AT THE CEDARS.

A candy pull arranged in honor of the birthday anniversaries of Mrs. S. V. Hayden of Washington, D. C., and Miss Mary S. Hershey of Landisville, Pa., was a social feature of the week, which was much enjoyed by guests at The Cedars.

While the candy was cooling an impromptu bowling match was arranged in the hall in which Mr. Blackman, Mr. Tomkins and Mr. Pearsall participated. A stick of wood, cake of soap and mucilage bottle were used for pins at which an antiquated croquet ball was hurled. Mr. Blackman won with the remarkable score of 4-11-44.

Miss Mary S. Hershey of Landisville, Pa., is here for an indefinite stay.

Mr. Hayden spent Thanksgiving with Mrs. Hayden.

Mrs. C. Frank, child and nurse of Brooklyn, N. Y., were recent visitors.

Cause for Congratulation.

Southern Pines is to be congratulated on its new newspaper, the Southern Pines Tourist, which made its first appearance on Thanksgiving Day. It is a newsy, interesting sheet which should have the hearty support of residents of the Village.

FIFTY-TWO PER CENT.

Village House Count Shows Remarkable Gain Over Previous Years.

Most Gratifying Indication that Early Season is Growing on Compound Interest Plan.

A most gratifying indication that the popularity of the early season is growing on the compound interest plan, is found in the fact that on December first the "house count" of the Village showed an increase of fifty-two per cent over any previous year in the history of Pinehurst.

HEARTS AT THE HOLLY.

Large Company Assembles for First of Winters' Card Parties.

The winters' series of card parties at The Holly Inn were begun Wednesday evening, with a hearts party in the Dutch room. A company of thirty-six assembled, including not only guests from the hotel, but many of the cottagers. Mrs. A. I. Creamer presided graciously and the occasion was most pleasant. The prizes were in excellent taste.

Mrs. J. Henry Hentz, Jr., of Philadelphia, Mrs. F. H. Abbott of The Harvard, Miss A. M. Blackman of New York, and Mrs. George L. Sanderson of Williamsport, Pa., tied for the first prize with eleven points each, Mrs. Hentz, Mrs. Abbott and Mrs. Sanderson winning first, second and third prizes in the cut.

J. Henry Hentz, Jr., of Philadelphia, won the men's prize with thirteen and O. H. Blackman, of New York, Herbert L. Jillson, of Worcester, Mass., tied for second, Mr. Blackman winning the cut.

Among the participants were the following: Mr. and Mrs. J. Henry Hentz, Jr., Mr. J. Henry Hentz, 3rd., Mr. F. Walter Hentz, Mr. and Mrs. Menno M. Fry, Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Albree, Mr. and Mrs. B. S. Ashby, Dr. and Mrs. Emery Marvel, Mr. and Mrs. Calvert Townley, Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Bradbury, Miss Bradbury, Mrs. George L. Sanderson, Miss Sanderson, Mrs. Aldridge, Mrs. Holliston Wilson, Mr. O. H. ### Director Ryan a Visitor.

Thomas F. Ryan of the Morton Trust Company, New York, one of the newly elected directors of the Seaboard Air Line, made a short visit to Pinehurst Thursday on his way from Jacksonville to Atlanta. He came to Pinehurst in a private car, accompanied by Mrs. Ryan and his physician, and spent several hours here very pleasantly, leaving yesterday morning.
