Carolina; Mrs. S. Tribou, of Baltimore, Md., and Mrs. Wm. E. Barnett of New Haven, Ct., from The Holly Inn; Mrs. A. T. Leavitt of Wollaston, Mass., Mrs. J. M. Merrill of New York City, from The Berkshire; Mrs. W. W. Trickey, of Jackson Falls, N. H., and Miss Hipple of Union City, Pa., from The Harvard; PROMINENT GOLFERS AT PINEHURST, No. 2.

John M. Ward, Fox Hills and Montclair Golf Clubs Champion.

Pa., and Mrs. Arthur C. Ketcham of New York City, presided at the favorable very graciously. Mrs. Ketcham wore a striking gown of black with diamond ornaments, and Mrs. Horton, white, with trimmings of black.

Nearly all of the matrons of the week were present: Mrs. A. E. Lard, of St. Joseph, Mo., and Mrs. C. S. Horton, Mrs. E. G. Hayes, of Canandaigua, N. Y., and Mrs. A. M. Kimber, of Philadelphia, from the cottages. The gowns of Mrs. Lard and Mrs. Hayes were especially noticeable.

The hall was effectively decorated with palms and potted plants from The Pinehurst Nurseries, and the alcove transformed into a reception room.

CATBOAT WAS A CRUISER !

Insignificant on the Horizon, but Very Dangerous Alongside.

Great Rejoicing Among Golfers at The Holly Inn—Sadness and Post-Mortems at The Carolina.

There is great rejoicing among golfers at The Holly Inn, and the familiar ditty, "We Have Met the Enemy and They are Ours" is ringing through the corridors, but sadness reigns at The Carolina, where golf enthusiasts are holding post mortems and figuring out how things might have been "if" this had been done and that had not been done.

And all this is because mixed foursome teams from The Inn have met and defeated similar teams from The Carolina, by a total score of twelve to eight, match play.

This momentous affair first appeared on The Carolina's horizon in the shape of a challenge from Walter A. Berg, Secretary of The Holly Inn Golf Club, but it was regarded as a mere speck, a passing sail, hardly worthy of notice and certainly not of sufficient importance for the lookout (not The Outlook) to report to the crew. But when the stranger got alongside it was discovered that she was a cruiser, bristling with armament from stem to stern; not the least like a catboat! Then the guns boomed a broadside and when the smoke cleared the decks of The Carolina were strewn with the wounded. The flag was down!

And the moral of all this is: "Go shy in the game when it is arranged by a sober-faced youth who has never played, but would rather like to learn."

The Details of the Fight.

The story of the battle is fully told in the following summary of matches:

Mr. E. A. Freeman, Montclair, N. J., and Miss Curtis, Summit, N. J., beat Mr. W. J. Fleming, Cleveland, Ohio, and Mrs. Arthur C. Ketcham, New York City, 2 up.

Mr. M. C. Parshall, of Warren, Penn., and Miss Helen Barnett, of New Haven, Ct., beat Mr. H. O. Curtis Davis, of New York City, and Mrs. St. John Smith, of Portland, Me., 3 up.

Mr. E. B. Alvord, of New York City, and Miss Smith, of Portland, Me., beat Mr. Arthur C. Ketcham, New York City, and Miss Davis, of Tenafly, N. J., 3 up.

Mr. H. Nelson Burroughs, Philadelphia, and Miss E. B. Post, New York City, beat Mr. G. F. Parrish, of Wilkesbarre, Pa., and Miss Campbell, Newark, N. J., 4 up.

Mr. Carl Gildersleeve, Warren, Pa.,

(Continued to second page)