IN A REPUBLIC, deriving its powers from the consent of the people, an intelligent electorate is not only the sole guaranty of the just preservation of the of the rights of men, and the safety and perpetuity of free institutions, but it is now recognized by every state of this union and by every civilized nation upon the earth, that the free education of the people is industrially profitable to the commonwealth. The universal verdict of all history is, that man's power and capacity as a wealth producer is multiplied in direct proportion to his education and training.

The material wealth and progress of a state can be measured by the school advantages of its people—Gov. J. B. Frazier.

MIXED DOUBLES TENNIS.

J. M. Merrill and R. D. Reynolds are Invincibles.

A mens double tennis tournament on The Holly Inn court, last week, provided a series of close and interesting matches, and awakened an interest which bids fair to bear fruit along the line of future tournaments. J. M. Merrill and R. D.
Reynolds, both of Orange, N. J., won the pair of sterling cups offered.

The participants were: R. D. Reynolds, Orange, N. J., and J. M. Merrill, Orange, N. J.; M. D. Crary of Warren,

Nelson Burroughs of Philadelphia, and M. C. Parshall of Warren, Pa., F. C.
Reynolds, Orange, N. J., and A. T.
Leavitt of Wollaston, Mass.

A summary of the matches is as follows: Ketcham and Crary beat Leavitt and Reynolds, 4-6, 6-4, 6-5; Steele and Fleming beat Parshall and Burroughs, 6-1, 6-5; Reynolds and Merrill beat

Teams from The Carolina and The Holly Inn will Compete for Pine- hurst Outlook Cups.

The Holly Inn Gun Club, following in the footsteps of the Golf Club from the same hotel, is looking for honors in team trap shooting, and through challenge has been issued to A. E. Lard of St. Joseph, Mo., secretary of The Carolina Gun Club.

The challenge has been accepted and the shoot is booked for Friday morning.
Five men will shoot on each team at 25 single birds each from scratch, and something that bids fair to be "warm" is promised.

The make up of the team is as follows:
Carolina, Lard, Presbrey, Wilson, Dana, Jillson; Holly Inn, Ketcham, Gildersleeve, Burroughs, Parshall, Cady.

tributed five neat pewter steins as trophies for the winning team, and the members of each team already have visions of these same steins as decorations in their apartments.

MRS. BANISTER READS.

An Evening of Plantation Stories Much Enjoyed.

Mrs. Correllia Banister entertained the guests of The Carolina Tuesday evening, and The Holly Inn Wednesday evening, with a series of plantation stories. Mrs.
Banister possesses a pleasing manner and a musical voice which is enchanced by a slight Southern accent. Her stories were quaint, humorous and sad, and in them negro dialect was delicately interwoven.

Mrs. Banister is the author of a book,
"I'm a Brick," which sets forth the arguments used by various disputants at a Congress of religions, supposed to have been held at Onset Bay, and states some very plain truths in regard to their utterances. Sham and pretense, assumption and credulity, mediocrity and ignorance, are all vigorously handled. Its object is to evolve a higher degree of spirituality by giving better understanding.
